DEPARTMENT OF LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT AND PANCHAYATS

Local Self-Government

NOTIFICATION

Darjeeling.—No. 5473/M.3R-9/55.—12th August 1957.—Whereas the Commissioners of the Siliguri Municipality in the district of Darjeeling have made the following rules under sub-section (1) of section 69 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932) and have applied to the State Government for approval thereof under the said section and for confirmation of the said rules under section 506 of the said Act—

And whereas—

(a) notice of the intention to apply for such confirmation of the said rules has been duly given one month before the making of the application for confirmation as required under clause (i) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act, and

(b) for one month before the making of the application a copy of the said rules has been kept at the office of the Commissioners of the said municipality and has been open during office hours thereat to the inspection of the inhabitans of the said municipality, without fee, as required by clause (ii) of sub-section (2) of section 506 of the said Act;

Now, therefore, the Governor is pleased, in exercise of the power conferred by section 69(1) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932 (Bengal Act XV of 1932), to approve and, in exercise of the power conferred by section 506 of the said Act, to confirm, the following rules, namely:—

RULES FOR THE MANAGEMENT OF PROVIDENT FUNDS

1. In the following rules—

(a) "Salary" shall comprise monthly substantive salary or any allowance drawn during leave of any kind, and includes acting, charge, personal or deputation allowance, if any, but shall not include local or travelling allowance.

(b) "Servant" includes every non-pensionable employee holding a substantive appointment under the municipality but excludes those who are or may in future be treated by Government as non-pensionable if in Government service:

Provided that the persons to whom the existing pension and gratuity rules issued under Government Circular No. 16 L.S.-G., dated the 19th March 1903, are applicable, may in lieu of enjoying the benefits of these rules elect to come under the Provident Fund rules at their option. The option once exercised shall be final:

Provided further that all officers in temporary service are, with the consent of the municipality embodied in a formal resolution at a meeting, eligible to subscribe to the fund, if they have been employed or, in the opinion of the municipality, are likely to be employed for at least three years:

Provided also that persons appointed on probation to substantive appointments or appointed to officiate in an office which is vacant, or the permanent incumbent of which does not draw any part of the pay or emolument service may, if they are confirmed without interruption, be allowed to join the Provident Fund with retrospective effect from the date of their joining the service. The monthly subscriptions to the fund shall not, in such a case be less than 10 per cent. on the salary of the officer till all arrear subscriptions are paid up:

Provided further that a servant, while on temporary transfer to service under some other local fund or Government may also subscribe to the Provident Fund.

(c) "Depositor" means a servant on whose behalf a deposit is made under these rules.

(d) "Interest" means the interest which is paid, on a deposit at a Government Savings Bank under the rules in force for such institution, and includes that allowed on Government and other securities.

(e) "Due notice of resignation of appointment" means—

(i) in the case of servants drawing Rs. 200 a month and over, three months; and

(ii) in the case of all other servants, one month.

2. Rate and realization of subscriptions.—Every servant shall be required to subscribe at the rate of 6¼ per cent. or 1 anna in the rupee on his salary to a Provident Fund, of which an account will be opened at the Post Office Savings Bank. This deduction shall be made by the municipality upon every salary bill presented, and the net salary only shall be paid to the servant. In making this deduction fractions of a rupee of salary should be omitted. The subscription of a servant, while on temporary transfer to service under some other Local Fund or Government, shall be calculated on his assumed pay [Articles 767 and 768, Civil Service Regulations, Fifth Edition (Reprint)], and it will be the duty of the servant on transfer to remit the subscription to his original employer for credit to the Provident Fund.

A servant who desires to subscribe during leave must notify his intention beforehand, in order to allow of the deductions from his leave allowances being noted in his leave and pay certificate. He will not be permitted to discontinue subscribing during leave.

A servant who fails to notify his intention to continue to subscribe, when proceeding on leave, can subsequently pay his subscription in cash.

3. Prohibition of voluntary deposits.—No voluntary deposits from servants will be credited to the Provident Fund.

4. Subscription during leave and suspension.—Subscriptions on leave of any kind will be optional. They will be calculated on the allowances admissible during leave.

A servant on reinstatement, after a period passed under suspension, may be allowed the option of subscribing for that period. In the case of a servant who exercises the option of subscribing to the fund during leave without allowances, or on reinstatement after a period passed under suspension without allowances, it is left to the discretion of the Chairman to determine in each case the amount on which subscription should be paid, the general principle to be observed being that the subscription should be calculated on half the salary last drawn by the servant before he proceeded on leave without allowances, or was placed under suspension without allowances.

5. Contribution by the municipality to deposit account of each servant.—It shall be competent to the municipality to make contribution to the deposit account of each servant equal to, but not exceeding, the deduction/one-half on the deduction made from his salary under rule 2: Provided that, if the total of the contributions shown in the bill on which a remittance is made to the Savings Bank contains a fraction of a rupee, it shall be increased to the next highest rupee by an addition to the bill of the difference between this fraction and unity. These provisional increases in the contribution will be shown in the abstract of balance until adjusted at the close of the year (see rules 18 and 19 below), but they will not appear in the depositor's ledger accounts.

No contribution shall be made by the municipality on the subscription paid by the depositor for any period during which he had been on suspension as a penalty for misconduct or other offences.

It will be optional with the municipality to contribute for an employee while on temporary transfer to service under some other Local Fund or Government.

5A. Additional contribution.—(1) When any servant retires or dies who has subscribed to the Provident Fund and has, for not less than 15 years, rendered continuous good service, the commissioners may grant to him or to his estate from the Municipal fund an additional contribution which should, if the finances of the Commissioners permit, be calculated at the rate of half a month's pay for each complete year of service rendered by him, subject to a maximum of 15 months' pay:

Provided that the Commissioners at a meeting shall be competent to pay the additional contribution with the sanction of Government if the period of service of an employee falls short of 15 years by not more than one year.

(2) If such servant has died before retirement or after retirement but before receiving the contribution, the contribution shall be paid in the manner laid down in rule 14.

(3) For the purpose of this rule—

(a) "Retirement" means retirement—

(i) on attaining the age of 55,

(ii) at a later age, if an extension of service has been duly sanctioned, and

(iii) at an earlier age, on account of physical unfitness, illness, abolition of an appointment or any other reason considered adequate by the Commissioners, provided that, if the retirement be voluntary retirement or resignation, it must be with the consent and approval of the authority empowered to appoint the servant.

(b) "Continuous service" includes any authorised leave of absence whether with or without allowances and any overstayal of leave that was condoned at the time by the Commisisoners.

(c) "Pay" means substantive pay (i.e., the pay other than special pay, personal pay or other emoluments classed as pay), to which an employee is entitled on account of a post to which he has been appointed substantively, or by reason of his substantive position in a cadre.

(d) When the complete years of service rendered are being calculated, periods spent on leave other than privilege leave or leave on full average pay shall be excluded.

(4) An additional contribution cannot be claimed by any subscriber to the Provident Fund as a matter of right. It should be granted at the discretion of the Commissioners only to those subscribers whom they consider deserving.

6. Investment.—The deductions under rule 2 and the contributions under rule 5 shall be paid to the Post Master for credit to the account of the Provident Fund in the Savings Bank. The payment of the deduction shall be debited in the accounts to the same head as the salary, and the contributions shall be charged to the service head "Miscellaneous", sub-head "Provident Fund Contributions". The remittances to the Savings Bank should, whenever possible, be made between the 1st and 4th of each month in order that interest may accrue for the month of deposit.

7. (1) Deposits on account of the Provident Fund of the Local Fund employees may be made under rule 44(c) of the Savings Bank Rules (see Indian Postal Guide, April, 1917); the usual limitations of the total amount at credit of each account do not apply to such deposits [rule 44(g)]. When the investment of any portion of the amount of the balance at credit of the account is found desirable, the amount shall, on application by the Chairman, be withdrawn, and the investment shall be made, either through the Postal authorities or through other agencies, as may be deemed convenient by the Chairman, in Government loans, Municipal Debentures or Port Trust Bonds of Calcutta, Bombay, Madras or in fixed deposit in the State Bank of India or in a Co-operative Bank specially approved for the purpose of the Registrar of Co-operative Societies, provided that in case of investment in a Co-operative Bank at least three-fourths of the subscribers are in favour of such investment.

(2) The interest will be drawn by the Post Office in the case of investment through postal authorities, or by the Chairman in case of investment through other agencies, and credited in the Savings Bank account.

(3) The actual cost of purchase of such securities or the amount of such fixed deposits shall be added to the balance in the Savings Bank to obtain the total balance of the Provident Fund ledger. When any such securities are sold or any loss of such fixed deposits is caused by the failure of the Bank in which such deposits are made, the net gain or loss shall be added to or deducted from the net excess interest calculated for that year [see rule 19(1)] before apportioning such interest among the depositors as set forth in that rule.

8. Advances for special purposes.—(1) No final withdrawal will be allowed until the depositor quits the service or dies; but when the pecuniary circumstances of a depositor are such that the indulgence is absolutely necessary, a temporary advance may be allowed from the sum at his credit with the sanction of the Chairman of the municipality when the depositor draws a salary below Rs. 50 and that of the Commissioners of the municipality at a meeting when his salary is Rs. 50 or over. Such an advance shall not exceed the amount subscribed by the depositor, except in special cases, e.g., when the necessity for the advance is great and the sum subscribed by him is insufficient for the expenses to be incurred.

(2) The following are examples of occasions on which the grant of advances may be considered, provided the circumstances are exceptional:—

(a) to pay expenses incurred in connection with the illness of a depositor or any of his dependants;

(b) to pay for the passage of any dependant of a depositor coming from beyond the sea to join him, or requiring to make a journey beyond the sea for some urgent cause; and

(c) to pay expenses in connection with marriages, funerals or ceremonies which by the religion of the depositor it is incumbent upon him to perform, and in connection with which it is obligatory, that expenditure should be incurred.

Note.—Advances, though not confined rigidly to the objects laid down in clauses (a) to (c) above, should be made with due regard to the principle expressed in clause (1) of this rule as illustrated by the foregoing examples. The order sanctioning the advance should state the specific purpose for which the advance is granted.

(3) Advances will be recovered at the discretion of the authority sanctioning them, in not less than 12 instalments or more than 24. A depositor may, however, at his option make repayment in less than 12 instalments or may repay two or more instalments at the same time. Recoveries will commence from the first payment of the full month's salary after the advance is granted, or (in the case of advances to an officer going on leave) after the officer's return from leave. The instalments will be paid by compulsory deduction from salary, and will be in addition to the usual subscription:

Provided that if in the opinion of the Chairman of the municipality, the recovery of an ordinary advance in 24 instalments is likely to cause excessive hardship, recovery may be made in not more than 36 instalments with the sanction of the District Magistrate.

(4) When an advance is paid to a depositor in excess of the amount shown against him in column 9 of the Provident Fund ledger (a portion of his sum having been invested in postal cash certificates), a minus balance should be shown in red ink in column 9 till it is wiped off by subsequent payment of subscription, contribution, etc.; and similarly a minus entry in red ink should be made in column 12 of the ledger for interest at 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank on the debit balance in column 9. If, however, the advance is to be paid by the sale of a portion of the investment either in Government promissory notes, war bonds or postal cash certificates, etc., the loss, if any, by this sale should be recovered from the depositor taking the advance.

(5) When an advance is repayable as regards principal in not more than 12 instalments, an additional instalment representing interest and equivalent to 3 per cent. of the total amount of the advance should be paid in the month following that in which the last instalment is paid. Similarly, two additional instalments representing interest each equivalent to 3 per cent. of the total amount of the advance should be paid when the advance is repayable in more than 12 instalments. In either case, the instalment of interest, when realized, should be credited to the account of the depositor himself.

8A. In the following cases a depositor may be permitted to withdraw the deposits up to 90 per cent. of his own subscriptions with interest at his credit before the actual date of his retirement on the conditions laid down against each:—

(1) A subscriber proceeding on leave preparatory to retirement, at any time between the date of his proceeding on leave and the date of retirement, subject, however, to the condition that he will be required, should he return to duty at the end of his leave, to repay to the bond in one or more instalments the whole amount withdrawn by him with interest thereon, unless his active service actually terminates within six months.

(2) A subscriber who produces a medical certificate of incapacity for further service, at any time between the date of his producing such certificate and the date of retirement.

In both the cases referred to above the previous sanction of the Commisisoners at a meeting should be obtained and no refund shall be made until the Chairman after due enquiry certifies that no dues are outstanding against the depositor.

9. Withdrawals on retirement.—(1) When a depositor in permanent employ ceases to be a servant of the municipality by resignation, retirement, reduction of establishment, or by permanent transfer to service under some other local fund or to Government service, the Commissioners of the municipality at a meeting shall cause the amount standing to his credit (i.e., the deposits and contributions with interest thereon) to be withdrawn and subject to rule 16, to be handed over to him, unless the municipality has received notice of an assignment made before the 18th February 1928, affecting the disposal of the amount or any portion of it. Should such notice have been received the municipality will hand over to the depositor only that portion of the amount which is not affected by the assignment or by the operation of rule 16 and will dispose of the balance after taking the opinion of the Legal Remembrancer through the District Officer:

Provided that in the event of a depositor being directly appointed by the Local Government as Assistant Director of Public Health or Director of Public Health Laboratory, the amount standing to his credit in the Provident Fund maintained by the Municipal Commisisoners may, if he so desires, be transferred to his credit in the Contributory Provident Fund maintained by the Local Government.

(2) A depositor holding a temporary appointment may, subject to the same conditions, either withdraw the amount on the termination of his appointment or leave it in the fund to be withdrawn at the time he finally quits the service.

(3) If in the opinion of the Chairman of the municipality the withdrawal of interest from the Savings Bank would unduly trench upon the deposits at credit of the other depositors, the interest shall not be paid at once from the Provident Fund, but be temporarily advanced from the funds of the municipality. The advance shall be adjusted when the difference between the total of the ledger balances and the balance of the Provident Fund in the Pass Book may be withdrawn from the Savings Bank under rule 19.

(4) In the case of final withdrawal of the entire balance standing to the credit of a depositor on retirement or otherwise, the fraction of a rupee, if any, may be advanced temporarily from the funds of the municipality. The advance shall be adjusted when the difference between the total of the ledger balance and the balance of the Provident Fund in the Pass Book may be withdrawn from the Savings Bank under rule 19.

10. Disposal on depositor's death.—Each depositor will, as soon after he joins the fund as possible, be called upon by the Chairman of the municipality to furnish a "Form of Declaration" showing how he wishes the amount of his accumulations to be disposed of on his death. A specimen of this form will be found at the end of these rules.

11. An adopted child shall be considered to be a child for the purpose of these rules when, under the personal law of the depositor, adoption is legally recognised as conferring the status of a natural child, but in this case only. If doubts arise in an individual case, the municipality will take the opinion of the Legal Remembrancer through the District Officer and his opinion shall be final for the purposes of these rules. A declaration in favour of an adopted child is made at the depositor's risk and can be challenged at any time.

12. A depositor may in his declaration provide for the distribution of a portion only of the amount. Thus the Form of Declaration may mention a specific sum or a specific proportion of the total amount. The disposal of the balance will be governed by rule 14.

Any Form of Declaration submitted by a depositor is revocable at any time and from time to time. A fresh declaration shall, subject to rule 13, be operative only on being received by the Chairman of the municipality. On a depositor's marriage, or re-marriage, any declaration already submitted by him will forthwith become null and void and, unless a revised Form of Declaration is received, the amount of his accumulations will be dealt with under rule 14.

If minors are nominated in a Form of Declaration, the person or persons to whom sums intended for their benefit are to be paid, should be stated in the Form of Declaration.

13. In the event of the depositor having a dependant, he is not permitted in his Form of Declaration to leave the amount of his accumulations or any part of it to any one who is not his dependant. Where a Form of Declaration purports to leave money otherwise than to a depositor's dependant, the Chairman of the municipality shall call upon the depositor to state whether he has a dependant, and if it is found that he has one, the Form of Declaration shall not be accepted.

A depositor who has dependants has absolute discretition regarding the distribution of the amount at his credit at the time of his death among those dependants. He may exclude any one or more of them in favour of another or others of them and the manner in which the distribution is to be made among them is also within his absolute discretion.

14. The disposal of the balances at credit of deceased depositors is regulated by section 4(1) of the Provident Funds Act, 1925.

15. The municipality will not be bound by, or recognise, any assignment or encumbrance executed or attempted to be created which affects the disposal of the accumulations of a depositor who dies before retirement.

16. Withdrawal of contribution and deduction from deposit.—If a servant is dismissed, or removed, or called upon to resign on account of misconduct, or inefficiency or resigns without due notice, or is made liable for any losses, damages, costs and expenses which the municipality may at any time pay, sustain or be put to by reason of any act of embezzlement or default of or by such servant, the municipality may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, withhold all or any part of the contribution allotted to him with the interest accrued thereon, and pay to the servant only the balance to his credit without such contribution and the interest thereon. If a servant is permitted to resign under any other circumstances than those mentioned in the last sentence before he has rendered five years' complete service, the municipality may, with the sanction of the Commissioner of the Division, withhold a portion of the contribution allotted to him with interest bearing the same ratio to the whole amount so contributed with interest thereon, as the number of years required to complete a service of five years bears to five years.

17. Any contribution and interest thereon withheld from a servant shall be credited to the Municipal Fund.

18. Provident Fund Ledger and Abstract of Balance.—A Provident Fund ledger in the following form having a separate page for each depositor's account will be maintained in the municipal office:—

Serial No............ Name.................... Appointment............

Deposits.											Columns for calculation of interests.

When Post Office Five-Year Cash Certificates are purchased out of the balance, in the Savings Bank, the proportionate share of each depositor shall be fixed and the amount shall be deducted from the amount against his name in column 9 and entered in column 14 of the ledger, until the cash certificate matures or is cashed. The total of column 9 of the ledger will be proved with the total balance of the Pass Book monthly by means of an abstract of balances in the following form:—

Deduct.—Money invested in Government and other securities (vide rule 7).

Deduct.—Interest on Government and other securities not credited into the Post Office but included in the individual accounts

Add.—The fraction of a rupee paid from the fund of the municipality. Vide rule 9(4).

Total in Pass Book

19. (1) Calculation of the interest due on each account shall be made at the rate of 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank per annum for each calendar month on the lowest balance at credit of an account between the closing of the fourth day and the end of the month. The yearly interest thus calculated on each account shall be entered in column 16 of the abstract of balances prescribed in rule 18. As soon, after the 30th of April, as the interest for the previous year is added by the Post Office to the principal of the fund and the interest on investment through other agencies is drawn by the Chairman and credited in the Savings Bank account [see rurle 7(2)], the total yearly interest calculated at the aforesaid rate of 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank and entered in the depositor's accounts, as shown in column 16 of the said abstract of balances, shall be deducted from the total interest actually received for the year, and this excess interest, together with the gain or loss by the sale of Government securities, if any, during the year [see rule 7(3)] shall be shared by those depositors whose credits in the Provident Fund exceed Rs. 100 in proportion to their balances on the 31st March; provided that, for the purpose of calculating and crediting to each depositor's account his share of the excess interest, the total balance at the depositor's credit shall be taken as the nearest hundred. The interest thus calculated shall be added to the principal in column 9 of the depositor's ledger account (see form in rule 18).

(2) In the case of the Post Office Five-Year Cash Certificates the total amount received from the Post Office shall be apportioned to each depositor, when the cash certificate matures or is cashed, in the proportion fixed at the time of purchase.

(3) If any payment has to be made during the year on a depositor's account the interest calculated monthly at 2½ per cent. or at such rate as may be allowed at the time by the Post Office Savings Bank on that account shall be added to the principal in column 9 (see form in rule 18), and for his proportionate share in the Post Office Cash Certificates, the amount due as calculated from the figures given at the back of the cash certificate shall be added.

(4) The provisional increase to contributions under rule 5 or the temporary advance under sub-rule (4) of rule 9 shall be credited to the municipality as a miscellaneous receipt. If, however, the total of the provisional increase and temporary advance is, or contains, a fraction of a rupee, this fraction of a rupee shall be left in the Savings Bank for adjustment at the close of the following year. When the balances have been thus compared and adjusted, the ledger account of the next year shall be opened.

20. A copy of his ledger account signed by the Vice-Chairman shall be given to each subscriber after the annual comparison and adjustment of balances. Subscribers must satisfy themselves as to the correctness of these accounts, and unless errors in them are brought to the notice of the Vice-Chairman within one month from the date of their receipt, no claim based on such error will be subsequently recognised.

21. Dead accounts.—On a depositor leaving the service his account shall be closed, and unless the amount at his credit be withdrawn within a certain period, viz.,— for balances of Rs. 10 and under, one year, and for balances over Rs. 10, three years, it shall be written off as a dead account, and repaid only under the orders of the Commissioner of the Division. The fact that the account has been closed will not operate as a bar to the interest being credited to the depositor's accounts, i.e., the interest accruing until the amount of deposit is withdrawn for payment to the depositor or his heir, or under rule 22, will be added to the deposit.

22. When accounts become "Dead" they must be removed from the Provident Fund Ledger and be credited in the cash book as a miscellaneous receipt, the money being drawn out of the Savings Bank. On an amount being thus written off, it should be entered in a "Dead Account" register, in which subsequent repayments shall be noted in order to avoid a double payment.

23. Procedure.—The Chairman of the municipality concerned will endeavour to secure from all depositors on their first joining the Fund the submission of the Form of Declaration prescribed in rule 10. If a depositor desires to revise his Declaration he should apply to the Chairman of the municipality for the necessary form. All such Declarations still in force shall be carefully recorded in the personal custody of a responsible officer.

AWARD

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G. O. No. 6441-IR/D/10L-116/56, dated 20th December 1956.

I need not go into the facts of the case which have led up to the present dispute, because the matter in question has been settled by a petition filed by the petitioner by which the case is allowed to be dropped. The ground which is urged for such withdrawal is that in view of the amendment of the order of reference by corrigendum order No. 1922-I.R./IR/10L-4/57, dated 7th June 1957, by which the Head Office employees have been excluded from the pending adjudication and now as the present dispute was in respect of the Head Office in which the said workman was concerned, the present case is not tenable in law under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

I accept the said contention and allow the case to be withdrawn.

This is my award.

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

For the Complainant: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, M.L.A.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of a proceeding based on the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order of reference No. 2463Dis./D/11L-8/56, dated 3rd June 1955, regarding an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kedar Nath Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Managing Agents, Messrs. Babulal & Co. (Private) Ltd. and their workmen of the Head Office, represented by the Babulal & Co., Ltd. Employees' Union. The award on the aforesaid reference was made by this Tribunal on 5th June 1956 and was published in the Calcutta Gazette, on 28th June 1956.

On 5th November 1955, Shri Sitaram Jaswal (Bania) filed an application under section 33A of the Act, complaining that the opposite party Company had dismissed him by its letter, dated the 8th June 1955, without obtaining previous permission of the Tribunal. It is stated that the petitioner prayed for leave to proceed to his native village in April 1955, which was granted but with imposition of certain conditions. He was an active member of the Union and his Trade Union activities were never looked upon in good grace by the Company. It is not a fact that he was not willing to accept the transfer—he only requested the Management to make necessary arrangement to enable him to take up the work. Subsequently at the request of the Labour Commissioner, the petitioner offered himself for work at Panihati, which was also refused. The petitioner feels that his dismissal was illegal, mala fide and against all principles of natural justice. No charge-sheet was issued, nor was any enquiry held in the matter. It is prayed that the Company may be directed to reinstate him with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows:

The petitioner was dismissed on justifiable grounds by letter, dated 8th June 1955. The matter of dismissal was thoroughly enquired into by the Conciliation Officer, who after being satisfied that the Management was justified and acted bona fide in the matter of dismissal, dropped the proceeding. The petitioner was serving the Company at its office at 34 Jatindra Mohan Avenue. For lack of work there, he was found surplus to requirement there and arrangement was being made to post him elsewhere by way of transfer. Getting scent of the same, the applicant on the false pretext of his wife's illness, applied for leave on 12th April 1955, stating that he was compelled to apply for leave from 18th April 1955 to 1st May 1955 for nursing his wife. On receipt of the Management's letter granting his leave, the applicant refused to avail of the leave by his letter, dated 18th April 1955. The allegation of victimisation is absolutely false and is denied. The Company was not aware that he was an active member of the Union, nor was there any reason for the Company in not looking upon him in good grace due to his Union connection. The Company always looked upon the petitioner as also other employees sympathetically and treated them very cordiallly.

The facts leading to the dismissal of the petitioner are as follows:

Shri Sitaram Bania was a Durwan posted at the office of the employers at 34 Jatindra Mohan Avenue, Calcutta. As he had practically no work there, he was transferred to Panihati to watch Company's garden there and he was asked to report there for duty on 21st April 1955, but on his personal request, he was allowed time and was asked to report there for duty on 25th April 1955 without fail. The petitioner, however, raised various frivolous pleas for evading transfer by his letter, dated 22nd April 1955, by raising the question of his quarters and daily allowance, etc., which were quite irrelevant inasmuch as everything was explained to him when he came to 13 Syed Salley Lane for extension of his joining date there. The complainant by his letter, dated 28th April 1955, made a false statement to the effect that he could not find out the Company's garden, as the Company's garden at Panihati is well known in the locality as also to the applicant himself, and it could not be believed that he could not trace out the garden. He was thereafter given further chance to report for duty at Panihati within three days from the date of receipt of the letter, which he refused to accept when tendered. In these circumstances, he was placed under suspension till enquiry and was informed of this decision of the Management with direction to submit his explanation within a week from the receipt of the same by the Company's letter, dated 12th May 1955. He refused to accept the aforesaid letter too, and as such, it had to be sent to him per registered post. On receipt of his reply, he was given a last chance by letter, dated 25th May 1955, to report for duty at Panihati immediately, and for this purpose another Durwan was detailed to accompany him to Panihati, and the workman was assured that the suspension order would be withdrawn on his joining duty there. The Durwan was shown the Company's garden by another Durwan, who accompanied him for this purpose. Shortly, thereafter, the complainant returned to Calcutta and sent a letter raising frivolous pleas. Thereafter the Management reviewed the whole position and was satisfied that the workman was deliberately flouting its lawful orders amounting to gross-misconduct and dismissed him by letter, dated 8th June 1955. The petitioner did not deserve any consideration, yet in view of admission of his misconduct before Shri A. R. Ghosh, Assistant Labour Commissioner, on 18th June 1955, who suggested to reappoint him on the petitioner's tendering apology for the misconduct committed by him and on his joining at Panihati garden within seven days, the Company agreed to reappoint him, provided the above conditions were satisfied. The workman also undertook to join at Panihati within seven days from that date on tendering apology, but he did not comply with the same. In these circumstances, the Company had to post another Durwan at Panihati and there was no necessity for any other hand. Two months hence he approached the Labour Officer again for work at Panihati, and the Management informed the Labour Officer of its inability to take him by its letter, dated 16th August 1955. It is submitted that the Company acted bona fide and was justified in dismissing the workman in the circumstances discussed above. It is prayed that the application should be rejected.

On the date of hearing on 24th July 1957, an application was filed by the employers in which it is stated that although the workman was not entitled to any benefit, as a gesture of goodwill the Company paid a sum of Rs. 300 to the workman at the request of the workman for payment of some money, and the applicant received the aforesaid amount settling the dispute with the Company, and that the applicant on receipt of the aforementioned money, settled the dispute with the Company and he has no further claim whatsoever and that he would not proceed with the case, and that a "No dispute" award may be passed. By an endorsement on the petition, the representative of the workman testifies the contents to be true. The petition filed by the Company and endorsed by the Union appears as Annexure A to this award. It is, therefore, awarded that there is no dispute between the parties. The compromise petition in Appendix A shall form a part of this award.

MOST RESPECTFULLY SHEWETH :—

1. It is submitted that the applicant was dismissed by our letter, dated 8th June 1955 and he was not entitled to any benefit whatsoever. A copy of the voucher showing receipt of the amount in question by him in full and final satisfaction of his claim is enclosed herewith.

2. The applicant on receipt of the said amount settled the abovementioned dispute with the Company and he has no further claim whatsoever and that he would not proceed with the case. In the circumstances a "No dispute" award should be passed.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1113-I.R./IR/11L-112/57, dated 10th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. F. Hussain & Brothers, 28 Strand Road, Calcutta-1, and one of their workmen, Shri Abbasbhoy Alibhoy Wadhwanwala, represented by the Paschim Bengal Gumasta Sabha, J-535 Paharpur Road, Calcutta-24, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the Management was justified in dismissing Shri Abbasbhoy Alibhoy Wadhwanwala? What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

In this case the Union contends that Shri Abbasbhoy Alibhoy Wadhwanwala (hereinafter referred to as the "workman" for the sake of brevity) went home on 2 months' leave on receipt of the news of some ailment in his family with effect from 1st July 1956. The workman applied for an extension of leave which also was granted. The workman then returned to Calcutta on 26th October 1956 to resume his duty but the Company did not permit him. The workman tried his best to persuade the Company to take him in but all his efforts proved abortive. The Company thus wrongfully dismissed him from his service. Hence this prayer for reinstatement with other incidental relief.

The Company denies the allegations in the Union's written statement and the specific case of the Company is that the workman voluntarily gave up his job and accepted all his dues in full and final settlement of claim. Therefore, the claim of the Union is unsustainable.

DECISION

This case was originally fixed on 1st July 1957 for hearing but on that date the Company prayed for time on the ground that their account books were retained in the Sales-tax Office without which they could not proceed with the case and 29th July 1957 was the next date fixed for trial.

On this date, however, the Company was ready to prosecute the case, but on behalf of the workman, the Secretary of the Union put in a petition stating that the Union is not willing to proceed with this case as the workman failed in attending the Court on two dates successively. The Union therefore does not proceed with the case. Thus it is evident that there is no dispute outstanding between the parties. This case be thus disposed of.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of a proceeding based on G. O. No. 2463Dis./D/11L-8/55, dated 3rd June 1955, regarding an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kedar Nath Jute Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Managing Agents, Messrs. Babulal & Co. (Private), Ltd., and their workmen of the Head Office, represented by the Babulal & Co., Ltd. Employees' Union. The award of the aforesaid reference was made by this Tribunal on 5th June 1956 and was published in the Calcutta Gazette on 28th June 1956.

On 20th July 1956, Shri Deb Narayan Chatterjee, Shri Shibaram Roy, Shri Ajit Kumar Roy, Shri Sibnath Chowdhury, Shri Gopal Chandra Banerji, Shri Sushil Chandra Dutta, Shri Haripada Dutta and Shri Kanaiya Lal Kodal applied under section 33A of the Act, complaining against their discharge on various grounds. It is prayed that they may be reinstated with full wages for the period of their non-employment. The Company, in its written statement, opposed the claims on the ground that the workmen were surplus to requirement and they were retrenched on the pdinciple of "last come, first go" and that there was no victimisation or unfair labour practice in retrenching the petitioners. It is prayed that the claim of the complainants should be rejected.

On going through the record, it is noticed that out of the eight complainants, Shri Shibaram Roy, Shri Gopal Chandra Banerji, Shri Sushil Chandra Dutta, Shri Haripada Dutta and Shri Kanaiya Lal Kodal never appeared before the Tribunal, nor were they represented by any body. The rest of the complainants being Shri Deb Narayan Chatterjee, Shri Ajit Kumar Roy and Shri Sibnath Chowdhury were present in person on the dates of hearing and were represented by Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, and Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, appeared for the employers.

The hearing of the case commenced on 3rd January 1957, on which date documents were filed by both the parties. A number of adjournments were granted at the request of the parties to explore the possibilities of arriving at an amicable settlement. Ultimately on 24th July 1957, a petition was filed by the employers in which it is stated that out of the eight applicants, five had settled their disputes previously and received their discharge benefits under section 25(F) of the Act and the remaining three applicants, being Shri Deb Narayan Chatterjee, Shri Sibnath Chowdhury and Shri Ajit Kumar Roy had also settled their disputes with the Company and received retrenchment benefits in full and final satisfaction of their claims and that they have no further disputes with the Company. The Union representative also testifies to the correctness of the petition. It thus appears that all the applicants have received retrenchment benefits in full and final satisfaction and they have no further dispute. This petition appears as Annexure A to this award. It is, therefore, awarded that there is no dispute between the parties. The compromise petition in Appendix A shall form a part of this award.

Appearances:

For the employees: None.

For the Company: None.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 4398Dis./D/11L-384/55, dated 29th September 1956, referred the above dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

This issue as contained in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

Are Shri Sukharanjan Roy and Shri Karim Bux entitled to reinstatement?

AWARD

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 30th October 1956. Notices were issued duly on the parties. But neither the Company nor the Union did enter appearance in spite of service of notices on them. On 11th July 1957 this Tribunal still wrote a letter to the Union informing that if it failed to submit written statement by 1st August 1957, a "no-dispute" award would be pased under rule 15A of the Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1947. The Union duly received that letter on 12th July 1957. Yet, the Union did not think it worthwhile to file written statement or to take any steps in this respect. In view of what has been stated above, it may be presumed that the workers have no longer any grievance to press for redress. The dispute submitted to this Tribunal has ceased to exist. A "no-dispute" award is passed accordingly, and the reference is thus disposed of.

By this reference made under Government order No. 4534Dis./D/11L-316/56, dated Calcutta, the 22nd October 1956, and subsequent order No. 5371-I.R./D/11L-316/56, dated Calcutta, the 17th December 1956, adjudication on the following points has been called for:—

Schedule

(1) Weekly holiday.

(2) Working hours.

(3) Leave.

(4) Whether the dismissal of Shri Ranjit Ghosh was justified? To what relief is he entitled?

(5) Whether retrenchment of the following workmen are justified? To what relief are they entitled?—

(i) Shri Ranjit Kumar Ghosh.

(ii) Shri Lakhan Kumar Ghosh.

(iii) Shri Mohanlal (Lalmohan).

(iv) Shri Dhiren Kumar Majumdar.

(v) Shri Jeevan Kumar Chatterjee.

(vi) Shri Babulal.

(vii) Shri Narain.

(viii) Shri Ramkrishna.

(x) Shri Jogendra Singh.

The case of the workers as represented in their written statement is that no weekly holiday or leave was being granted and they were made to work for 14 to 15 hours. On representation being made to the Proprietor no relief was available. Thereupon the workers convened a meeting and decided to act in concert with the backing of a Union. With this object in view they joined the Calcutta Hotel and Restaurant Workers' Association which they left after a while to enlist as members of the Calcutta Hotel, Bar and Restaurant Employees' Union. As soon as the Proprietor got scent of this enrolment of the workers as members of a Union, he cut up rough and treated them to rough talk seasoned with invectives. Shortly thereafter the Proprietor started terminating their services one by one, without any rhyme or reason. In this way the 10 employees whose case has been submitted for adjudication were all kicked out. The claim is now made for reinstatement of these men with compensation and wages due. The Tribunal's directions are also solicited in regard to holiday, leave and working hours.

The Proprietor filed written statement stating that weekly holidays, working hours and leave were regulated by the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act, 1940. The amenities provided by the said Act were being enjoyed in full measure. The Proprietor denied having terminated the services of any of these workers. His case is that in order to put him to trouble and bring the business to a stand-still the employees remained absent without notice one by one and did not return to duty. In order to keep the Hotel running he had to engage other men in these vacancies. As there was no termination of service by him but voluntary abandonment by the men themselves, no question of reinstatement or compensation can arise. Some wages are due for the short period before abrupt departure which the Proprietor has always been ready to pay.

Issue Nos. 4 and 5: According to Issue No. 4 Ranjit Kumar Ghosh was dismissed. He figures once again in Issue No. 5 as one of the men who had been retrenched. There appears to be some confusion. At the hearing the spokesman for the workers submitted that this is not a case of retrenchment but of dismissal of all the workers. Issue No. 5 suggesting as it does that retrenchment had been effected has not been correctly framed. I treat the case therefore as one of dismissal of these 10 workers.

The workers' view-point is that on their joining the Union the Proprietor saw red and abused them in foul language. Not content with such unseemly behaviour, he embarked upon a course of throwing them out of employment one by one. The Proprietor's version is that he was not aware of the formation of any Union or the workers joining any Union existing from before. It was however noticed that some of the men were trying to form a solid block pledged to create trouble and paralyse the business. Neither of the two versions appears probable. The workers did not form any Union of their own. They enrolled as members of a Union which was already in existence. Throwing these employees out of employment because of their membership of that Union the Proprietor could not expect to get any advantage. There was no guarantee that newly recruited workers would not join similar Union or organise themselves into an Association of their own. Times have changed and labour has realised that in union is strength. Standing united and getting the backing of a Union they are in a position to revolt against fascist methods and can fight for their rights on level terms. Dismissal of employees would not ensure safety for the employer. Having seen the Proprietor in the witness-box I have not received an impression that he is a designing or scheming fellow bent upon rowing against the stream. It is also to the interest of the Proprietor to have on his staff experienced and skilled men. Ranjit Ghosh gave evidence that he has been a hotel worker since his boy-hood and has gathered experience of all kinds of work. He was therefore a valuable asset. Since he could be put to any section and could be expected to produce good results, to my mind, the owner of a hotel would try his best to keep such a man in his employment. The evidence given by the workers about their dismissal has not impressed me. Truthfulness has not been proved to be their strong point. Narayan Chandra Paul, Ranjit Ghosh, Dhiren Majumder, Ramkrishna and Jiban have worked in other hotels after leaving Mansuk Hotel. Narayan, Ranjit Ghosh and Dhiren Majumder denied having secured any employment elsewhere. O.P.W. 3, owner of a hotel at 92 Wellesley Street, gave evidence that Ranjit worked for him from the month of August 1956, till some date in November of the same year. He received wages and signed the entries in the pay-book Exts. B(2) to B(4). Ranjit Ghosh admitted his signature in the pay register of Mansuk Hotel but denied the signatures in Exts. B(2) to B(4). I have no manner of doubt that the signatures are his. O.P.W. 3 deposed truthfully whereas Ranjit Ghosh did not speak the truth. O.P.W. 4 gave evidence that Dhiren Majumder worked in his hotel for 3½ months from 1st March 1957. Exhibits B(5) to B(8) are entries in his pay-book which were signed by Dhiren. This worker also admitted his signature in the pay-book of Mansuk Hotel but denied the signatures in the register of Amar Hind Ram Hotel and another signature in the letter Ext. C by which he made a declaration that he had left service in that hotel voluntarily and received all his dues. I am perfectly satisfied that the evidence of O.P.W. 4 is true. Dhiren's denial of his signatures is unworthy of acceptance. Narayan Paul worked in Lahore Restaurant owned by O.P.W. 5 from the 1st of November to 16th of December. Jivan and Ramkrishna are also working there. So far as Jeevan and Ramkrishna are concerned the learned spokesman for the workers admitted that they were employed in the Lahore Restaurant. Regarding Narayan, the Proprietor O.P.W. 5, produced his pay register in which Ext. D(4) is alleged to be the receipt granted by Narayan for wages paid to him. There is no mean to compare the signature as it is given in English whereas his signatures in the pay register of Mansuk Hotel are in Bengali. At any rate the evidence of the Proprietor Jugal Singh has the ring of truth. I am convinced he has not been inspired by the Proprietor of Mansuk Hotel to give perjured evidence. That Narayan is thoroughly unreliable will also appear from the fact that according to his estimate he was employed in the Mansuk Hotel for 1½ years. Admittedly his appointment in the Hotel came to an end on 15th September 1956. The pay register of Mansuk Hotel does not bear him out. His name does not appear in that register in the year 1955. For the first time in the month of February, he is found having drawn wages signing the pay register. Having regard to the tissue of lies indulged in by these workers I cannot attach any weight to their evidence regarding the manner of termination of their services. The employer's account that these men sealed an alliance to ruin the business does not also carry conviction. One does not usually bite the hand that feeds him. No evidence has been given that the wages paid in this hotel compare unfavourably with the wages paid in similar establishments. There is no reason why the workers should decide upon killing the goose that laid eggs for them. Evidence has been given by the Inspector appointed under the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act that hotel workers belong, in a manner of speaking, to a nomadic tribe. They drift from one hotel to another at short intervals. Similar evidence appears in the testimony of O.P.W. 4, owner of Amar Hind Ram Hotel. He stated that the employees leave after two to four months. They do not stick to one place. This is corroborated by the fact that Ranjit Ghosh went over to work for O.P.W. 3 in August 1956, and left the place in November. Dhiren Majumder worked for O.P.W. 4 for 3½ months. Narayan Paul worked for O.P.W. 5 for 1½ months or so and then bade adieu. As according to Inspector O.P.W. 1 there are 5,000 to 6,000 eating-houses in Calcutta, the workers do not find themselves at a loose end. They have little attachment for any particular hotel as their services are much in demand. For reasons which do not appear in concrete form these workers did not like to continue in the Mansuk Hotel and one by one they left abruptly without notice. They did not come back at any time. In this view I come to the conclusion that they were not dismissed but the jobs were relinquished by them. No question of reinstatement or compensation can therefore arise.

Issue Nos. 1, 2 and 3: A complaint was made to the authorities by some of the workers that they were not being given leave and holidays. The Inspector O.P.W. 1 visited the Hotel and made enquiry. He examined the register of weekly holidays Ext. B. The register shows that weekly rest was being allowed. According to the Inspector, in reply to his question some of the workers admitted that leave and holidays were allowed and some denied. I am sure there would not be any such conflict of statements, if leave and holidays were really denied. I do not think that the Proprietor had been infringing the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act laying himself open to penalties prescribed by section 17. Direction may still be given that weekly holiday and leave must be given to the workers in accordance with the provisions of the Bengal Shops and Establishments Act. The working hours must also conform to the requirements of section 10.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, filed on 2nd January 1957, by workman Shri Balai Chand Mullick. He was a peon in the opposite party concern. On 7th November 1956, the Cashier of the opposite party made over an insured cover containing Rs. 1,000 addressed to one Shri N. N. Kapoor for sending the same by insured post from Rash Behari Avenue Post Office. Soon after at about 11 a.m. on that date the petitioner returned and reported that he lost the said insured cover in the circumstances detailed in Ext. A. The Company could not believe his statement and it thought that it was a case of criminal breach of trust and accordingly made a report to the Officer-in-charge, Tollygunge police-station, on 7th November 1956 (Ext. B) for necessary action. The police arrested the petitioner on 8th November 1956 and produced him before the Police Magistrate on that date on a report (Ext. C). He was in jail custody from that date till 22nd November 1956 (Ext. D). On 22nd November 1956, on the report of the police that there was no sufficient evidence to proceed against him, the petitioner was discharged by the Police Magistrate (Ext. D). After such discharge, the petitioner applied to the Company for permission to resume duty. In reply the Company suspended him with effect from the date of arrest pending departmental enquiry against him on charge of gross and culpable negligence in the matter (Ext. E). Departmental enquiry was held and a statement of the petitioner was recorded (Ext. F). On 17th December 1955, the Company passed order dismissing him for his gross and culpable negligence (Ext. F1). This the Company did during the pendency of adjudication proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute between the opposite party and their workman. The workman accordingly made the complaint. He alleged that there was no justification for termination of his employment.

The Company, on the other hand, pleaded that it was justified to terminate his employment, as in any case the petitioner was guilty of gross and culpable negligence in carrying out his duties.

DECISION

The parties eventually filed a joint petition of compromise and prayed for an award in terms thereof. The terms appear to be fair. The opposite party agreed to take back the petitioner into its employment; while the petitioner agreed to pay the sum of Rs. 1,000 in instalments from his pay and allowances. In the circumstances, I make my award in terms of the petition of compromise. The petition of compromise is made part of the award.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

The original reference out of which this present complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen was made under Government Order No. 3996Dis./D/11L-126/55, dated Calcutta, the 7th September 1956.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, for termination of service without leave of the Tribunal when a reference proceeding was pending.

The case of the applicant is that an order of retrenchment lauded on him out of the blue on 6th December 1955, terminating his service from 1st January 1956. The action taken by the employer was in contravention of section 33.

The defence of the other party was that the applicant was a part-time compounder in the Company's factory dispensary, which was abolished on account of the introduction of the State Insurance Scheme. As a result of the said closure the post held by the applicant as a part-time compounder was abolished. There was no substance in the application made by the employee.

DECISION

Parties have filed a petition jointly stating that the dispute has been amicably settled. In the circumstances the application is disposed of on the finding that no dispute is subsisting at present.

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G.O. No. 5441-I.R./D/10L-116/56, dated 20th December 1956.

I need not go into the facts of the case which have led up to the present dispute because the matter in question has been settled by a petition filed by the petitioner by which the case is allowed to be dropped. The ground which is urged for such withdrawal is that in view of the amendment of the order of reference by corrigendum order No. 1922-I.R./1R/10L-4/57, dated 7th June 1957, by which the Head Office employees have been excluded from the pending adjudication and now as the present dispute was in respect of the Head Office in which the said workman was concerned, the present case is not tenable in law under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

I accept the said contention and allow the case to be withdrawn.
This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between the Bus Owners and their workmen represented by the Haringhata-Kanchrapara-Birahi-Calcutta Bus & Transport Employees' Union, P.O. Bara Jaguli, district Nadia. (Case No. VIII-29 of 1957.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri P. K. Nandi, Counsel.

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee.

The following two issues arising out of an industrial dispute existing between Bus Owners and their workmen represented by Haringhata-Kanchrapara-Birahi-Calcutta Bus & Transport Employees' Union, P.O. Bara Jaguli, district Nadia, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 86-I.R./D/4L-21/56, dated the 7th January 1957.

The Employees' Union filed a single written statement and the Bus Owners filed a joint written statement as also separate written statements in the dispute.

Issue

(1) Is the dismissal of the workmen mentioned in column B of the attached list by the employers mentioned in column A of the list, valid and justified?

(2) Are they entitled to reinstatement?

FINDINGS

Issues Nos. 1 and 2. The Union's case, as stated now, is that all these dismissals are invalid and unjustified, and that the dismissed employees should be reinstated in service with all back wages. The contention of the Bus Owners is that only one employee was dismissed, after proper enquiry, for his misconduct, and that all other employees had voluntarily abandoned their employment either before the strike or after it. Some of them, however, were re-employed, on former pay, on their own request long after the strike.

Shri P. K. Nandi, learned Counsel for the Union, classified these cases of dismissal into three groups, viz.—

(1) those who were dismissed before the strike;

(i) Shri Sadananda Banerjee, Driver (26-9-51),

(ii) Shri Pran Gopal Kundu, Driver (10-12-55),

(iii) Shri Krishna Pada Ghose, Conductor (28-1-56),

(iv) Shri Prafulla Kumar Kar, Driver (14/15-3-56),

(2) those who were dismissed after strike but re-employed;

(i) Shri Kasi Nath Kurmi, Conductor,

(ii) Shri Tapan Kumar Ghose, Assistant,

(iii) Shri Amira Dhobe, Driver,

(3) all the remaining employees dismissed after strike but not reinstated.

At the time of hearing, Shri Nandi, on behalf of the Union, did not press the cases of (i) Shri Sudhir Kumar Chakraborty, Driver, (ii) Shri Sankar Kr. Bose, Conductor, and (iii) Shri Samiran Bikash Sarkar, Assistant. In the written statement, bus number 1014 belonging to bus owner Shri Sankar Mukherjee, it is stated that all of them were reinstated with back wages by the employer. O. P. W. 6, Shri Sankar Mukherjee, admitted this in his deposition before the Tribunal. Accordingly, there is no outstanding dispute between Shri Sankar Mukherjee, bus owner, on the one hand, and his employees, viz., Shri Sudhir Kumar Chakraborty, Shri Sankar Kr. Bose and Shri Samiran Bikash Sarkar on the other. I make an award to that effect for information of the Government.

I will now examine the cases of 15 other alleged dismissals, one by one, and record my findings thereon.

It is in evidence of P.W. 1, Shri Amrita Lal Mitra, the General Secretary of the Union, that his Union, of which the alleged dismissed employees in the dispute are members, was formed in August 1954. The Association is a registered one and is affiliated to I.N.T.U.C. Shri Mitra sent a charter of demands to the Bus Owners on 4/5th January 1956. The demands were not conceded and even no reply was given to the Union. Thereafter, the Union decided to call for a strike and after several postponements, the strike took place on 24th March 1956. But the strike did not last long, and is said to be an unsuccessful one and the running of the buses was not even suspended, beyond a part of the day. These facts are established in this case, and we shall now consider the cases of dismissal against the background of these facts.

(1) Shri Sadananda Banerjee.—The Union's written statement, which runs into several pages, does not contain any statement of his case. In fact, the written statement does not give out any details of cases except of two employees only. Shri Banerjee's case as far as can be gathered from his evidence is that he was in service of Shri Sudhir Kumar Kundu. He was a bus driver and was dismissed towards the end of 1951 for his Union activities. He said that he was the President of the Union. He was not given any charge-sheet or written letter of discharge. He, however, complained to the Union towards the end of December last year, after an interval of 5 years. He admitted having purchased a lorry thereafter. In cross-examination he said that he came to Shri Sudhir Babu's service after the sale of bus of Jamir Mia and he left service after 20th July 1951. Shri Mitra said that Shri Banerjee complained to him about his dismissal and the same was recorded in his complaint book [Ext. 1(a)]. This unfortunately refers to a complaint of an alleged dismissal of Shri Banerjee on 22nd December 1955 by his then employer, Shri Sankar Kumar Mukherjee. O.P.W. 6, Shri Mukherjee, was not asked any question about it. Besides that, that dismissal is not an issue in this case. O.P.W. 5, Shri Kundu, said that Shri Banerjee remained absent from work from the middle of 1951. He was seen thereafter to drive a lorry. He left his job without notice. The Pay Register of 1951 shows that Shri Banerjee was absent from duty since 20th July 1951, but received payment by signing the Register (Ext. E). There is nothing on record to show that Shri Banerjee was ever elected as a President of his Union. On a consideration of all these, I find Shri Banerjee's alleged dismissal from service in 1951 is not true. Accordingly, Shri Banerjee is not entitled to any relief in this case. He having left his employment long, long ago, without notice to his employer, is not entitled to reinstatement.

(2) Shri Pran Gopal Kundu, Driver.—The Union's case is that Shri Pran Gopal Kundu, Driver, was discharged without any fault by one Jnan Sankar under the instructions of the owner Shri Saroj Kumar Chatterjee. It is further alleged that the reason given was that Shri Kundu's hands were defective and, as such, he was not fit to drive the bus. In a counter-written statement Shri Sarat Chatterjee stated the Shri Kundu voluntarily left his service and did not come back to duty after 23rd March 1956. It was only on 5th October 1956 when he came for a new employment, that he definitely stated that he had no other dues against the Company. P.W. 2, Shri Kundu, said that he was in the service of Shri Chatterjee for 7 or 8 years. He could not give the date of discharge, but he said that he was verbally discharged for minor accident to the bus.

He was re-employed on his former pay. But then, he said that he was discharged a day after the accident. He proved Ext. B, letter written by Shri Adhir Kumar Das, Conductor, in which Shri Das stated that Shri Kundu did not turn up after having left the bus on the route. The date of the letter, Ext. B, was 11th December 1955. This was long before the strike and, in fact, was one of the grounds for which the strike was called. Shri Kundu applied for fresh appointment, and in a letter (Ext. C), dated 6th October 1956, stated that he had nothing due to him. In cross-examination, Shri Kundu admitted that one of the conditions of their services was that they did not get any pay for absence from work. O.P.W. 4, Shri Chatterjee, said that he did not dismiss him from service. In fact, Shri Kundu left the bus at the stand after an accident in which the bus was damaged, and went home. He did not return to work thereafter. He came only for fresh appointment on 6th October 1956. In fact, Shri Chatterjee did not appoint any other driver, except temporarily promoting the conductor of his bus to that post, who had licence for it. There is no other evidence on this point. In any case, Shri Kundu's alleged dismissal from service created a furore and the Union made it a point for calling a strike. Accordingly, it is only reasonable to think that the issue is not so simple as the evidence now discloses. At the same time, it must be held that the Union had failed to make out a case of Shri Kundu as stated in his written statement. There, it was alleged that he was discharged by Shri Jnan Sankar for defective driving. That case has not been established. Shri Kundu is now continuing in service after re-employment since last October. He has no further claim on his employer. On this evidence and in the circumstances, I am inclined to hold that he was not dismissed from service, in the way alleged by the Union, and that he is not entitled to any relief.

(3) Shri Krisna Pada Ghosh, Conductor.—The Union's written statement is silent about his case. He is P.W. 3. He was conductor in the service of Shri Jugal Chandra Ghosh. He said that he did not remember the date of discharge. He was not given any charge-sheet. He was asked to drive a car, which he refused, due to strike. He admitted that at times he was found short of cash. He did not, however, admit that he left his service when he was found short of cash by Rs. 1-15 on 28th January 1956. O.P.W. 2, Shri Jugal Chandra Ghosh, said that he did not dismiss Shri Ghosh. On 28th January 1956, he was found short of cash by Rs. 1-15 in one trip. At first, he refused to explain this shortage but later said that he purchased rice by it. Thereafter he left the place without turning up again. His way-bill, Ext. D, shows that he was found short of cash by Rs. 1-15 on 28th January 1956. There is no other evidence on this point. There is no corroboration of the Union's case as now disclosed in the evidence of P.W. 3. I am, therefore, not prepared to accept the evidence of P.W. 3 as true. He resigned from service and, therefore, is not entitled to reinstatement in this case.

(4) Shri Prafulla Kumar Kar, Driver.—The Union's written statement is silent about his case. P.W. 10, Shri Profulla Kumar Kar, in his evidence said that a week before the strike he was transferred as a lorry driver. He declined to accept that offer. He said that he was discharged on the assumption that he was the leader of the Union. In cross-examination, he denied having any eye defect. In Ext. G, Shri Kar stated on 14th March 1956 that he was transferred from bus to lorry as a driver on 15th March 1956 and that he declined to accept the transfer and wrote to the owner to appoint another driver. In cross-examination, he said that he had no eye defect and said that he clearly saw the roadside signals from the passengers. O.P.W. 2 said that Shri Kar was transferred to lorry as he had defect in his eyesight, for which he could not see any signals from the passengers. He was not dismissed from service. In fact, he did not come after having left service. He is now working as a driver in lorry No. 1257. He holds a driving licence for the current year. That prima facie shows that he has no serious eye defect, but then, that does not disprove the owner's story. The work of driving a lorry is different from that of driving a bus and, therefore, there was enough justification for the transfer. In any case, he was not dismissed from service. As he declined to continue in work, he is not entitled to reinstatement or any other relief in this case.

This disposes of first group.

The second group of three employees consists of those who were said to have been dismissed for participating in the strike, but were re-employed on a later date. The names of the above three employees are (i) Shri Kashi Nath Kurmi, (ii) Shri Tapan Kumar Ghosh, and (iii) Shri Amira Dhobe. They were re-employed after the strike and are continuing in service. Question of their reinstatement, therefore, does not arise. Only point for decision is whether they were wrongfully dismissed from service. The Union's written statement, as already stated above, is silent about their cases. P.W. 5. Shri Kashi Nath Kurmi was in service of Shri Gobinda Prosad Dey as conductor, and P.W. 6. Shri Tapan Kumar Ghosh was his assistant in the same bus. P.W. 5 said that he participated in the strike on 24th March 1956 and was refused employment thereafter. He, accordingly, prayed for wages for the period of his unemployment and also for continuity in service. His name appears on the way-bill from 29th September 1956, suggesting that he was re-employed from that day. It appears that his licence was not renewed for some time. It was not produced before the Tribunal though promised. P.W. 6, Shri Ghosh, was a cleaner. He joined the strike and was refused employment. He said that he informed the Union about it but not in writing. It appears from cross-examination that they went away only as they did not get adequate pay from the owner. O P.W. 1, Shri Gobinda Prosad Dey, said that Shri Kurmi worked on the day of the strike and absented only from the next day. He did not work thereafter as he failed to renew his licence. He was re-appointed on 20th September 1956, when he came back with the licence. Regarding Shri Ghosh, he said that he also worked on the day of the strike and absented from the next day. He was not dismissed. It is in evidence of Shri Dey that the strike was not successful for many reasons. All the bus drivers and conductors did not join it. There was no mala fides on the part of the owners. Some of the strikers were arrested by the police and the owners got them released on bail. The President of the Union did not approve of the strike in view of the fact that some of the demands were already accepted at the intervention of the Conciliation Officer. The feelings of the President were so strong over this that he resigned from his post thereafter. Shri Mitra, the General Secretary of the Union, however, said that the strike was peaceful and that the employers refused to take the strikers into service on the plea that they would cause sabotage to their vehicles. This was never put to any of the owners when they were cross-examined in this case. Shri Mitra further admitted that the employees did not return to duty after the strike. They did not join thereafter. He tried to improve on this evidence by saying that he did not know anything of this after the strike. This appears amazing. In any case, the evidence of Shri Mitra is not consistent on this point. Some of the employees admitted in their evidence that they did not return to duty after the strike. The evidence of the employees and of Shri Mitra corroborates the bus owner's evidence on this point. It is, therefore, idle to talk of dismissal from service when, in fact, the evidence is that at least very few reported to duty, and others did not after the strike. In any case, refusal to give employment, in the context of what has been alleged by the Union, does not amount to dismissal from service. At best, it is a case of lock-out, in which case the relationship of employer and employee subsists and does not come to an end, I am, therefore, unable to hold that these two employees were dismissed from service. As they went away from work, for different reasons, there cannot be any question of payment of back wages or for continuity of service.

P.W. 7, Shri Amira Dhobe, was a driver in the service of Shri Beni Madhab Sarkar. The Union's written statement is silent about his case. P.W. 7, Shri Dhobe, said that he did not go to the employer for duty after the strike. He was given re-employment on his former pay. Curiously enough, he does not know the case, in which he deposed, for he prayed a relief which is inconsistent with it. He prayed for eight hours duty, which is not in issue. Shri Dhobe is now in service and the question of his reinstatement does not arise. He also cannot get any other relief. It is surprising to find that all sorts of cases and issues have been misjoined together and, even stale disputes were considered fit enough for reference to the Tribunal.

The last group, according to Shri Nandi, consists of all the remaining employees said to have been dismissed from service for mere participating in the strike and were not reinstated. The names of these employees are—

(i) P.W. 8—Shri Mahabir Bandopadhya.

(ii) P.W. 9—Shri Lakshmi Narayan Paul.

(iii) P.W. 11—Shri Jagabandhu Banerjee.

(iv) P.W. 12—Shri Iswari Mahato.

(v) P.W. 13—Shri Sashinath Kurmi.

(vi) P.W. 14—Shri Butta Krishan Banerjee.

(vii) P.W. 15—Shri Krishna Pada Roy.

(viii) P.W. 16—Shri Sahadev Mahato.

Excepting the case of P.W. 8, Shri Mahabir Bandopadhya, Starter, no other case was disclosed in the written statement of the Union. I take up the case of P.W. 8. Shri Bandopadhya first. It is stated in the Union's written statement that Shri Bandopadhya was served with a notice of "suspension" on false and "frivolous reports" of the bus owners. It is not stated however what other action was taken against him. In a joint written statement, the bus owners fully stated the case of Shri Bandopadhya and alleged that he was dismissed for misconduct, on proper charge-sheet and after proper enquiry. The discharge was bona fide, and not actuated by malice or any improper motive. P.W. 8, Shri Bandopadhya, is one of the four starters of the route No. 22. He did not join the strike. Therefore, his case is entirely different from the remaining employees. He was given a notice of "suspension from duty" and also given a charge-sheet to which he replied. He said that he was suspended from 23rd September 1956, long after the strike. He denied the charges but he admitted that there was a complaint against him by Shri Mukherjee which was true. There was an enquiry which he attended but subsequently left as all the bus owners did not attend. The Association was not acting in haste nor out of malice in this case. After all, all the formalities of a departmental enquiry were gone into and an enquiry was held, with repeated notices to Shri Bandopadhya. The Association on a consideration of every thing before it came to the finding that the misconduct was proved but then it demanded only an apology from him before absolving him of the charge. Shri Bandopadhya, however, declined to offer any apology. The Association, thereafter, appointed his own brother as a Starter in his place. Exhibit F series would show that the Association, his employers, was anxious to allow him full opportunity to appear and explain his conduct before the enquiry. The enquiry was properly done, and Shri Bandopadhaya had every opportunity to defend himself. There was no violation of the principles of natural justice. There is no good reason why this Tribunal should interfere with the finding of the Association in his case. Shri Mahabir Bandopadhya, therefore, is not entitled to reinstatement, or any other relief.

Other employees participated in the strike. Out of them, P.W. 9, Shri Lakshmi Narayan Paul, said that he was refused employment by the owner when he went for it, 3 or 4 days after the strike. O.P.W. 4, Shri Chatterjee, said that he did not dismiss Lakshmi Narayan Paul but he left his service due to derangement of his brain. Shri Paul admitted that he was in mental hospital in Dum Dum for 3 months, only 10 days after the strike. This conclusively proves the employer's case. He was not dismissed from service and was not entitled to reinstatement.

P.W. 11, Shri Jagabandhu Banerjee, was a cleaner of a bus of Shri Jogal Chandra Ghose. He joined the strike and was refused employment. He admitted that he was a temporary conductor before the strike and proved his way-bill (Ext. H). O.P.W. 2, Shri Jogal Chandra Ghose, said that Shri Banrejee was appointed as a temporary conductor before the strike in place of Shri Krisna Pada Ghosh. Shri Banerjee did not report to the Union when he was refused employment. On this evidence, I am not prepared to hold that he was dismissed for participating in the strike. Accordingly, the question of his reinstatement does not arise.

P.W. 12, Shri Iswari Mahato, left for home when he was refused employment after the strike. He is in service elsewhere since 21st May 1956. O.P.W. 1, Shri Gobinda Prasad Dey, who is the Secretary of the Bus Owners' Association, said that Iswari Mahato did not come to him after the strike.

P.W. 13, Shri Sasi Nath Kurmi, admitted having joined the strike and informed the Secretary when he was refused employment. This is strictly contradicting the evidence of Shri Mitra. He comes for different case. He was in service of Shri Beni Madhab Sarkar. O.P.W. 7, Shri Sarkar, said that Shri Kurmi was a cleaner and was appointed by driver and he did not make his appointment. He went away leaving his job with other strikers.

P.W. 14, Shri Butto Krishna Banerjee, was also a cleaner of O.P.W. 7. Shri Banerjee said that he was refused employment by O.P.W. 7, who denies it. Shri Kristo Pada Roy, a bus conductor in service of O.P.W. 7, comes for a different case and for different reliefs. He said that he participated in the strike and was, therefore, refused employment. O.P.W. 7 said that Shri Roy also left the service, 3 or 4 days before the strike, and was not dismissed. He did not come for work. He further said that Shri Butto Krishna Banerjee was also not dismissed but resigned from service long before strike.

P.W. 16, Shri Sahadev Mahato, is in service of Shri Quasim Ali's bus. He said that he was refused employment for joining the strike. O.P.W. 3, Shri Quasim Ali, said that Shri Mahato was temporarily appointed in a temporary vacancy when Shri Pagal Chandra Durlava, a permanent cleaner, went on leave. Shri Mahato left the service when Shri Durlava rejoined his duties, about four months before the strike.

I am inclined to hold on this evidence that these employees were not dismissed by the bus owners as alleged by the Union and, therefore, they are not entitled to reinstatement. This disposes of all the alleged dismissal from the services by the bus owners.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

PRESENT:

SHRI J N. MAITRA, Judge, Third Industrial Tribunal.

For the Sabha: Shri Narayan Das Gupta.

AWARD

By order No. 4781-I.R./D/11L-349/56, dated the 8th November 1956, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs M. G. Shahani & Co. (Cal.), Ltd. 3 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta-13, and one of their workmen Shri Mannalal Parekh represented by Paschim Bengal Gumasta Sabha, J535 Paharpur Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd Februray 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties put in appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 4th January 1957. The parties were thereafter directed to file lists of documents. Then after adjournments the dispute was heard and award was reserved.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:

Whether the termination of service of Shri Mannalal Parekh was justified? What relief is he entitled to?

DECISION

Paschim Bengal Gumasta Sabha (hereafter called the Union) examined the workman concerned, Shri Mannalal Parekh (P.W. 1), besides proving correspondences [Exts. 1 to 1(i) and 2 to 2(f)] Messrs. M. G. Shahani & Co. (Cal.), Ltd. (hereafter called the Company), on the other hand, examined the Manager, D.W. 1 Shri Daulatram Dharamdas Kripalani and a representative of Messrs. Pearline Paris Private Ltd., Bombay, D.W. 2 Shri A. D. Shanbhha.

The Company deals in various toilet goods, perfumeries, cosmetics and other luxury goods. It was formerly a proprietory concern which was established before 1937. In 1948 separate companies out of the said parent concern were formed and incorporated under the Indian Companies Act for Calcutta, Bombay, Karachi and Delhi. The Calcutta Company with which we are concerned under the present reference employed in all about 25 to 30 workmen at the relevant time.

P.W. 1 Shri Mannalal Parekh was a salesman in the concern having had served for 8 years. His last salary was Rs. 167 per month.

Employment of Shri Mannalal Parekh in this concern according to both sides ceased from 19th July 1955. According to the Company the workman submitted his resignation on 19th July 1955 and thus put an end to his own employment, while according to the workman the Company terminated his employment on the false plea of resignation on 19th July 1955 although, in fact, he did not resign. From the correspondences, oral evidence and circumstances neither version seems to me wholly correct. The workman, it appears, was not satisfied with his lot in the Company and was giving vent to it by saying now and then that he would not continue. Although the workman denied having resigned on 19th July 1955, the evidence and circumstances rather show that having been agitated and excited for reasons best known to him, he as in the past, expressed his intention to resign and accordingly made over the order book to the Managing Director on 19th July 1955. The fact that he admittedly returned the order book on that day coupled with the fact that he left the office soon after and did not turn up for duty thereafter would support that there was such expression of intention on his part to resign. P. W. 2 who was present at the time deposed that P. W. 1 came to the Managing Director, had a heated discussion with him and the Manager of the Company and then said that he would not work with them any more. His evidence cannot be discarded merely because his principal has business connection with the Company. The workman has no satisfactory explanation why he made over the order book on 19th July 1955 more so when he had not admittedly done so in the past at the time of going on leave on the ground of illness (influenza). So the alleged illness on the present occassion could not have been obviously the ground for such return of the order book. It rather appears that having expressed his intention not to continue any more, he made over the order book in pursuance thereof. From the evidence I am also unable to believe that he left the office on 19th July 1955 and continued to be absent thereafter due to his illness. According to his own showing he became ill at home before coming to office, and so it was more natural for him to come to office fortified with a medical certificate as he had admittedly done on the previous occasion for taking leave on the ground of having got influenza. The story of illness on 19th July 1955 is afterthought and unreliable. Dr. C. M. Saha who is alleged to have attended and treated him for alleged illness from 19th July 1955 has not been examined and no explanation has been given for the same. The evidence of the workman (P.W. 1) on the contrary shows that another doctor Shri Prokash Ghosh who had attended him on the last occasion and granted medical certificate is his close neighbour living at a distance of 5 to 7 minutes' walk. So had he fallen ill on 19th July 1955, it was more natural that he would have been attended by self-same doctor who is his close neighbour.

This time the workman, however, got a medical certificate 8 days after (i.e., long after the controversy started on 21st July 1955) from a different doctor, Shri C. M. Saha who lives not in the locality but in Lower Chitpore area more than 5 miles away from his residence. The said doctor, it has already been noted, has not either been examined to support workman's claim of illness or to take responsibility for certificate. The workman's evidence that he did not express his intention to resign on 19th July 1955 cannot, therefore, be accepted as reliable in view of the circumstances.

At the same time the case of the employer Company that there had been absolute resignation by the workman and the matter ended on 19th July 1955 and no option was left to the workman to revoke it, cannot be accepted as making a full and correct disclosure. There can be no doubt from the circumstances that the workman although expressed himself on 19th July 1955 not to continue in the employment of the concern, did so express not out of his own free will or volition but having had heated discussion with the Managing Director and the Manager of the Company. It further appears that the said verbal expression of not continuing any more was not accepted by the management on that date (19th July 1955) or until 21st July 1955 (vide Ext. 1). According to the management after the workman expressed his desire not to continue any more in their service, he was asked to reconsider and was eventually asked to tender his resignation in writing. This would show that the matter was not concluded on 19th July 1955 and the workman was given option to review the matter and revoke resignation, if necessary. The workman admittedly did not thereafter tender his resignation in writing. On 21st July 1955 the Managing Director wrote to inform the workman that in pursuance of the conversation which he had with the workman on 19th July 1955 his resignation was thereby accepted. The workman was also asked by the said letter to hand over the stationery and other office papers in his possession and also to receive salary for days he worked in July 1955 (Ext. 1). No sooner the workman received the said communication he protested having resigned, and questioned the right of the employer to terminate his employment. It was not unnatural. After having asked the workman to tender his resignation in writing and thus having given him option in the matter, it was not fair or proper on the part of the Managing Director to terminate employment of the workman on the allegation of the anterior verbal resignation when the letter of resignation as was required was not forthcoming. The fact that the workman did not send resignation in writing and on the contrary, protested immediately on receipt of the communication (Ext. 1), would show that he repudiated the resignation for which option was given to him by the management. The action of the management was not, therefore, bona fide. It is not unlikely that it did so having grown wiser in order to get rid of the workman, who was not satisfied with his lot in the concern though drawing a higher salary of Rs. 167 per month. That it was from an ulterior motive is apparent from the fact that the action was taken prior to submission of the required resignation letter in writing. The circumstances that the parties intended a subsequent letter of resignation to be made, are evidence to show that they did not intend the previous conversation on 19th July 1955 to amount to an agreement and to put an end of the matter. If one is permitted to say so, there was only proposal on the part of the workman not to continue in service of the Company on 19th July 1955. The said proposal according to the evidence and circumstances was not accepted and the Company in its turn made a counter-proposal whereby the workman was asked to reconsider the matter and he was eventually told to tender resignation in writing. This amounted to nothing more than a new proposal or as it frequently called counter-offer and not absolute and unqualified acceptance. There can be no agreement without a complete acceptance of the proposal. Acceptance with a variation is no acceptance. So, the management in the absence of written resignation had no justification to terminate the employment of the workman as it did on 21st July 1955. After having asked the workman to review and submit resignation in writing the management should not have made anterior verbal resignation which according to their own witness (D. W. 2) was a result of heated discussion and consequently not out of free will or volition as a basis for termination of the employment of the workman. So on examination of the whole of the correspondences, oral evidence and circumstances, it appears that the termination of service of Shri Mannalal Parekh was not justified. As it, however, appears that Shri Parekh was dissatisfied with his lot in the Company and had in the past expressed himself not to continue in the concern and has since termination of employment got better job with higher salary in another concern, I think that it will be to the interest of all concerned that there should be no order for reinstatement. Having regard to all facts and circumstances, it appears that ends of justice will be met if the workman be awarded compensation equivalent to 4 months' salary as last drawn by him in the concern. The Company is accordingly directed to pay the compensation within a month from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Regarding preliminary objection taken by the Company that what has been referred to is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) but is pure and simple individual dispute, I am unable to sustain it. The evidence no doubt shows that the workmen of the concern have no Union of their own nor are they members of Paschim Bangal Gumasta Sabha nor did any of them take up the cause of the workman but this by itself would not take away the dispute out of the category of industrial dispute. An individual dispute may nonetheless develop into an industrial dispute as defined in section 2(k) of the Act if the said dispute is taken up by any Union, of which he is a member. [vide (1953) S.C.A 303; (1956) 11 F.J.R. 298; 60 C.W.N. 356 and (1957-58) 12 F.J.R. 129]. In the present case it appears that Paschim Bangal Gumasta Sabha is a registered Union for workmen employed in similar or allied trades and that the workman Shri Mannalal Parekh has been its member from before termination of his employment in question. The records of conciliation proceeding show that the said Union took up the cause of the workman and made it its own and obtained the reference on his behalf. So in view of the decisions as aforesaid, I find that the dispute referred to has, in the circumstances, got converted into an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Act.

This is my award.

According to the written statement filed on behalf of the workers there was great irregularity in the payment of their wages. The workers did not receive their wages month by month or according to any fixed dates. This unsatisfactory state of affairs cannot be allowed to continue and payment should be directed to be made within 7th of every month.

As no retiring benefit has been provided the assistance of the Tribunal is sought to secure relief in that regard.

An artificial distinction was made treating some of the men as employees of the Company and 138 workers are supposed to be employees of contractors. In the written statement this was described as a "false contract system" designed by the Company to divide the workers into two camps. The so-called contract system should be abolished and the 138 men should be treated as direct employees of the Company.

Sixteen workers were illegally retrenched in July 1954. The Union demands their reinstatement together with compensation.

The Company admitted in the written statement that wages could not be paid regularly. At present wages are being paid monthly but not on any fixed date.

Regarding retiring benefit, it was pleaded that the business of the Company was going downhill. B. N. Railway used to give contracts to this Company but of late no such contract is being given. The loss of this contract has resulted in loss to the extent of 60 per cent. of the total business. There were differences amongst the partners. One of the partners cut off his connection with the business and another wanted dissolution. The other three partners however stuck to the business in expectation of fair days. For overdraft loans received from the Central Bank of India a suit was filed in the High Court at Calcutta and a receiver was appointed by the Hon'ble Court in 1949 who was in possession of the management of the business till March 1954. There were other liabilities which could not be discharged and various proceedings were started against this Company. Against this background demand for retiring benefits would be disastrous.

This Company has a number of contactors. In regard to certain types of work it engages the services of contractors who recruit their own employees, exercise control over them and get the work done. With regard to these men the Company has no responsibility and no power of supervision or control. The 138 men whose case comes before the Tribunal on reference belong to this category. There is absolutely no reason why they should be treated as direct employees of the Company.

For financial reasons the Company had to retrench some workers. Some of them accepted their dues in full settlement and left for good.

DECISION

Issue No. 3: On a literal construction, the point as framed takes for granted that the 138 workers named in List A are not direct employees of the Company. The Tribunal has to give its decision whether they should be treated as direct employees. If the issue is construed in this limited sense the Union has no case at all. Once it is admitted that there are two classes of workers, one class being direct employees and another class employed by contractors, there must be very strong reason for the Tribunal to interfere with the internal management of the Company and dictate how its affairs should be conducted. Nothing has been suggested or proved on behalf of the Union why the contract system should be abolished and the men employed by the contractors placed in service under the Company.

The real intention appears however to be that the Tribunal should make an investigation as to whether the men supposed to be employees of the contractors are really employees of the Company kept apart by some contrivance for ulterior motives. If this is an artificial distinction this may be removed if the Tribunal finds that as a matter of fact these people are employees of the Company. Reading the issue in this light I proceed to embank on an enquiry whether these workers are Company's men or employees of the contractors.

That some sort of distinction is being made and the men are not being treated as employees of the Company is admitted in the written statement of the Union. In paragraph 6 at page 1 the system is described as "false contract system". In second paragraph at page 3 it is stated that the Union had demanded abolition of the so-called contract system. The Company has in its written statement at page 5, mentioned the names of the seven persons who are said to be contractors. According to the Union these men are Supervisors of the different sections. The men engaged in these departments work under them, not as their employees but as persons over whom they have got powers of supervision. Exhibits J and J(1) are the contractors' rate books. The books are hallowed by age. On examination of the contents I find that there were contractors for different varieties of work. They engaged their own staff to carry out the work. As for instance, at page 184 of Ext. J in paragraph 11 the contractor stipulated that the Firm could pay his staff from his bills or he would himself pay his staff in presence of the Company's accountant. Similar provision was made with another contractor at page 166. Similar provisions appear in other contracts recorded in Ext. J(1). Exhibit K series are bills submitted by contractors. Existence of the contract system has been proved. It will appear from Ext. J(1) that Motilal Gupta named in the written statement had obtained contract along with Mobarak Ali in 1935. Contract was again given to him in 1936 as will appear from the entry towards the end of the book. Tafazzal Hossain got a contract in 1950 as will appear from Ext. J. On behalf of the Union all this was sought to be rebutted pay books Ext. 2 series in which Motilal Gupta and Tafazzal Hossain are named as employees drawing fixed salary. In Ext. 2 Motilal Gupta was described as compositor-in-charge drawing Rs. 125 inclusive of pay and allowances. In Ext. 2(a) Taffazal Hossain is shown as drawing Rs. 105 plus Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. It was also pointed out that Motilal Gupta received increments of pay. In the pay sheet Ext. 2(b) for the year 1952, his pay is noted as Rs. 275 plus Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. An argument was advanced that if he were a contractor there cannot be such wages and increment to boot. Learned spokesman for the Union referred also to the attendance registers in which names of all the workers were entered. So far as the attendance registers are concerned the Company's reply is that under the Factories Act names of all the persons working in the factory must be recorded in the register. In regard to the pay sheet, the learned Advocate for the Company offered the explanation that for purposes of calculating contribution due from the employer under the Employees' State Insurance Corporation Act some wages were to be taken as the basis. It was for that purpose alone that wages were recorded in the pay sheets. I am not impressed with this argument because Employees' State Insurance Act came into operation on the 14th of August 1955. Exhibit 2 is the pay sheet for the year 1940 and Ext. 2(a) is the pay sheet for the year 1952, so is also the pay sheet Ext. 2(b). Wages were not certainly recorded against the names of the contractors so far back for purpose of calculation of contribution as suggested. The truth appears to me to lie in between the rival versions. That Motilal, Tafazzal and others were contractors admits of no doubt because of the entries in Exts. J and J(1). It may be that these people also accepted appointment under the Company and became their employees. While working as employees of the Company they were also given the advantage of accepting contracts as before. So they filled dual capacity, viz., that of employees of the Company and at the same time Contractors to carry on business as a side line engaging their own staff for executing the orders. That seems to be the probable explanation of the conflicting position as brought out in the evidence. Stress was laid on leave application made by Tafazzal Hossain (Ext. 1). Leave with pay was allowed. Since, in my view, he was both an employee and contractor there is nothing strange that he had to obtain leave for his absence. The Union spokesman referred to a case reported in 1955, L.A.C., page 686. In that case it was proved that the management paid bonus to the coolies who were said to be employees of the contractor just as it paid bonus to its other employees. Annual leave according to the Factories Act and leave on sustaining injuries were granted by the management to these coolies and payment for the same was also made. On these facts their Lordships held that they were inconsistent with the position that these men were employed by a contractor. The case before me can claim no parity with the case cited. It is not proved that any bonus was paid to the workers or leave was granted to the workers by the Company. Dearness allowance at the same rate was no doubt paid but it is not established that payment was made by the Company out of its own funds. The materials available are not sufficient for the finding that the men, who admittedly were not treated as the Company's employees, were really their employees. In this connection reference may be made to a decision made by the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act before whom claim for wages was made by a large number of workers including some who were supposed to be the contractor's men. The Company took up the defence with regard to those men that they were employees of the contractors and their wages had been paid by them. The Authority under the Payment of Wages Act recorded a clear finding that they were the employees of the contractors (vide Ext. B at page 18). Though the principle of res judicata is not fully applicable an analogous principle does in fact apply. The judgment Ext. B is a very strong piece of evidence in the present case. Taken in conjunction with the evidence I have discussed above it clinches the issue. In my judgment the Union has failed to prove that these workers are employees of the Company. They cannot therefore be treated as direct employees of the Company.

Issue No. 4: The Company has produced its balance-sheets to prove that the business suffered heavy losses. The balance-sheets were not subjected to scrutiny by any auditor. No much reliance can therefore be placed upon these balance-sheets. There is however evidence that B. N. Railway contract was lost. According to O.P.W. 1 about 60 per cent. of the Company's work was thus lost. No materials were supplied in corroboration of the statement regarding the extent of loss of work. It is in evidence that wages were not paid to workers and applications were made before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act. The Company was indebted to the Central Bank of India. As payment could not be made a suit was filed in the Hon'ble High Court and a receiver was appointed who was in charge up to 1954. The business was hampered by dissensions amongst the partners. For arrears of income-tax the Press was attached (see Ext. C4). Attachment has been withdrawn on the Company's prayer for time to pay. A case is pending, according to O.P.W. 1, for the employee's share of the contribution to the State Insurance Corporation (see Ext. C5). Exhibits C to C(3) are notices issued by the Calcutta Corporation for arrears of taxes. The Company seems to have liabilities on a large scale. On behalf of the Union its representative advanced an argument that the Company collected the employees' share of contribution under the Employees' State Insurance Act but did not pay the same. The Company recovered sales tax but did not make payment in discharge of its own liabilities. It was on account of its own acts of omission that proceedings for recovery of arrears were started. Though there is some force in this contention it must be borne in mind that a normal being does not make default in payment of inescapable liabilities and incur the risk of harassment by proceedings if it has the means to keep clear of all these trouble. Though the Company may have been guilty of acts of improvidence one cannot blink the fact that it was hedged round by different kinds of liabilities for large amounts. The loss of B. N. Railway contract made the situation still more precarious. P.W. 4 has admitted in his evidence that actually there was fall in business. In these circumstances I must hold that the Company had ample grounds for making retrenchment.

The next question is whether the retrenched employees are entitled to relief under section 25(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act. One of the arguments advanced on behalf of the Company was that some of the men were extremely old. They were not capable of further service. In their case section 25F cannot be applicable. Reference was made to the definition of retrenchment in the Industrial Disputes Act. Retrenchment means the termination by the employer of the service of a workman for any reason whatsoever otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action, but does not include—

(a) Voluntary retirement of the workman, or

(b) retirement of the workman on reaching the age of superannuation if the contract of employment between the employer and the workman concerned contains a stipulation in that behalf, or

(c) termination of the service of a workman on the ground of continued ill-health.

Since there is no case of any stipulation in the contract of employment for retirement on attainment of any particular age, the retrenchment in the case of old employees must be held to be retrenchment as defined in the Act. There is no reason why they should not get relief as provided in section 25F.

Reinstatement and compensation have been claimed by the Union but some of the employees have expressed unwillingness to go back to work. They wanted retrenchment compensation. The Company gave evidence that a notice was issued to some of these workers to come back and join. Exhibit D is the notice. Only Sital Das actually turned up and joined. As regards the others, the Company has not proved to the satisfaction of the Tribunal that such notice was actually served. Noor Mohammed, supposed to be one of the persons served with this notice, denied service on him. Even if the workers were recalled and they declined to go back on the ground that they would be treated as appointed afresh and would thus lose the benefit of their past services, the Company cannot evade its liability to pay compensation for retrenchment already effected. Noor Mohammad, who heads the List B was appointed on 22nd November 1944 (vide Ext. A). This contradicts the statement of Noor Mohammed that he was appointed in 1935 or 1936. At the date of his retrenchment (14th July 1954) by notice Ext. 3(a), he was drawing Rs. 47 as basic pay and Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. He will receive one month's wages for want of notice and compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months.

Osman Goni admitted that he was recalled but he declined to join as he was told that it would be a fresh appointment and not in continuation of his past service. He wanted compensation. Osman Goni's evidence is that he was appointed in 1947. O.P.W. 1 did not supply his joining date or deny that he had been appointed in 1947. In the written statement it is said that he was appointed on 8th March 1948, but no evidence has been given in support of the statement. He was drawing Rs. 53 as basic pay and Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. His services were terminated on the 14th July 1954 by notice Ext. 3(b). He was not given one month's notice pay and will therefore get one month's wages for want of notice and compensation equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months. He will be treated as having joined his appointment on 8th March 1947.

Abdul Aziz (serial No. 3) is dead. No relief has been claimed on his behalf.

Balai Ch. Dey was appointed on 20th November 1944. At the time of retrenchment he was drawing Rs. 43 as basic pay and Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. His services were terminated on 14th July 1954. He will receive one month's wages for want of proper notice and compensation at the same rate as the others, viz., equivalent to 15 days' average pay for every completed year of service or any part thereof in excess of six months.

Abdul Latif (1).—In the written statement of the Company Abdul Latif is described as probationer ink-man appointed on 8th December 1953 and discharged on 14th July 1954. But in his evidence O.P.W. 1 stated that Abdul Latif became a direct employee of the Company on 3rd December 1951. He was drawing Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 22 as dearness allowance at the time of termination of his service. Accepting the statement made before the Tribunal I hold that he was in service from 3rd December 1951. He will get one month's wages for want of notice and compensation at the rate stated above.

Sk. Aziz.—He was appointed on 23rd May 1950 and was retrenched on 14th July 1954. At that time he was drawing Rs. 30 as basic pay and Rs. 22 as dearness allowance. He will also get one month's wages for want of notice and compensation at the same rate as the others whose case has been dealt with above.

Serial Nos. 7 to 11 [Abdul Bari, Abdul Sadaque, Abdul Latif (II), Bhabesh Chakraborty and Ahmed Khan] are said by the Company to be contractors' employees who have been discharged by them. Among these workmen only Abdul Bari gave evidence before the Tribunal. He claimed to be a direct employee of this Company. It appears that the Company issued notice of retrenchment on its direct employees. Abdul Bari admitted that he received no written notice of retrenchment. He was therefore not treated as an employee of the Company. In the absence of anything to the contrary I accept the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that these five workers were employees of the contractors and discharged by them. The Company is not bound to pay any retrenchment compensation to them.

Anil Ganguly.—According to the evidence of O.P.W. 1 he was attacked with smallpox and went on leave. Application for extension was made on 21st March 1955. The prayer was granted but he did not join after the expiry of the period of leave and did not also apply for further extension. Exhibit E is the application filed by him on 21st March 1955. As he did not return to duty his services were terminated by his own act of abandonment. This is not a case of retrenchment.

Dipti Banerjee.—He was appointed on 1st March 1952. According to O.P.W. 1 he quitted the job and did not come back to resume his duty. Application (Ext. A1) was made by him for wages due to him. This was granted. Exhibit F is the receipt granted for payment made to him. He has not appeared before the Tribunal to controvert the statement made in the written statement that he had relinquished the job. This is not also a case of retrenchment.

Subodh Ghosal.—He was appointed on 25th August 1939 and retrenched on 10th July 1954. Exhibit F(1) is a receipt granted by him for payments made to him which he accepted in final settlement of all his dues. It was specifically stated that he would have no claim in the future of any sort against the Company. His claim must therefore fail.

Hariday Khanara.—He was appointed on 2nd September 1942 and retrenched on 10th July 1954. Exhibit F(2) is a receipt granted by him for payments accepted by him in full and final settlement of all his dues. He debarred himself in express terms from making any further claim in future of any sort against the Company. His claim for compensation must accordingly fail.

Robindra Bagchi.—He was appointed on 5th March 1943 and was retrenched on 10th July 1954. Exhibit F(3) is receipt granted by him for payments accepted in full and final settlement of all his dues from the Company. In clear terms he had precluded himself from making further claim of any sort against the Company in future. He cannot therefore claim any compensation now. In regard to this employee, an argument was pressed that the principle of "last come, first go" was not observed as one Subodh Chakraborty who is junior to him has been given preference and kept in service. The evidence however shows that the work that Subodh Chakraborty has been doing cannot be performed by Robindra Bagchi unless he gets training for a period of one year. Because of his incapacity at the present moment to take the job the Company should be held justified in making the distinction and departing from the principles of "last come, first go".

The Company made much of the notice Ext. D alleged to have been sent to six retrenched employees recalling them to join again. It is said in the written statement that they did not join. In the first place I must say that even the employees who are said in the written statement to be decrepit and incapable of further service have ben recalled by this notice. Balai Chandra Roy has been described in the written statement as a mischievous person who was in the habit of inciting workers to go on strike. Though he was, in the estimation of the Company, an undesirable person the notice is alleged to have been sent to him also for resumption of duty. This is hardly worthy of credit. Secondly, the notice is dated 4th January 1955. Retrenchment was effected on 10th July 1954 and 14th July 1954. If the retrenched people somehow or other secured other appointments within this long interval they cannot be expected to quit the job and come back to serve an employer whose business according to his own showing was on the down-grade. Their unwillingness to come back cannot be a ground for refusing the relief due to them under the law.

The compensation awarded to the workers named above must be paid within three weeks from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

Issue No. 1: It is agreed that the wages would be paid by the 7th of every English calendar month. This arrangement will be operative from the month of September 1957.

Issue No. 2: Financial weakness was pleaded on behalf of the Company to avoid the responsibility of making provision for retiring benefits. It is admitted by both parties that the Employees' Provident Fund Act applies to this establishment. The Company is therefore directed to introduce Provident Fund Scheme in accordance with the said Act within three months of the publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette unless exempted by Government from the operation of the Act.

The Union representative urged that for the uncovered period gratuity should be made available. As I have already pointed that the concern is fighting against heavy odds, so far as its financial position is concerned, it would not be expedient to grant the prayer for further relief in the form of gratuity.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Motor Works (Proprietor—Shri Rajani Kanto Deashi), 66 Hazra Road, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Automobile Engineering Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII—52 of 1957.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company: Shri N. D. Manna, Counsel.

This industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Motor Works (Proprietor—Shri Rajani Kanto Deashi) (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 66 Hazra Road, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Automobile Engineering Workers' Union, 249 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, regarding the following issues, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 547-I.R./IR/10L-2/57, dated the 19th February 1957.

Both parties filed written statements, adduced evidence—oral and documentary—and advanced arguments, in this case.

Issues

(1) Whether the retrenchment of the workmen named in the attached list is justified. What relief are they entitled to? (The attached list is given as per Appendix A to this award.)

(2) Whether the disciplinary action taken against Shri Gour Mohan Koley, Mistry, is justified? What relief is he entitled to?

(3) Whether the discharge of Shri Narayan Chandra Dhara is justified? What relief is he entitled to?

FINDINGS

A list of retrenched workmen, attached to the order of reference, shows that 49 workmen were retrenched by this Company. Serial Nos. 1 to 42 of the list were retrenched on 8th October 1956, and serial Nos. 43 to 49 on 19th December 1956. The Union's case is that the workmen had organised a Union in September 1956 for redress of their grievances against the Management of this Company. The Management, however, retrenched the said workmen without notice, without charge-sheet, and also without assigning any reason whatsoever. The Company's contention is that the retrenchment was done for bona fide trade reasons. This was necessary as there was reduction of work, and that some of the workmen had adopted a "go-slow" tactics to put the Company into a loss in the business. In the additional written statement the Company contends that the issue No. 1 in the order of reference is bad in law, for, the dispute was finally settled and concluded by an agreement, dated 15th October 1956, and the workmen are, therefore, estopped from raising the issue again. The Union, on the other hand, denies the existence of such an agreement and puts the Company to its strict proof. The agreement is said to be embodied in the two documents, viz., Exts. 2 and 3, same as Exts. C and D. Exhibit C is a copy of a letter of demands which some of the workmen had placed before the Management on 15th October 1956. This appears to be signed and thumb-marked by 41 workmen. Exhibit D is the reply of the Management to the said letter of demands. Exhibit D appears to be signed by two witnesses besides the proprietor of the Company. The witnesses are (i) Shri Rajani Kumar Mitra, said to be a communist leader and (ii) Shri Arabindo Das, is the son-in-law of the proprietor. Shri Mitra is not an employee of this Company. His connection with the workmen in dispute could not be established. Only five workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference are said to have signed this list of demands. The Union's contention, however, is that none of the workmen actually signed this list. In this state of evidence, I fail to see how the two documents can be said to constitute an agreement binding on the workmen involved in this dispute. One broad point is that this was supposed to be made at a time when conciliation proceedings were pending. One further fact is that this alleged agreement refers to acceptance of demands made by "the striking employees" who joined duties at 1-30 p.m. on 15th December 1956. It is not reasonable to believe that the settlement would be made privately, and not before the Conciliation Officer, before whom the matter was then pending. Further, the striking employees who had joined on 15th October 1956 could not be identically the same workmen who had been retrenched on 8th October 1956. Therefore, I find that the two documents mentioned above, do not constitute any agreement which is binding on the workmen concerned in this dispute. Accordingly, the reference of Issue No. 1 cannot be said to be bad in law.

Further, a valid agreement binds the parties only in respect of the issues specifically settled by it. It cannot have any application to matters extraneous to it. A glance at Ext. C, list of demands and Ext. D, the acceptance on behalf of the Management would show that among others the demand was made on behalf of the retrenched employees for payment of wages for leave due under the Factories Act. This cannot have any reasonable connection with the justification or otherwise of the disputed retrenchment and payment for compensation for that. In any view, the alleged agreement can never operate as a bar to the adjudication of this dispute.

In the next place, it has been contended that the workmen are estopped from contesting this issue after having received payment in terms of the agreement from the Management. In this connection P.W. 1 proves a receipt of payment (Ext. Q) by Shri Lalit Halder (serial No. 4 of the order of reference). The receipt shows payment of wages for 3 days' leave for 1956 under the Factories Act. O.P.W. 2 Shri Halder admits this payment. Under section 79 of the Factories Act, every worker who works for a period of 240 days or more in a factory during the calender year shall be allowed during the subsequent year leave with wages for a number of days. The said payment shows two things, viz., (i) Shri Halder worked for more than 240 days, i.e., 8 months in 1955 and (ii) he must have worked in 1956 as well. Shri Halder's evidence is that he had been in service for about 7 years before his retrenchment, whereas according to Ext. B, the Company's statement on length of service, shows that Shri Halder only worked for 36 days before his retrenchment. This is inconsistent with the accepted position regarding his service under the aforesaid payment. Accordingly, this payment does not estop Shri Halder from raising the issue No. 1 in this case. The issue relates to different matters.

Of 49 workmen, mentioned in the list, who were retrenched by the Company, the Union does not press for adjudication of cases of the following workmen, viz., serial No. 31, Shri Sakhanath Roy, serial No. 32, Shri Saroj Sarkar and serial No. 42, Shri Suresh Karmakar. I, therefore, find that there is no outstanding dispute between these three workmen and the company and I award accordingly.

It is admitted that serial Nos. 7, Shri Brojen Das, 17, Shri Motleb Ali, 18, Shri Latif Ali were reinstated in service and actually working with this Company. So no question of reinstatement of these employees would in any event arise for consideration of the Tribunal.

Question now is whether the retrenchment of the remaining workmen for "trade reasons" is justified. The onus to prove this justification is now on the management. We are concerned with the retrenchment of two batches of workers made on 8th October 1956 and 19th December 1956. This was done after short notice of 7 days. The first batch of 41 workers were retrenched purely on the ground of reduction of work, specially due to reduction in the number of orders received in the month of September. The second batch was retrenched on two grounds, viz., (i) for reduction of work, and (ii) for adopting "go-slow" tactics.

I can at once dispose of the additional ground of the alleged adoption of "go-slow" tactics by seven workers by saying that none of them was charge-sheeted for the said "go-slow" tactics. No previous warning was given to them in writing in respect of the alleged "go-slow" tactics to the workers. P.W. 1, proprietor, speaks of the "go-slow" movement without referring to any statement or register showing the extent of work done at the time of retrenchment, and that previous to it. I am unable to accept the charge of "go-slow" against the retrenched workmen in the absence of further evidence to substantiate the charge.

The moot question is whether there was any necessity to undertake this retrenchment at the relevant time, i.e., whether there was any real reduction of work due to alleged fall in the number of orders received in the month of September. The Union's contention must also be kept in view, i.e., this retrenchment was made on extraneous considerations. They were victimised for their Union activities. P.W. 2, Shri Lalit Halder, the only witness on the Union's side, on this point said that this retrenchment was effected about 2 or 3 days before the Pujas when the work in the Factory was going on in full swing, and that there was no reduction of work. He also said that the workers junior to him were retained in service whereas senior workers with longer period of service were retrenched. The witness was cross-examined, but not on this point. P.W. 1 Shri Rajani Kanto Deashi is the proprietor of this Company. He said that in the month of September 1956 he had very few work to execute at hand. He had smaller number of orders in hands in the previous month also. Accordingly, towards the end of September 1956 he decided to retrench some of his staff due to reduction of work, and issued a notice Ext. A. Exhibit A shows that the workmen were given 7 days' notice to go on leave for paucity of work in the factory. The wording of this notice, strictly speaking, do not support the Proprietor's evidence before the Tribunal. But then, the Ext. A need not be construed literally. It may be taken as an intimation to the workers beforehand that their services would not be required at the end of 7 days from the date of notice due to dearth of work. The notice falls short of the requirement of the statute. But then, it is there. P.W. 4 Shri Ghose, the Manager of the firm, does not speak anything useful on this point. He proves Ext. M, a statement of work done in the year 1956, prepared from the Company's books of accounts. His other evidence is that the accounts are maintained for submission of Income-tax statement, and that the Income-tax paid for the year 1362 B.S. was more than what was paid in the previous year. He also said that no Income-tax was paid in 1363 B.S., viz., the year in dispute. It is, therefore, not possible to say whether there was any actual reduction of income in the year in question. It is also not the Company's case. The Company did not produce their accounts of the year. It produces a rough and ready hand book of orders supposed to have been received in 1956. Exhibit N appears to be written afresh by P.W. 4, Shri Ghose.

Actual orders received by the Company, which are in its custody at present, are not forthcoming to show the actual state of affairs. That would have corroborated Ext. N. in spite of its suspicious appearance. This important evidence has been withheld. The necessary presumption is that they would not support the Company's story if they were produced.

Next, we come to the other evidence on the Company's side on this point. The Company has produced three Registers in this Case. Exhibit L is the Attendance-cum-pay Register for office staff. It records the attendence of five employees actually employed in the office. Exhibit I is the Bengali Attendance Register and Ext. R is the Register of adult workers, maintained under the Factories Act. These two Registers do not agree. Exhibit R shows that the total number of employees working in each month of August, September and October was 27 only, whereas the Ext. I shows that in September and October, corresponding to Bhadra and Aswin, 66 and 73 workers respectively were employed in the Factory. According to Ext. I, 29 workers worked in Kartic (equal to November) whereas Ext. R shows that 56 workers worked in that month. No endeavour was made to reconcile the discrepancies in the two Registers. Exhibit M, the statement of work done in 1956, apparently prepared on the basis of Ext. N, shows that the total work done in August was worth of Rs. 37,377-15-6 only and in September Rs. 1,750 only, and in October Rs. 18,424 only. The value of total work done in 1956 is, according to Ext. N, about Rs. 2,81,108-2 only. The value of orders pending at the time of retrenchment of the first batch of 42 workers on 8th October 1956 would be about Rs. 63,085 only. Therefore, it follows that at the time of retrenchment on the first batch of workers, a substantial portion of about more than one-fourth of the total work done in 1956 was pending for execution in the workshop. This work was executed by the end of November. Further, if the Attendance Registers have got to be believed, the Company employed 66 and 73 workers in September and October respectively. There were new recruitments also. According to Ext. R, more than double the number of adult workers were employed in December and January after the retrenchment. In fact, on 8th July 1957 about 54 workers were found doing work in the workshop. It is said, on behalf of the Company, that only 11 out of 54 workmen are in its direct employment and that the remaining employees are in the service of contractors. That any work is done with the help of the contractor is not stated anywhere in the two written statements filed by the Company. This is a new case, and naturally the Union very seriously criticised it. We will come to it hereafter. It appears from Ext. H, a letter written by the Auto Distributors Ltd., one of the principal customers of the Company, that a good number of orders was pending for a long time, and that prompt execution was insisted upon under threat of cancellation of orders. P.W. 2, Shri Pandit, Manager of the Company, proved this letter (Ext. H) and said that it was the first letter of its kind. In any case, this letter shows two things, viz., (i) clear notice of 7 days to finish the arrears and (ii) that 3 or 4 months ago, a number of orders were pending for execution. This naturally take us to near the date of retrenchment of the first batch of workers. Despite all these, the second batch of workers was considered surplus and was retrenched within 7 days of the date of the letter. An analysis of this evidence does not show that there was in actual fact any appreciable amount of reduction of work at the time of retrenchment. The Company does not plead any other ground in support of this retrenchment. It is not its case that it suffered loss or diminution of profits at that time. It is the Union's case that since September these workers were trying to organise themselves into a Union which, if fact, was registered sometime in December next. There was another Union previous to that which looked after their interest. The Union's case is that these workers were victimised for their Union activities. I find that these workmen were victimised and were retrenched for extraneous consideration and not for bona fide trade reasons.

A last minute attempt was made to prove that there was no work for the employees who were directly in employment under the Company at the time of retrenchment, and that the contractor's workmen were doing the pending works as before. Question is whether this Company actually carried on business, on the relevant dates of retrenchment, through the agency of the contractors. As stated above, the Company did not say a word about it in its otherwise elaborate written statements. It is after Shri Pathak's visit and in course of the hearing of this case that the Company invented the story that work was being done through contractor's labour to explain away the employment of a large number of employees. P.W. 1 said that his principal work was body building for buses, cars and lorries. His main work was confined to Carpenter's side. His own men did the timber work only and smith's work was done by the contractor. He said further that additional workmen were employed on temporary basis, paid at daily rates, whenever a large number of orders were received. These workmen were relieved as soon as the work was executed. In cross-examination he admitted that tinsmith and blacksmith work were done by the contractor's men and that some work of the blacksmith were done by his men and it was only the new work which was given to contractor's men and that his men did the repair work. At the same time he said that the tinsmith work was also done by his men. He examined P.W. 7, Shri Krishna Pada Naskar, to prove this. P.W. 7 said that he had been working as a contractor in this business for about 20 years. He received orders verbally from the Company and payments were also acknowledged verbally. No bills were submitted for this work and no receipt was signed or filed. He had no papers to show that he employed labour to do work in this Company. No contract of employment was proved. P.W. 7 contradicts P.W. 1. P.W. 1 said that he had received other papers, not produced here, to show that contractors were employed to do a part of his regular work. On this evidence, it is not possible to accept the Company's story as true. Further, it is not in evidence in this case that the contractor's workmen do either overflow work, or specialized work, such work as cannot be done by the Company's own men, or do it at cheaper rates. On the contrary, the evidence is that a part of the regular work is given to contractor's men to execute. P.W. 1 said that he never attempted to get rid of the contractor's men before trying reduction of his own. I was referred to a case reported in 1952 L.L.J. pp. 470-476 in support of the proposition that it is one of the fundamental rights of the Management to get works done by contractors. In that case, the Labour Appellate Tribunal held that "in the circumstances of this case, whether the Company should carry on the work of tallying through contractors or not, is, in our opinion, essentially a management function and should not be interfered with as it does not involve the discharge of any employee in service.........". It is true that the Management has the right to employ contractors to carry out any of its work but it is also true that it cannot do so at the cost of his own men. It is no argument to say that the Company is at liberty to dismiss his men on the ground of paucity of work and at the same time get the pending work done through the contractor's men. In any view of the matter, the retrenchment in this case is unjustified. Lastly, it had been contended on behalf of the Company that the retrenched employees were temporary workers and, therefore, they could be discharged, at any time, without observing the formalities of section 25(F) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union's contention, however, was that these men were not temporary, but permanent, with long years of service to their credit. O.P.W. 1, Shri Kalipada Dutta, Secretary of the Union, prepared a statement (Ext. 8) on this point. This does not tally with the list (Ext. B) prepared on behalf of the Company. Some discrepancies in Ext. B have been pointed out. P.W. 1 said that none of the workmen had put in service more than a year at the time of discharge. This has been abundantly proved to be incorrect by Ext. 4, and the evidence of O.P.W. 2, Shri Halder. P.W. 1 said that these workers worked from 10 or 12 days to less than a year, suggesting thereby that he employed them only when there was large number of orders, and discharged them as soon as the work was executed, on the ground of surplusage. Further, P.W. 1 admitted, that he never told his employees, about the nature of their employment, at the time of appointment. It is now very easy to say that all such appointments are temporary liable to termination at his pleasure. Further, retrenchment cannot be made on the ground that the employees are all temporary men. The justice of the case for such retrenchment would still to be established. On all these points, I find the issue against the Company.

I have anxiously considered the question of relief in this case but find no excuse, or remotest justification for disallowing the normal relief to the aggrieved workmen. They should be reinstated, except those whose cases have been specially dealt with at the beginning of the issue. They should be reinstated, within one month of the date of the publication of this award. The Company would not be under any obligation of this award to do so if any of the retrenched employees fails to report to duty at the Company's workshop within the aforesaid period. I have also considered the question of payment of compensation and/or any other suitable relief. It has not been proved before this Tribunal that these employees or any of them suffered pecuniary loss, or damage as a result of this unjustified retrenchment. Apart from alleging that they were out of employment since then, the Union did not make any attempt to prove any such case. Accordingly, I find no sound reason for allowing any compensation for this loss of employment. But then, since these employees were kept out of employment from the date of retrenchment, without any justifiable reasons, this period of forced unemployment should be treated, as if, these employees were on leave without pay. That is to say, their services should be taken as continuing without any break. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 2: This issue relates to dismissal of Shri Gour Mohan Kolay, Mistry, from service on the ground of misconduct. The Union's case is that Shri Kolay, who had a good record of service, was victimised for his Union activities, and that the alleged charge of theft of Kharam (wooden sandal) was untrue. The Company's case, on the other hand, is, as stated in paragraph 12 of its written statement, that Shri Kolay made a pair of wooden sandals, during duty hours, using tools and materials of the Company, and left the Company's premises on 15th December 1956 with the said sandals and kept the same concealed in a neighbouruing shop belonging to Shri Rangalal Shaw. He was duly charge-sheeted and was dismissed from service for the said misconduct, after obtaining his explanation to the charges and after proper enquiry. The Company denied having victimised him for his Union activities. It had no knowledge whatsoever of his alleged connection with any Union. It has been contended on behalf of the Company that there is no want of bona fides on its part, and that there was no case of violation of any principles of natural justice here. Neither there was a case of victimisation for alleged Union activities. Therefore, this Tribunal should not interfere with the decision of the Management in this matter. Exhibit 6 is the letter of the Management, dated 17th December 1956, to Shri Kolay, sent to him by registered post. This contained the charge-sheet. The Company's evidence is that this was sent only when Shri Kolay refused to accept the charge-sheet tendered to him previously. Exhibit O is Shri Kolay's explanation, which was handed over to the Proprietor on 24th December 1956. These are not disputed. O.P.W. 3 Shri Kolay denied the charges and said that there was no inquiry in this case. P.W. 1 Shri Deashi, Proprietor, P.W. 4 Shri Surja Narayan Ghose, Manager, P.W. 5 Shri Monoranjan Deashi and P.W. 6 Shri Ajit Kumar Mukherjee, two employees, said in their depositions that there was an enquiry in the absence of Shri Kolay where the evidence was recorded by the Manager. Exhibit P is the order of the proceedings of enquiry. The charge of theft was proved. The Manager recommended dismissal and the proprietor accepted this recommendation and passed an order of dismissal. Shri Monoranjan Deshai, brother of the proprietor, saw not only the making of sandals but removal of it out of the Company's premises on 15th December 1956. Shri Ajit Kumar Mukherjee, an employee, not only proved the admission of Shri Kolay but also found the stolen sandal from the shop of Rangalal Shaw. Shri Shaw is now out of Calcutta. On this evidence, it is not possible to say that the Management had come to a perverse finding in this case and that there was no evidence before it justifying the conclusion arrived at in course of enquiry. On the question of punishment, the Management, in the absence of any improper motive or victimisation should be considered to be the best judge, and the Tribunal should not ordinarily interfere with the said decision of the Management in matter, although it may hold a different opinion on the materials placed before it. I am fortified in taking this view from a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of the Buckingham and Carnatic Company, Ltd., reported in 1952, L.A.C. pp. 490 and 498 and also from the recent decision of Mr. Justice Desai of the Allahabad High Court, reported in 1957 II L.L.J. p. 15. I have carefully considered the evidence and the arguments advanced by the parties on the issue, and find no good reasons to interfere with the decision of the Management on this matter. It follows that the disciplinary action taken against Shri Kolay is justified, and Shri Kolay is not entitled to any relief. This issue is accordingly answered.

Issue No. 3: The Union's case is that Shri Narayan Chandra Dhara was discharged on 1st October 1956 without notice and without giving him any charge-sheet, and that accordingly he should be reinstated in service. The Company's contention is that Shri Dhara wanted to go away immediately for his own convenience and left his job after having received all dues from the Company. Accordingly, his case was not mentioned at the time of the compromise discussed before the Conciliation Officer and, the reference is bad in law. P.W. 1, Shri Doshi is the proprietor of this Company. He said that Shri Dhara left his service on receiving all his dues on 1st October 1956. He was not given any notice of retrenchment because he was not retrenched. He proved the Attendance and Pay-Register (Ext. L) and further said that Shri Dhara is now working as a contractor in a sister concern of Usha Textiles. In cross-examination, he said that he did not inform the Labour Commissioner about it. He did not demand any explanation from Shri Dhara for absence from work. He worked with him for about a year only. P.W. 3, Shri Poddar said that Shri Dhara worked in Usha Textiles on contract basis from January to June 1957. Shri Dhara was absent during trial before this Tribunal. There is no evidence on the side of the Union to contradict the Company's evidence. I, therefore, accept the Company's evidence on this point and find that Shri Dhara had left his job of his own free will, and that he was not discharged by the Company. Question of justification of the alleged discharge, and any relief on that ground does not, therefore, arise. This issue is accordingly answered.

This is my award.

(c) in the case of a banking company, the amount actually transferred to a reserve fund under section 17 of the Banking Companies Act, 1949; 10 of 1949.

the Income-tax Officer shall, unless he is satisfied that, having regard to the losses incurred by the company in earlier years or to the smallness of the profits made in the previous year, the payment of a dividend or a larger dividend than that declared would be unreasonable, make an order in writing that the company shall, apart from the sum determined as payable by it on the basis of the assessment under section 23, be liable to pay super-tax at the rate of fifty per cent. in the case of a company whose business consists wholly or mainly in the dealing in or holding of investments, and at the rate of thirty-seven per cent. in the case of any other company on the undistributed balance of the total income of the previous year, that is to say, on the total income as reduced by the amounts, if any, referred to in clause (a), clause (b) or clause (c) and the dividends actually distributed, if any.

(ii) in the case of any other company whose distribution falls short of the statutory percentage by not more than five per cent. of its total income as reduced by the amounts, if any, aforesaid; or

(iii) in any case where according to the return made by a company under section 22 it has distributed not less than the statutory percentage of its total income as reduced by the amounts, if any, aforesaid, but in the assessment made by the Income-tax Officer under section 23 a higher total income is arrived at and the difference in the total income does not arise out of the application of the proviso to section 13 or sub-section (4) of section 23 or the omission by the company to disclose its income fully and truly;

unless the company, on receipt of a notice from the Income-tax Officer that he proposes to make such an order, fails to make within three months of the receipt of such notice a further distribution of its profits and gains so that the total distribution made is not less than the statutory percentage of the total income of the company as reduced by the amounts, if any, aforesaid."

(ii) sub-sections (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7) shall be omitted;

(iii) in sub-section (8), the words "Except in cases where a decision is given by the Commissioner of Income-tax under sub-section (3) or the Board of Referees under sub-section (4)" shall be omitted;

(a) in relation to the said part of the company's business ...	45%
(b) in relation to the remaining part of the company's business—
(1) if it is a company which satisfies the conditions specified in sub-clause (a) of clause (iv) ...	90%

(2) in any other case .. 60%;

the said percentages being applied separately with reference to the amounts of profits and gains attributable to the two parts of the company's business aforesaid as if the said amounts were respectively the total income of the company in relation to each of its parts, the amount of dividends and taxes also being similarly apportioned, for the purposes of sub-section (1).

(iv) in the case of any other company not referred to in the preceding clauses,—

(a) where the accumulated profits and reserves (including the amounts capitalised from the earlier reserves) representing accumulations of past profits which have not been the subject of an order under sub-section (1) exceed either the aggregate of—

(1) the paid-up capital of the company exclusive of the capital, if any, created out of its profits and gains which have not been the subject of an order under sub-section (1);

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

Pending the consideration of the Budget proposals for the financial year 1957-58, the Finance Act, 1957, provided for the continuance of the taxes on income and the duties of customs and excise at the 1956-57 rates with certain modifications. The object of this Bill is to give effect to the financial proposals of the Central Government for the financial year 1957-58. The notes on clauses explain the various provisions contained therein.

T. T. KRISHNAMACHARI.

NEW DELHI;
The 15th May, 1957.

NOTES ON CLAUSES

Clause 2 prescribes the rates of income-tax and super-tax for the financial year 1957-58 in supersession of the rates prescribed by the Finance Act, 1957:

(1) The rates which have so far been expressed in terms of annas and pies are, as a consequence of the introduction of decimal coinage expressed in terms of percentages.

(2) For individuals—

(i) the taxable minimum has been lowered to Rs. 3,000,

(ii) a decrease has been effected in the rates applicable to the lower slabs of income,

(iii) a more even rate of progression has been achieved by the introduction of an intermediate slab between Rs. 10,000 and 15,000,

(iv) the maximum rate of income-tax has been maintained at 25 per cent., but it will operate above the level of Rs. 20,000,

(v) the super-tax free slab has been kept at Rs. 20,000, but a comparatively more even rate of progression is maintained with slight lowering of the maximum rate—which is reached at a level of Rs. 70,000.

(vi) a basic surcharge of five per cent., an additional surcharge of five per cent. on earned income which exceeds rupees one lakh and a further surcharge of fifteen per cent. on unearned income have been introduced.

(3) For Hindu undivided families—the taxable minimum has been lowered to Rs. 6,000 in the case of families with more than two adult members.

(3) For companies—

(i) the basic rate of income-tax has been fixed at 30 per cent. as against the existing rate of 25 per cent.,

(ii) effective rate of super-tax on Indian companies has been raised to 20 per cent. i.e., by about 3 per cent.,

(iii) on bonus issues the additional super-tax has been raised from 12½ per cent. to 30 per cent.,

(iv) on excess distributions of dividends over the three levels of 6 per cent., 10 per cent. and 18 per cent. of the paid-up capital, the additional super-tax has been lowered from 12½ per cent., 25 per cent. and 37½ per cent. to 10 per cent., 20 per cent. and 30 per cent. respectively,

(v) the effective rate of super-tax on dividends received by principal companies from susidiaries has been reduced from 17½ per cent. to 10 per cent.,

(vi) effective rate of super-tax on Indian branches of foreign companies has been reduced from 36 per cent. to 30 per cent.

Clause 3 inserts a new clause (xviib) to sub-section (3) of section 4 of the Income-tax Act and provides for the exemption of interest on securities issued or other moneys borrowed outside India by the Central or a State Government or a local authority.

Clause 4 amends sub-sections (2B) and (2C) of section 10 of the Income-tax Act, mainly with a view to clarifying the intention of Government and removing some procedural difficulties which are likely to arise in the administration of the compulsory deposit scheme for companies.

Clause 5 raises from one-fifth to one-fourth the limit up to which abatement is available for income-tax purposes on provident fund contributions and payment of life insurance premia. The maximum amount on which the rebate is available, however, continues to be Rs. 8,000 as at present.

Clause 6 prescribes the rate of tax for non-residents at nineteen per cent. instead of the existing equivalent of three annas in the rupee.

Clause 7 amends section 23A of the Income-tax Act. Sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 23A have been recast by sub-clause (i) with a view to fixing for various categories of companies the percentages of available profits which they should distribute in order to avoid the extra rates of super-tax prescribed in section 23A. The percentage is 45 per cent. in the case of industrial companies. In the case of non-industrial companies other than investment companies, the percentage is 60 per cent. in general and 90 per cent. in special circumstances. Where a company's activities are partly industrial and partly non-industrial, the percentage applicable is 45 per cent. on industrial profits, and 60 per cent. or 90 per cent. as the case may be on non-industrial profits. For investment companies the percentage is 100 per cent.

Sub-clause (ii) deletes sub-sections (3), (4), (5), (6) and (7) which at present provide for representations by an industrial company to the Commissioner of Income-tax and the Board of Referees seeking exemption from the application of this section and the carry forward of excess distributions of preceding three years because a reduced percentage of 45 is now fixed for industrial companies.

Other sub-clauses carry out some consequential changes.

Clause 8 amends section 24 of the Income-tax Act in order to secure that a loss shall not be carried forward for more than eight years.

Clauses 9 and 10 replacing sections 58E and 58F provide for the exclusion of employer's contributions to a recognised provident fund, up to a limit of ten per cent. of salary, from the total income of the employee. Interest, subject to certain limits, on accumulated balances is already excluded.

Clause 11 is a formal provision relating to the time from which the amendments take effect.

Clause 12.—Sub-clause (1), read with Parts I, II and III of the Second Schedule, proposes certain changes in import duties. These are intended mainly to rationalise the tariff rates, for example, by merging the existing "additional duties" which have been a recurring feature of the Finance Act for several years or by rounding off fractional rates. Certain increases in import duties—mostly on what may be called luxury items—have also been proposed.

Part IV of the Second Schedule seeks to substitute the schedule of export duties by a fresh schedule for the purpose of removing a mistake in the column-wise arrangement of the entries in the Schedule. No changes in the duties have been proposed except for conversion of the rates of duty in terms of decimal coinage.

Sub-clause (2) seeks to clarify the meaning of the expression "plus the excise duty for the time being leviable on like articles if produced or manufactured in India", which occurs in several places.

Clause 13.—Sub-clause (a) proposes an increase of the excise duty on kerosene.

Sub-clause (b) proposes an increase of the excise duty on matches.

Sub-clause (c) proposes an increase of the excise duty on motor spirit from Rs. 0-15-9 (inclusive of surcharge) per imperial gallon to Rs. 1.25 per imperial gallon.

Sub-clause (d) proposes an increase of the excise duty on steel ingots from Rs. 4-0-0 per ton to Rs. 40.00 per ton.

Sub-clause (e) proposes an increase of the excise duty on sugar from Rs. 5-10-0 per cwt. to Rs. 11.25 per cwt.

Sub-clause (f) seeks to amend sub-items 1(5) and 1(6) of Item No. 9 relating to unmanufactured tobacco, other than flue cured. It also proposes certain changes in the rates of excise duty on other than flue cured tobacco.

Sub-clause (g) proposes an increase of the excise duty on coffee from Rs. 0-3-0 per lb. to 35 naye paise per lb.

Sub-clause (h) proposes alterations in the excise duty on all categories of tea.

Sub-clause (i) proposes an increase of the excise duty on cement from Rs. 5-0-0 per ton to Rs. 20.00 per ton.

Sub-clause (j) seeks to rearrange the existing tariff and also proposes certain changes in the excise duty on all categories of paper.

Sub-clause (k) proposes an increase of the excise duty on vegetable non-essential oils from Rs. 70-0-0 per ton to Rs. 112.00 per ton.

Sub-clause (l) proposes an increase of the excise duty on refined diesel oils and vaporising oil from Rs. 0-4-0 per imperial gallon to 40 naye paise per imperial gallon.

Sub-clause (m) proposes an increase of the excise duty on diesel oil, not otherwise specified, from Rs. 30 per ton to Rs. 40.00 per ton.

Clause 14.—Item (i) is a formal amendment intended to bring the Schedule into line with the classification adopted with respect to Letter Cards in the rules under sections 7 and 8 of the Act.

Item (ii) seeks to increase the rate of postage on postcards under the various categories from 3, 6, 5 and 10 naye paise to 4, 8, 6 and 12 naye paise, respectively.

Item (iii) seeks to increase the rate of postage on the first five tolas in the first entry under Book, Pattern and Sample Packs from 6 naye paise to 8 naye paise.

Item (iv) seeks to increase the parcel postage rate on the first forty tolas from 50 naye paise to 60 naye paise.

Clause 15.—Sub-clause (1) repeals all existing additional duties of customs and excise specified in sections 31 and 37 of, read with the Third and the Fourth Schedules to, the Finance Act, 1956, as continued in force by the Finance Act, 1957. These additional duties have now been merged in the basic duties.

Sub-clause (2) repeals the provisions of the Finance Act, 1957, relating to income-tax and super-tax retrospectively as the rates will now be regulated by this Bill.

Examination of Films.

19. (1) Any person desiring to obtain a certificate in respect of a film shall, in the prescribed manner, make an application to the Film Certification Bureau; and on receipt of such application, the film shall be examined by an examining committee and, if the rules made in this behalf so provide, also by a revising committee.

(2) Subject to any rules that may be made under this Act, each such Committee shall consist of a regional examiner and such members of the advisory panel as the Chief Examiner may think fit to nominate to that committee.

(3) The Chief Examiner shall be an ex officio member of every revising committee and shall preside at the meetings of such committees:

Provided that if, for any reason, he is unable to attend any meeting of such Committee, any member thereof authorised by him in this behalf shall preside at that meeting.

(4) The Chief Examiner may attend any meeting of the examining committee and in such a case, he shall be deemed to be a member thereof and shall preside at that meeting.

(5) The examining committee and the revising committee, if any, shall examine the film in the prescribed manner and after such examination, the Chief Examiner shall, subject to any rules that may be made for giving effect to the recommendations of the said committees, make such order in relation to the film as he thinks fit.

(6) No order prejudicially affecting any person applying for a certificate shall be made without giving him a reasonable opportunity of representing his views.

Principles for guidance in examination of films.

20. In examining any film under this Chapter, the authority making the examination shall generally keep in view the effect the film is likely to have on the public and, in particular, shall consider whether the film or any part thereof is likely to—

(a) impair the moral standards of the public;

(b) depreciate social values or offend against the standards of public taste;

(c) affect friendly relations of India with foreign nations;

(d) affect public order or the security of the State; or

(e) involve defamation or contempt of court, or cause incitement to an offence.

Certification of films.

21. (1) If, after examination of a film in the manner provided in section 19, the Film Certification Bureau considers that the film is suitable for unrestricted public exhibition or that, although not suitable for such exhibition, it is suitable for public exhibition restricted to adults, it shall grant to the person applying for a certificate in respect of the film a "U" certificate in the former case, and an "A" certificate in the latter case, and shall, in either case, cause the film to be so marked in the prescribed manner, and such certificate shall, save as hereinafter provided, be valid throughout India for a period of ten years.

(2) If after such examination, the Film Certification Bureau considers—

(a) that the film is neither suitable for unrestricted public exhibition nor for public exhibition restricted to adults; or

(b) that the film would not be suitable for public exhibition, unless certain parts thereof are excised or modified to the satisfaction of the Bureau; it shall, in either case, inform the person applying for the certificate of its decision.

(3) If the person applying for the certificate carries out excisions or modifications in the film as required under clause (b) of sub-section (2) to the satisfaction of the Film Certification Bureau, a certificate shall be granted in respect of that film under sub-section (1).

(4) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), if the Film Certification Bureau considers that the film is suitable for public exhibition restricted to specified classes of persons, it may grant to the person applying for the certificate in respect of the film a "S" certificate, subject to such conditions, if any, as it may impose and cause the film to be so marked in the prescribed manner.

(5) A certificate granted under this section may be renewed or amended in such manner as may be prescribed.

Appeal.

22. (1) Any person applying for a certificate who is aggrieved by the decision of the Film Certification Bureau under section 21 may, with the leave of the Chairman of the Board, prefer an appeal to the Board.

(2) No application for the grant of leave to appeal to the Board shall be entertained by the Chairman thereof, unless such application is made within thirty days from the date of the decision of the Film Certification Bureau and the Chairman is of opinion that the decision of the Film Certification Bureau is manifestly wrong or unreasonable or that the appeal involves a substantial question of policy.

(3) On receipt of an appeal under sub-section (1), the Board shall, after such inquiry into the matter as it may consider necessary, and after giving the appellant a reasonable opportunity of representing his views, make such order in relation thereto as it thinks fit.

(4) The powers and functions of the Board under this section may be exercised and discharged by a committee thereof consisting of the Chairman, the Chief Examiner and such three other members of the Board as the Chairman may think fit to appoint for the purpose.

Revisional powers of Central Government.

23. (1) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Chapter, the Central Government may, at any stage, call for the record of any proceeding in relation to a film which is pending before, or has been decided by, any authority under this Chapter and after such inquiry into the matter as it may consider necessary, make such order in relation thereto as it thinks fit:

Provided that no such order shall be made without giving the person applying for the certificate or to whom the certificate was granted, as the case may be, a reasonable opportunity of representing his views.

(2) Without prejudice to the powers conferred on it under sub-section (1), the Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, direct that—

(a) a film which has been granted a certificate shall be deemed to be an uncertified film in the whole or any part of India; or

(b) a film which has been granted a "U" certificate shall be deemed to be a film in respect of which an "A" certificate has been granted.

(3) Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (1), where the Central Government is of opinion that circumstances exist which render it necessary to take immediate action, the Central Government may direct that the exhibition of any film be suspended for such period not exceeding two months as may be specified in the direction and during the period of suspension, the film shall be deemed to be an uncertified film.

Information and documents to be given to distributors and exhibitors with respect to certified film.

24. Any person who sends any certified film to any distributor or exhibitor shall, in such manner as may be prescribed, notify to the distributor or exhibitor, as the case may be, the title and length of the film, the number and the nature of the certificate granted in respect thereof and conditions, if any, subject to which it has been so granted and any other particulars respecting the film which may be prescribed.

Restrictions on the display of certain posters.

25. No producer, distributor, exhibitor or other person shall display or cause to be displayed any illustrated poster produced or imported for general distribution in connection with the exhibition of a film, unless such poster has been approved in the prescribed manner by the Film Certification Bureau; and in examining such poster, the Board shall have due regard to the same principles as it would have in examining films under section 20.

Bar of exhibition or reproduction of excised parts of film.

26. No person shall exhibit or reproduce, in any manner whatsoever, any part of a film which has been excised at the time of certification, whether such excised part consists of pictures, dialogues, songs or commentary.

Penalties.

27. (1) If any person—

(a) exhibits or permits to be exhibited in any place—

(i) any film which has not been certified by the Film Certification Bureau or which, when exhibited, does not display the prescribed mark of the Bureau or which has been altered or tampered with in any way since the mark was affixed thereto, or

(ii) any film which has been certified as suitable for public exhibition restricted to adults, to any person who is not apparently an adult, or

(iii) any film which has been certified as suitable for exhibition restricted to any specified class of persons, to any person who does not belong to that class, or

(iv) any film in any form other than that in which it certified, or

(c) fails to comply with or contravenes the provisions of section 24, section 25 or section 26 or any order made by the Central Government, the Board or the Film Certification Bureau in the exercise of any of the powers or functions conferred on it by this Act or the rules made thereunder, he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to three months, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both; and in the case of a continuing offence, with a further fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for each day during which the offence continues.

(2) If any person is convicted of an offence punishable under this section committed by him in respect of any film, the court passing the order may further direct that the film shall be forfeited to the Government.

(3) The exhibition of a film, in respect of which an "A" certificate has been granted, to children below the age of three years accompanying their parents or guardians shall not be deemed to be an offence within the meaning of this section.

Power of Chief Examiner to cancel certificates.

28. Where a film is exhibited in a form other than that in which it was certified, the Chief Examiner may, without prejudice to any other penalty which may be imposed under this Chapter, cancel the certificate granted in respect thereof and thereupon, the film shall be deemed to be an uncertified film.

Power to exempt.

29. The Central Government may, by order in writing, exempt, subject to such conditions and restrictions, if any, as it may impose, any film or class of films from any of the provisions of this Act or of any rules made thereunder.

Delegation of powers by Chief Examiner.

30. The Chief Examiner may, with the previous approval of the Central Government, by general or special order, direct that any power, authority or jurisdiction exercisable by him under this Act, shall, in relation to such matters and subject to such conditions, if any, as may be specified in the direction, be exercisable also by such regional examiner or other officer as may be specified in the order.

(1) The administrator in respect of the whole of the Union territory or any part thereof and the district magistrate in respect of the district within his jurisdiction may, if he is of opinion that any film which is being publicly exhibited is likely to cause a breach of the peace, by order, suspend the exhibition of the film and during such suspension, the film shall be deemed to be an uncertified film in the Union territory or part or district, as the case may be.

(2) Where an order under sub-section (1) has been issued by the administrator or a district magistrate, as the case may be, a copy thereof, together with a statement of reasons therefor, shall forthwith be forwarded by the person making the same to the Central Government, and the Central Government may either confirm or discharge the order.

(b) there are any appeals pending before the Central Government under the provisions of the Cinematograph Act, 1952, the appeals shall, on such commencement, stand transferred to, and be disposed of by, the National Film Board as if they were appeals pending before it under this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The Cinematograph Act, 1952 (XXXVII of 1952), embodies in Part II the scheme of centralisation of certification of films for public exhibition. The effect of the procedure for certification under the Act is primarily of a negative character in that examination is made mainly for the purpose of eliminating objectionable features. There has been a feeling that even under this procedure there is greater scope for improvement of the moral and cultural standards of films. It has moreover been recognised that positive assistance, guidance and encouragement should be given in the production of films of better aesthetic and cultural standards. The Film Enquiry Committee recommended that a Production Code Administration should be set up to give advice to producers on scripts and other aspects of production and a Film Institute should be established for training and research. The Bill seeks to implement this recommendation. The Bill also revises the scheme of certification in the light of experience gained during the last five years. The revised scheme is made adequate for reflecting the established moral and cultural standards, maintaining at the same time the principles of natural justice.

2. Accordingly, a new organisational set-up has been formulated. A National Film Board will be established with three constituent units, namely, the Film Certification Bureau, the Film Production Bureau and the Film Institute. The object of the National Film Board, which will be an apex body, will be to promote the development of films as a medium of culture, education and healthy entertainment. The composition of the National Film Board is so devised as to include adequate representation of enlightened public opinion and also the various aspects of the film industry. Among its important functions will be the co-ordination and supervision of the activities of the constituent units and the guidance of their policy. The Film Certification Bureau will take over the work of the present censorship organisation. The Film Production Bureau will be a new unit and is intended for giving on a voluntary basis, advice and assistance in matters connected with the production of films. A close co-ordination is to be maintained between the Film Certification Bureau and the Film Production Bureau, thus ensuring that positive guidance is made more practical and useful. The Film Institute will not only impart technical training in various aspects of film production but also conduct research thereby helping in the improvement of technical and aesthetic standards.

3. Following the practice in many other countries, power has been taken to scrutinise, as part of the examination of films, posters which are intended for public exhibition through general distribution.

4. Chapters II, III and IV replace the present Part II of the Cinematograph Act, 1952, and Chapter V re-enacts the present Part III (which deals with the regulation of exhibitions by means of cinematograph) for its application to Union territories.

New Delhi; B. V. KESKAR.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

The Bill contemplates the constitution of a National Film Board with three constituent units, namely, the Film Certification Bureau, the Film Production Bureau and the Film Institute. The Film Certification Bureau will replace the present censorship organisation. The Film Production Bureau will be a new unit to give advice to producers on scripts and assist them in securing guidance on other aspects of film making, with a view to improving the standard of productions. There will be some special staff in the Bureau for this work. The Film Institute will be a training and research institution with the necessary staff and a building of its own including technical facilities and suitable equipment, use being also made of the facilities and equipment available in the Films Division.

2. The National Film Board will have a Chairman who will be a salaried officer of the Central Government and the members of the Board will receive only fees or allowances for attending the meetings of the Board. There will also be some staff attached to the Board. The Board will replace the existing Central Board of Film Censors set up under the Cinematograph Act, 1952. The additional expenditure in connection with the National Film Board will be roughly of the order of ninety thousand rupees. The expenditure on the Film Certification Bureau is expected to be approximately the same as the present expenditure on the censorship machinery which has an income by way of censorship fees. The annual expenditure involved in the Film Production Bureau is estimated at Rs. 1.1 lakh. In regard to the Film Institute, the capital requirements of which are estimated at Rs. 30 lakh spread over three to four years, it is proposed to make an annual allocation of Rs. 12 lakh, to meet—

(a) such requirements,

(b) the recurring expenditure on staff, stores and production of films as a part of the training and research, and

(c) the non-recurring expenditure on furniture, vehicles, etc.

It is proposed that engagement of staff should be deferred till the fourth year, except for such staff as may be required in connection with the construction of the building or the purchase of equipment.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clauses 42 and 49 of the Bill empower the Central Government to make rules to give effect to the provisions of the Bill when enacted. Clause 49 deals with the general powers of the Central Government to make rules in relation to the National Film Board, the Film Certification Bureau, the Film Production Bureau and the Film Institute. The matters in respect of which such rules may be made have been specified therein. They relate to the allowances or fees to be paid to the members of the Board and the term of office and conditions of service of members of advisory committees of the Board and of advisory panels. They also relate to the procedure to be followed by the Film Certification Bureau in examining and certifying films and the procedure for filing an appeal against the decision of the Bureau. Rules may also be made relating to the manner in which illustrated posters in connection with the exhibition of a film may be approved and the manner in which the Film Production Bureau and the Film Institute may perform their functions. Clause 42 of the Bill, on the other hand, is restricted in scope and deals with the powers of Central Government to make rules in relation to regulation of exhibitions by means of cinematopraph in Union territories. They relate to the terms and conditions and restrictions subject to which licences may be granted, the regulation of cinematograph exhibitions for securing public safety and the procedure relating to appeal against an order of a licensing authority. All these matters are of a procedural and routine character.

2. Under clause 50 of the Bill, the Board has been empowered to make regulations for regulating its own procedure.

3. The proposed delegation of legislative power is of a normal character.

Note :—Since the 1st January 1929 the datum of all gauges has been finally altered to refer to the Bengal Public Works Department datum which is 6·25 feet above the Kidderpore Old Dock Sill. The value of the highest and lowest readings have similarly been altered. Printed notes on the correction to be applied to all reduced levels recorded since each gauge was established have been prepared.

*The Zero of the Buxar gauge has been checked from the G. T. S. Bench marks Nos. 125 and 126 on line 70K and found to be 169·91 feet above the Bengal P. W. D. datum.

†On and from 1st January, 1931, high water level and low water level readings are shown at Swarupganj.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. the Salkia Transport Agency Ltd., 67 Haraganj Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their two workers namely, Sharbasri Gour Mohon Ghosh and Mohadeb Kurmi, represented by the Domjur Bus Workers' Union, 151 Narasingha Dutta Road, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-60 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee, Pleader, and Shri Bhowani Prosad Chakravorty, Pleader.

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, with Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

By Government order No. 1262Dis./D/4L-13/56, dated the 23rd March 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 29th March 1956. The Union filed written statement on 14th May 1956. The Company filed written objection on 25th June 1956. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 1st May 1957 and it continued on 3rd May 1957 when the evidence was closed. The argument was heard on 24th June 1957 and 27th June 1957. The award was reserved.

3. The issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:—

If the discharge of Sharbasri Gour Mohon Ghosh and Mohadeb Kurmi was justified? What relief including reinstatement and/or compensation are they entitled to?

AWARD

4. According to the Union, the Transport Company in question is a highly prosperous concern. The workmen, however, were not given a fair deal, with the result that a Union, viz., the Howrah District Bus Workers' Union, was formed for collective bargaining. The said Union placed a charter of demands before the Company early in 1954. But, however, the said Union could not satisfy the aspiration of its members. So a new Union under the name of Domjur Bus Workers' Union was formed by Shri Gour Mohon Ghosh in the first part of March 1955. This Union placed a new charter of demands on 28th May 1955, as per Annexure A to the Union's written statement. The Company, thereafter, transferred Shri Gour Ghosh and his assistant Shri Mohadeb Kurmi from the route No. 60 (Kadamtala-Domjur) to route No. 54 (Ballykhal route) ostensibly to disrupt the Union. The workers of the route No. 60 are said to be members of the Union affiliated to the I. N. T. U. C., while the workers of the route No. 54 are affiliated to the B. P. T. U. C. So the workers wanted to resist the transfer, but with no results. On 27th May 1957, it is the story of the Union, the bus in which Shri Gour Mohon Ghosh was working, went out of order. On 28th May 1955, Gour Ghosh was ordered by the management to work in the bus No. WBU 407 plying in route No. 60. Gour Ghosh worked there up to 30th May 1955, but thereafter he was given no job. His name was placed in the "extra list". On 6th June 1955 Gour Ghosh was asked to sign a blank paper which he refused to do. Thereafter the Company gave out that he stood dismissed from 8th June 1955. He was given no charge-sheet, nor was there any enquiry held regarding him before the dismissal.

Regarding the other worker, viz., Mohadeb Kurmi, he was also transferred from the route No. 60 to the route No. 54. On 12th September 1955, at about 11-20 a.m., Mohadeb was involved in an accident with a lorry and his bus was damaged. The Line Supervisor Shri Chandrabali Upadhaya took him to the Bally police-station and lodged a complaint there against the driver of the lorry involved in the said accident. A case under the Motor Vehicles Act was started. Mohadeb was not, however, allowed to join. On 15th September 1955 he was asked to admit his guilt in writing regarding the accident on 12th September 1955 which he refused. Mohadab was not even paid his earned wages from 1st September 1955 to 12th September 1955. No charge-sheet was given to him.

According to the Company, transfer of employees from one route to another is a management function, and it usually takes place for exigencies of service. The Company denies any motive in its action in the present two cases. It denies that on 28th May 1955 it asked Gour Mohon Ghosh to work in the bus No. WBU 407 in route No. 60. This bus belonged to another person and the Company does not permit such working in other buses. He was asked to explain why he had worked in a bus of a different owner, and that he was never asked to sign a blank paper. Gour Ghosh was dismissed with effect from 8th June 1955 due to his disobedience and insubordination.

With regard to Mohadeb Kurmi, Shri Chandrabali Upadhaya, the Line Supervisor, was deputed for a local enquiry. As a Supervisor he submitted his report. Mohadeb was asked to sign the said report, but he refused. So he was suspended. The Company is always willing to pay up his wages for the period from 1st September 1955 to 12th September 1955.

During the hearing, it appears, that the only charge against Gour Mohon Ghosh is that he worked in the bus No. WBU 407 on 28th May 1955. He did not attend the office of the S. T. A. from 29th May 1955 when he was in the "extra" list. On the 31st May 1955 he was seen driving the bus WBU 402 in route No. 60 (vide Ext.D1). The explanation of Gour Ghosh is that he had worked in the Ballykhal route on 27th May 1955 up to 6 p.m. in the bus No. WBU 263. After 6 p.m., as the bus got out of order, it was put into the workshop, and deposited there. He enquired of the Traffic Superintendent if the bus would move out that day. He referred him to the mistry who said that the bus would not move out for 3 or 4 days. In the written statement of the Union, at paragraph 17, it is said that on 28th May 1955 Gour Mohon was asked by the management to work in the bus No. WBU 407 in route No. 60, and he accordingly did it. From 29th May 1955 he was placed in the "extra" list and was given no work. Now, when I turn to the evidence, I find that it is not disputed that on the 27th May 1955 the bus which Gour Mohon Ghosh was plying went out of order. Shri Uma Sankar Singh, O.P.W. 5, says at page 3 of his deposition "On 27th May 1955 Gour did half duty, as per the duty book. The bus was put into the garage at 5-30 p.m. The reason for putting the bus in the garage at that hour has not been mentioned here. It might have been for some defect in the bus. This bus did not go out on the 29th May". So, Gour apparently did nothing wrong on the 27th May 1955. On the 28th May 1955 he is said to have worked in the bus No. WBU 407. This is also admitted by him. Exhibit D1 also proves it. Shri Narayan Chandra Mitra, O. P. W. 1, has corroborated this. He says "On 28th May 1955 Madan Chakraborty was permanent, and Gour Ghosh was on duty in the morning. Gour Mohon Ghosh only worked for that day. Gour Ghosh worked in the morning in my bus without permission. I did not inform the police. I asked him why he had done duty without my permission. He said that he was off duty, and so he did ply the bus. I kept silent. I kept silent for fear of the Union". Now, the charge against Shri Gour Ghosh is that on 28th May 1955 when he was in the employ of the S.T.A., and was drawing his pay there, he should not have gone to work in the bus No. WBU 407 which belonged to another man. But Gour Ghosh says by way of explanation that he did this at the instance of the management. I accept this explanation of Gour Ghosh as correct, and for the following reasons:

On the 29th May, as per the garage register of WBU 263 (Ext. H) Gour Ghosh is shown as having worked for 8 hours. Shri Uma Shankar, O.P.W. 5, the Traffic Superintendent of the S. T. A. Ltd., says at page 3 of his deposition that this entry is wrong. His reason is that the bus was not moved out that day. But I think this explanation does not stand. That Gour Ghosh was shown to have worked for 8 hours on the 28th May 1955 in the bus No. WBU 263 was not an error. He was shown to have done his duties in this Company for 8 hours because his services were lent to the Bus No. WBU 407 in route No. 60 which belonged to Shri Narayan Mitra, O.P.W. 1. The person who made the entry in question did not show that the bus No. WBU 263 was moved out and returned to the garage. So he must have made the entry deliberately. This entry clearly fits in with the version of Gour Ghosh that his services were lent to the bus No. WBU 407 on 28th May 1955. I do not accept the version of Shri Narayan Chandra Mitra, O. P. W. 1, that Gour Ghosh worked in his bus on the 28th May 1955 without his permission. Madan Chakraborty was taken ill and so his bus went without a driver. So he stood in need of a driver. He is also in intimate terms with the S. T. A. authorities. The S. T. A. Ltd. admittedly keeps spare hands. So why won't he ask for one driver? He professes to say that he would rather prefer to keep his bus idle than to ask for a driver from the S. T. A. Ltd. He admits that there is no bar for asking for such accommodation from the S. T. A. Ltd. Besides, the bus costs about Rs. 25 thousand or Rs. 30 thousand, according to Shri Moitra, O. P. W. 2. It cannot certainly be trusted to a stranger. So if Gour Ghosh plied the bus of the O. P. W. 1, Shri Narayan Chandra Mitra, without his permission, he would certainly lodge a complaint against him to the police. So the circumstances make it clear that Gour Ghosh's services were lent to the bus No. WBU 407 on 28th May 1955. So the charge against him for working in another owner's bus on 28th May 1955 fails.

Regarding the charge of working in other bus on some days in the week with effect from the 29th May 1955 the explanation of Gour Ghosh is that he was in the "extra" list that week. To be in the "extra" list means, even according to the Company, that the man will have no pay if he is given no work during hat period. There is no certainty,—he may or may not be given work during the week when he happens to be in the "extra" list. So the position was that Gour Ghosh had absolutely no certainty of having a job during the week commencing from the 29th May 1955. In such circumstances, if he worked in another bus to earn something for his maintenance how can the Company object to it? It is not a case of lay-off. In the case of lay-off, the employer has got to pay compensation for the period of involuntary unemployment. Here the Company is under no obligation to pay any compensation for the loss of earning. How can it expect that the workers should sit idle and only record their attendance daily, and thus discharge their obligation to the Company unpaid? So the Company cannot take exception to the fact that Gour Ghosh did ply another man's bus within his permission during the week commencing on the 29th May 1955. So the charge against him on this head cannot be sustained.

Now the point that may arise in this connection is, why should the Company allow Gour Mohon Ghosh to work in another man's bus and then level a charge against him for the same reason? The reason is not far to seek. Gour Ghosh was not in the good book of the Company. He was transferred from the Domjur route, where he had a Union, to the Ballykhal route where the Union had its affiliation to a different body of organisation. The Company takes shelter under the plea that such transfers are usual and for the exigencies of the service. That may be so, but in the present case, taken with other facts, it becomes significant. The other facts are that on 28th May 1955 Gour Ghosh submitted a charter of demands (vide Ext. 1) to the Company, and on the following day, i.e., 29th May he found his name in the "extra" list. I have already shown what is meant by having one's name in the "extra" list. Shri Uma Shankar, O.P.W. 5, at page 1 of his deposition, says "We keep drivers and conductors in excess of the number of buses plying. All the drivers and conductors do get duties daily". Shri Chandrabali Upadhaya, O.P.W. 4, at page 2 of his cross-examination says "One or two drivers are kept in the "extra' list. Extra men are kept to meet contingencies when some drivers happen to be absent on account of illness or for other reasons. One or two men are put under the head 'extra'. Drivers and conductors are required to perform double duties if extra men do not turn up. I know the drivers named B. Karma, Shwal Singh, Bhupesh, Tilokdhari, Murali, Jayanta, Biswanath, Dulal Choudhuri and M. B. Rajan. These people do regularly double duties. It is not a fact that those who are in the good book of the Company are favoured with double duties, while those who are not so are put in the 'extra' list." Thus it is clear that while some drivers were being given double duties, Gour Ghosh was denied even a single duty during the last week of May when he submitted a charter of demands to the Company in his capacity as the Secretary of the Union. So, does it require much imagination to hold that Shri Gour Mohon Ghosh was in the bad book of the Company? Not only that, the Company was out to do him some mischief and chuck him out. It is for this reason, while other drivers were allowed to work in other buses, or their working in other buses was connived at during this period of "no work" when in the "extra" list, in the case of Gour Ghosh the Company suddenly took exception to such working in other bus, and levelled a charge against him just to do away with his services under the Company with the object of getting rid of him. So I am satisfied by the evidence on record that Gour Mohon Ghosh was guilty of no offence charged against him by the Company. On the other hand, the motive of the Company in the present case has been exposed. It had a nefarious design to crush the Secretary of the Union so that the charter of demands of the Union might be nipped in the bud. That is why he was given no charge-sheet. So I hold that the discharge of Shri Gour Mohon Ghosh was unjustified. He should be reinstated within one month of the award coming into operation

Regarding relief, he ought get wages which he would have had, had he been in employ during the period of forced unemployment minus any earning obtained by him meanwhile. About this earning the evidence is meagre, and not much dependable. As the Company did not have the benefit of his services during this long period, I allow as compensation half the average wages, I mean, earnings, that Shri Gour Mohon Ghosh used to draw during previous 3 months prior to his discharge, with effect from 8th June 1955 up to the date of his reinstatement. This should be paid in three equal successive monthly instalments the first of which should be within one month of the award coming into operation.

Regarding Mohadeb Kurmi, the charge is that on 12th September 1955 at about 11-20 a.m. he was driving the Company's bus when a lorry (No. WBU 7354) dashed against it. According to the Union, Mohadeb accompanied by Shri Chandrabali Upadhya, the Line Supervisor, went to the Bally police-station and lodged a complaint there regarding the accident. A case was started under sections 112, 113 and 116 of the Motor Vehicles Act. Mohadeb was not allowed to join his duties thereafter by the Company. His name was put in the "extra" list On 15th September 1955 Mohadeb was asked to admit his guilt for the said accident stating that he was responsible for it in his atempt to overtake the lorry in question. Mohadeb's refusal to do so has led to his discharge. He was not given his wages for the period from 1st September 1955 to 12th September 1955.

According to the Company, Shri Chandrabali Upadhaya, the Line Supervisor, was deputed for a local enquiry into the accident. Mohadeb was asked to countersign the report prepared by Shri Upadhaya which he refused. So he was put under suspension. He was never asked to admit his guilt. He was suspended because of his insubordination in refusing to submit his explanation. The Company is prepared to pay his wages which are due.

Turning to the evidence, I get the report of the Supervisor, marked as Ext. D. I get from it that a cart was going on in front of the said bus, and the bus tried to overake it near about Hari Banerji Lane. But no sooner had the bus caught the cart and wanted to by-pass it on the right hand side, the lorry approached quite suddenly and sruck against the right side of the bus causing damage to its body haul and peg. The bus was taken to the Bally police-station by a constable and there it was detained from 11-20 to 4 p.m. An investigation into the matter as well as the verbal statement of the conductor of the bus revealed that the damage was caused due to the negligence of the driver. As I find from the remarks put on the body of the report, this driver was suspended because of his refusal to sign the said report. But the point is, can the Company ask the driver to countersign such report which would fasten the liability of the accident on him, and that at a time when the police case was sub judice. If the Company had any sense of responsibility, it would have not have demanded such a countersignature from the driver. It might ask for an explanation. But in the circumstances the Company should have refrained from doing even that, because the case of the driver would be prejudiced before the police. So I have no hesitation to find that the driver made no offence by refusing to sign the report, Ext. D.

Then I come to the question of the accident in question. Mohadeb, P.W. 2, says "On the 12th September when I stopped my bus for picking up passengers, a lorry, I mean, a loaded lorry, came from the Bally side and collided against my bus, and next collided against a rickshaw resulting in an accident. It was 11-30 a.m. When the lorry was caught, the driver said that his brake failed and consequently he could not control the lorry." In his cross-examination it appears that this man joined the services of this Company in 1945 or 1946. He says that there was no case, not to speak of two cases, against him in the Howrah Court for causing accidents. In the same breath he says that in 1954 a man was run over by his car, but he was absolved from blame by the Company, as well as by the Court. From the Court records filed before me it appears that in 1954 he was charged for having caused the death of one Murshed Ali by his negligent driving. Thus it is clear that the Company had some sort of legitimate grievance against this driver in course of his service under it. In such circumstances, if the Company wants to terminate his services, as has been done, I do not think I should interfere with the said decision of the management. An employer may not very well like to have in his employ men who are frequently involved in accidents and thereby cause harassment and expenses to the employer. In this particular case I do not think that the Union has been able to show that the Company had any grudge against the man for his Union activities. His transfer from the Domjur route to the Ballykhal route in itself cannot be significant because such transfer might have been an incident of the service. The appointment letter, admittedly, does not contain any restriction on such right of transfer. So, in the circumstances, I do not disturb the decision of the Company in terminating his services. But his will be a case of "discharge" and not "dismissal". By this I mean that this man would be entitled to all retrenchment or retrial benefits so far as are available in the present Company. I cannot give any definite direction in this matter because there is no evidence placed before me as to what benefits are available in this Company on retirement. But his discharge is justified in the circumstances. I find no Union activities to his credit. I have granted him relief which I could grant in the circumstances on his discharge from the service but no compensation.

For the employers: None.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 4066Dis./D/11L-286/56, dated 10th September 1956, referred the above dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication.

The issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

If the discharge of the workmen mentioned in list B attached herewith was justified. To what relief including reinstatement and /or compensation they are entitled.

AWARD

This reference was received by this Tribunal on 1st October 1956. Notices on the parties concerned were issued. The Union entered appearance on 29th October 1956, and filed a petition praying for time to file written statement. That prayer was allowed. But it is curious that the Union did not file any written statement, although the Tribunal waited till 11th July 1957. On this date, another notice was issued on the Union by the Tribunal, and it was duly received by the Union on 17th July 1957. Still the Union failed to file any written statement. Two of the employers on receipt of notices sent their replies by post, but the remaining three employers refused to accept the notices sent by registered post. The replies sent by two of the employers were to the effect that the workmen concerned left their services of their own accord.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

For the employees: Shri Nabujyoti Barman, President, Adam Motor Workers' Union.

For the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherjee, Advocate.

The present reference made by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 791-I.R./D/10L-130/56, dated 9th March 1957, relates to the discharge of 18 workers by Messrs. Adams Motor Works.

The issue as contained in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:—

Whether the discharge of eighteen workmen, mentioned in the attached list, was justified? What relief are they entitled to?

AWARD

The case of these 18 workmen was taken up by Adam Motor Workers' Union. The sum and substance of the contention of the Union is that the discharge of all these workmen is illegal, unjust and mala fide. They were discharged, simply because of their Union activities. Accordingly, the Union claimed their reinstatement with continuity of service and back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

List of discharged workmen

1. Shri Norottam Chandra Das.
2. Shri Hirupada Sardar.
3. Shri Kesto Chandra Naskar.
4. Shri Sailendra Nath Das.
5. Shri Krishna Chandra Das.
6. Shri Narayan Chandra Nandy.
7. Shri Austom Kumar Hait.
8. Shri Sk. Golam Ali.
9. Shri Shahadat Hossain.
10. Shri Abdul Rauf.
11. Shri Nripendra N. Nayak.
12. Shri Sk. Alam.
13. Shri Samsur Alam.
14. Shri Kanai Lal Dutta.
15. Shri Sachindra N. Bose.
16. Shri Rajani Kanto Biswas.
17. Shri Sidheswar Mondal.
18. Shri Subhas Chandra Mandal.

The Company in its written statement has stated that the workers—Shri Rajani Kanto Biswas (serial No. 16), Shri Sidheswar Mondal (serial No. 17) and Shri Subhas Chandra Mondal (serial No. 18) were employed as Tinsmiths in the concern, and were retrenched by notices, dated 31st January 1956, for trade reasons, and also due to paucity of work in that department. Regarding other workers, it is the case of the Company that the Management decided to close down the business, and accordingly served notices terminating the services of all the workmen on 30th July 1956. This Company was started originally on 15th June 1947 for the purpose of carrying on business of motor car repair, spray painting, etc., in the name and style of Adams Motor Works at 61A Theatre Road, Calcutta. It was a partnership business consisting of 3 partners—Mr. A. M. Adams, Mr. N. N. Adams and Mr. M. Apcar. The business being found to be not profitable, partnership was dissolved with effect from 1st July 1956 and Mr. Apcar sold his share to the other two partners, and cut off all connection with the firm. Following the dissolution of partnership, the Management decided to close down the business. So, due to circumstances over which the Management had no control, the services of all the workmen serving then under the Company had to be terminated. After the said closure and termination of services of all the workers, partnership business was again started in September 1956 with two partners—Mr. A. M. Adams and Mr. N. N. Adams. Regarding 15 workers, the Company wanted to say that all these persons had lost their services as a result of closure, and all relationship of employer and employees ceased by notices served on them individually on 30th July 1956. Regarding workers Shri Norottam Chandra Das (serial No. 1), Shri Austom Kumar Hait (serial No. 7), Shri Abdul Rauf (serial No. 10) and Shri Kanai Lal Dutta (serial No. 14), the Company has submitted that there is no industrial dispute between them and the Management, inasmuch as they have been re-employed and are still working in this Company. Finally, the Company wanted to say that the present reference is bad in law, and not maintenable, and that the workers concerned are not also entitled to get any relief.

At the very outset, I may say that the workers Shri Norottam Chandra Das (serial No. 1), Shri Austom Kumar Hait (serial No. 7), Shri Abdul Rauf (serial No. 10) and Shri Kanai Lal Dutta (serial No. 14) have no dispute whatsoever with the Company. These workers through their lawyer filed an application to this effect before the Tribunal on 30th July 1957, and the said application has been duly signed by them. In the circumstances, their case needs no adjudication by the Tribunal.

Regarding the remaining 14 workers mentioned in the list, they may be divided into two groups. The workers Shri Rajani Kanto Biswas (serial No. 16), Shri Sidheswar Mondal (serial No. 17) and Shri Subhas Chandra Mondal (serial No. 18) fall under one group, and the rest under the other. The abovenamed three workers (i.e., serial Nos. 16, 17 and 18) who were employed as Tinsmiths under the firm, were discharged by notices, dated 31st January 1956, due to paucity of work. They were, however, given one month's notice, and this discharge was to be effective from 1st March 1956. They admittedly got the notices.

As regards the workers coming under the second group, their case, as it appears, stands on a different footing. It is the contention of the Company that they were employed in the firm of Messrs. Adams Motor Works, which was a partnership business with three partners, viz., (1) Mr. A. M. Adams, (2) Mr. N. N. Adams and (3) Mr. M. Apcar, but on 1st July 1956 that partnership was dissolved, as it was not found to be profitable, and the business was also closed from that date. Hence, the said firm terminated the services of the workers including the present 14 workmen after giving one month's notice. After the said closure and termination of services of all the workmen, the partnership business was again started in September 1956. But it was a new venture and a new business altogether with two partners only—Mr. A. M. Adams and Mr. N. N. Adams. Accordingly, a preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the Company that the present reference is not sustainable. Learned lawyer appearing for the Company has voiced an argument before the Tribunal that there was no relationship of employer and employee between this Company and these workmen, inasmuch as these workmen were never employed by it, and that as such there could be no industrial dispute between this Company and those workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act which could have been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. I have given my careful and anxious consideration to the matter in the light of evidence as adduced before the Tribunal. In my estimation the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company should be upheld. It cannot be said that the argument, as put forward by the learned lawyer for the Company, is devoid of merit and substance. It is crystal clear from the materials on record that a partnership business consisting of three partners—Mr. A. M. Adams, Mr. N. N. Adams and Mr. M. Apcar was started originally on 15th June 1947 in the name and style of Adams Motor Works, and that all the workmen mentioned in the list were employed and worked there, but that partnership business was dissolved with effect from 1st July 1956, and a new partnership business with two partners was again started in September 1956. The services of all these workmen were terminated by the Management of the partnership business which was dissolved. It is neither party's case that after this they were taken back or re-employed in the new partnership business, which was subsequently started with two partners. In my opinion, as soon as that partnership business was dissolved, it must be deemed to have ceased to exist altogether in the eye of law. It is true no doubt that the new partnership business was started in the same place and under the same name and style with two out of three old partners. But this does not necessarily mean that the old partnership business has been continuing still in spite of its dissolution as evidenced by Ext. A. Such view cannot be entertained or accepted under the law.

There should be an industrial dispute, before such a dispute is referred for adjudication. An "industrial dispute" according to the definition of that term in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act comprises any dispute or difference between the employees and the employers, or employers and workmen. "Workmen" means any person employed (including an apprentice) in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled, manual or clerical work for hire or reward, and includes for the purpose of any proceeding under the Act in relation to any industrial dispute, a workman discharged during the dispute. The question is whether the present case can be brought under the category of a dispute between the employers and workmen. A decision of this question undoubtedly depends upon the relationship between these workmen of the old partnership business and the Management of the present partnership business. It is clear from the evidence that these workmen were never employed by the Management of the present partnership firm. Before a dispute can be said to be a dispute between employers and workmen, the relationship of employers and workmen should be established between the parties. That this is the correct position, appears to have been authoritatively laid by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case case of Dhrangadhra Chemical Works vs. State of Saurastra [1957(i), L.L.J. 477]. It was held that the essential condition for a person being a "workman" within the terms of the definition in the Industrial Disputes Act, was that he should be in the employment of his employer, and that there should be relationship between the employer and him as between master and the servant. It may be that when such a relationship had existed at one time and there was termination subsequently of that relationship, the persons who was once in employment would come within the definition of "workmen". But when, as in the instant case, the persons concerned were never employed by the employer, such persons cannot be deemed to be "workmen". In the result, I hold that there was no industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, which could have been validly referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. Therefore, the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the alleged dispute. The preliminary objection accordingly succeeds.

In the view I have taken regarding the preliminary objection, it is no longer necessary to go into the merits. Even if I am to enter into the merits, I would hold that the discharge of these workers was justified, and that they were not entitled to any relief. The claim for reinstatement of these workmen is out of the question. It has transpired from the evidence of O.P.W. 1, Mr. A. M. Adams—one of the partners, that in the previous partnership business 35 workers were employed, and that the same number is employed at present in the present business. This indicates that there is no scope for re-employing these persons. Moreover, many complications might arise if the present concern were asked to take these persons. In the interest of industrial peace, such complications should be avoided by all means. Then again, it has transpired from the evidence that the services of majority of these workmen had to be terminated on dissolution of partnership and closure of business. The Tribunal is satisfied from the materials that the said dissolution of partnership and closure of the business were bona fide. It has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India in the case of Pipraich Sugar Mills, Ltd. vs. Pipraich Sugar Mills Mazdoor Union (1956-57, 11 F.J.R. 262) that no compensation is payable to workmen discharged as a result of closure of a business, because retrenchment which means in ordinary parlance discharge of the surplus, does not include discharge on closure of a business. Hence, the workers who were discharged on dissolution of partnership and closure of business, are not entitled to get any compensation even. Regarding Shri Rajani Kanto Biswas (serial No. 16), Shri Sidheswar Mondal (serial No. 17) and Shri Subhas Chandra Mondal (serial No. 18), it has transpired from the evidence that their services had been terminated for paucity of work. So, it can very well be said that they were discharged as they were considered surplus—rather discharged on retrenchment. It is prima facie the right of the Management to determine its labour force, and the Management would be the best judge to determine who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economy or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained, and if the Management in effecting retrenchment acts in a bona fide manner, the number of retrenched by it ought to be accepted. There is the positive evidence of O.P.W. 1, Mr. A. M. Adams—one of the partners, who was also a partner in the previous partnership business, that their services were dispensed with because of paucity of work, which meant that they were not needed, and the Management had to retrench them as surplus. As against this evidence, there is nothing on the side of the Union to enable the Tribunal to hold that the then concern really required the services of these three workmen for due performance of the volume of work in the factory. Mere ipse dixit of Shri Rajani Kanto Biswas does not convince the Tribunal that they were retrenched for their Union activities. Shri Biswas was an ordinary member of the Union, and not an active member of the Executive Committee. He has admitted that when they three were discharged, none of the members of the Executive Committee of the Union who were also workers, was discharged. This completely demolishes the contention of the Union that these three workers were discharged for their Union activities. The letters Exts. D, E and F series addressed to these three workmen by the then partners, clearly point to the direction that the action of the employer was bona fide throughout. So, I am unable to hold that in effecting their retrenchment, the employer was actuated by any motives of victimisation. The Tribunal is of the view that their retrenchment was bona fide and justified. I am mindful of the fact that in case of bona fide retrenchment also, compensation is usually given by the Tribunals to the retrenched workmen. But in the instant case, no order for such compensation can be made, as they were not retrenched by the present concern, nor were they ever in the employment of this concern. The liability in this respect was on the previous employer. That being so, the present concern cannot be directed to pay such compensation.

Learned spokesman of the Union has contended that if the facts leading to the dispute of these workmen be considered dispassionately, it would appear that the workmen concerned are at least entitled to get some relief on the ground of social justice. In repelling this contention, I would like to say that "social justice is a very vague and indeterminate expression, and no clear-cut definition can be laid down which will cover all the situations. Social justice must be founded on a more solid foundation." Relief on the score of social justice alone should not be dealt out where there is not the slightest justification for such relief on proved facts or under the law.

Furthermore, "social justice is not and cannot be the fancy of any particular adjudicator. If it were so, the ideas of social justice might vary from adjudicator to adjudicator."

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing betweeen Messrs. Dishergarh Power Supply Co., Ltd., P. O. Dishergarh, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by the Dishergarh Power Workers' Union, P. O. Sundarchak, district Burdwan.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri B. B. Das Gupta, the Law Officer of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri D. C. Varma, General Secretary of the Union.

By Government order No. 3953Dis./D/10L-120/56, dated the 5th September 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 10th September 1956. The Union filed written statement on 22nd October 1956. The Company filed written objection on 1st December 1956. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 8th April 1957 and continued on 9th April 1957 and 10th April 1957 when the evidence was concluded. The argument was heard on 13th June 1957. The award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Revision of grades and designation of workmen.

(2) Revision of Standing Orders regarding—

(a) Accumulation of leave for two years for shift workers as in other cases.

(b) Extension of retiring age to sixty years from 55.

(c) Extension of medical attention to employees' dependants like parents and dependent brothers and sisters.

(3) Merger of 50 per cent. of dearness allowance with the basic wages of the employees.

(4) Payment for overtime work for the non-factory workers like Chaprasis, sub-station attendants, etc.

(5) Casual leave.

(6) Reinstatement of Sitaram Mistry (Carpenter); whether he is entitled to full wages and allowances for the idle period.

(7) Permanency of casual employees.

AWARD

4. According to the Union the Company is under the management of Messrs. Andrew Yule & Co., Ltd. It supplies electrical energy for industrial and commercial consumption in the area. The total strength of permanent workmen is nearly 400, while 55 people represent temporary staff, badlies and casual labourers. The rates of wages in this Company were fixed as far back as 1950. Many of the workmen have reached the top of their grades, and are rotting there. So it is contended that the wage level should be re-examined and put in order. The classification of workers as well as designations of workmen have not been on proper basis. The Union demands revision of the standing orders regarding accumulation of leave for shift workers, extension of retiring age to 60 years, and enlargement of medical attention to employees' dependants like parents, brothers and sisters. Dearness allowance is also sought to be merged, at least a part of it, in basic wages. There are other grievances of the Union which will be referred to under appropriate issues. Regarding Sitaram Mistry, it is contended that he was discharged on 5th July 1956. He is sought to be reinstated with back compensation.

According to the Company, it is admitted by it that the wages were fixed under an agreement with the Union, dated the 29th September 1950. But there have been alterations since. The rates of dearness allowance were increased with effect from the 1st January 1951. The basic pay of most of the workers was increased by 10 per cent. with effect from 1st December 1952. In 1954, and in subsequent years the rate of bonus was increased from one month's pay to 2 months' pay. It is contended that the revision of wage scales and classification of workmen are not attracted by the issue which has been framed in this case. The wage scales are not liable to be changed because there has been no material change of circumstances justifying such alteration. The other contentions of the Union have also been denied.

Issue No. 1: This issue relates to the claim of revision of the existing grades and designations of workmen in this concern. The Union in its written statement at pages 8 and 9 contends that the wage levels of different categories of workmen require re-examination. It wants that the said grades should be properly readjusted, and the wages scales should be revised accordingly. It is next suggested how the grades should be revised, and how the wage levels should be increased. Against that the Company's objection is twofold, viz., (1) that the Tribunal is not competent to disturb the wage scales because the issue is not comprehensive enough for that purpose. The Tribunal must confine itself, strictly, to the issue framed, and (2) that the wage scales are long-term affair. Even the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held it in the Howrah Burns case that the wage scales should not be disturbed unless there has been a material change of circumstances. To disturb the wage scales frequently, would bring about the reverse of industrial peace. The Company stands by the existing grades as reasonable and fair.

Turning to these initial objections raised by the Company I find that I am unable to accede to the said contentions. No doubt, under section 10(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, as amended, the Tribunal cannot travel beyond the scope of the issue as framed. But at the same time the Tribunal has been permitted to look into incidental matters connected with the issue. So the position is that though I cannot under the issue framed, address myself to the revision of wage scales as such, still while revising the grades if I find it necessary that the wage scales should be varied, I think I would not exceed my jurisdiction or transgress the limit if I do so. Regarding the second contention of the Company, the position in law is really as has been indicated by it. But in the present case I find that the evidence makes it clear that there has been a material change of circumstances. What is meant by "material change of circumstances" has not been clearly indicated in the aforesaid judgment of the Hon'ble Supreme Court. If by this, improved solvency of the Company is meant, then in the present case I find that it is so. The increase in profits is an index of the growing solvency of the concern. If I compare the audited balance-sheets of the years 1954, 1955 and 1956, marked Exts. H to H2 I find that there has been not only a steady increase in the profits, but also that the profit position reveals a material prosperity. For instance, in the year 1954, after payment of dividends the net balance that was carried forward amounted to Rs. 4 lacs 8 thousand and odd. In 1955, as per the audited balance-sheet, the net balance of profit stood as Rs. 9 lacs 61 thousand and odd. In 1956, though the said balance stood at Rs. 6 lacs and 73 thousand, the total balance retained the same figure of Rs. 13 lacs and odd, as in the previous year. The net balance in 1956 showed a little decline because of special appropriation under different heads. This makes it abundantly clear that the Company was making a headway towards increase in solvency.

But if the "material change of circumstances" means that the cost of living index should show an upward variation, even then I find that there has been a considerable change. For instance, in December 1952 the cost of living index stood at 378.9 as per the State Statistical Bureau No. 1615(2)I/10, dated 9th June 1953. In September 1956 this figure went up to 392.7 [vide State Statistical Bureau No. 32(9)I, dated 18th January 1957]. In April 1957 it further went up to 398.9 [vide State Statistical Bureau No. 325(9)I, dated 4th July 1957]. As the year 1957 advances, this cost of living index maintains its upward trend. We are all feeling the pinch of it, and even the State Government is embarrassed in the matter of increase in dearness allowance on the basis of soaring prices of essential food commodities. Now, the wages in this country have been made to rest on the needs of the employees considered from the human point of view. So if the cost of consumers index rises, the wages are bound to be raised. Workmen should be enabled to make their two ends meet, and to maintain their efficiency. Of course, dearness allowance to a certain extent temporarily mitigates the sufferings of workmen. But when the prices of commodities rule high and do not show any downward tendency, we may take it that the position is more or less permanent. If that is so, mere increase in dearness allowance will be equivalent to tinkering with the problem. We have to face the problem squarely and boldly, and increase the wages where the same is called for. So regard being had to the above, I think a case has been made out for a material change of circumstances, and the wage levels are liable to be revised accordingly.

Next, I come to the existing grades, as they are. I have to consider whether they are required to be revised. The existing grades find place in the Annexure A to the Union's written statement. This is not impugned by the Company except about the grade of the motor driver. The Union has suggested, as per the Annexure B to its written statement, the manner in which the grades should be revised. The Company asserts that the existing grades are reasonable and fair. Subjecting the existing grades to a careful scrutiny, I have little doubt in mind that they stand in need of drastic revision. There are far too many sub-grades which are hardly warranted. The result is that one in a particular sub-grade reaches the top of it very soon and then is held up there. There is stagnation unless he is promoted to the next higher sub-grade which lies at the discretion of the Company. Besides, the said grading do not clearly show which category gets which scale of wages. Several classes of workmen are being put in one group, and several sub-grades with respective wage scales are put thereunder. It is hardly understandable as to which class of workers falls under which scale of pay. A mere glance at the existing grades, as per the Annexure A to the Union's written statement, will convince anybody of this defect. On the other hand, the gradings suggested by the Union, as per the Annexure B to its written statement, seems to be much better and more scientific. That shows at least that an attempt has been made to scientifically assess the value of work before putting them under any particular group or category. Though I must find that the wage scales given by the Union in its Annexure B is rather extravagant, yet that does not take away from the merit of the gradings. Why I find fault with the Company's gradings will be clear from what I point out below. Under the Grade IV (electrician and fitters) there are three sub-grades, viz., grade A—Rs. 150—5—170; grade B—Rs. 65—5—150E.B.; grade C—Rs. 40—2½—75. Now, I think it cannot be disputed that electricians and fitters must necessarily be skilled workmen. So to put them in the sub-grade C with an initial pay of Rs. 40 would be unjustified. These three grades do not appear to be automatic. It is not clear whether a man who starts with Rs. 40 per month will ever reach beyond Rs. 75. So it is clear that this grading system is defective. Similarly in the Grade V, tindals and boiler assistants have been put together. Tindals, for anything, I know act as supervisors, or are supposed to have that status. Boiler assistants, if they are not really "assistants", are no better than boilermen. So the two cannot be for any reason put together in one category. That they cannot be so classed will appear from the wage scales shown against this category, viz. one with Rs. 71 and the other with Rs. 46½ as the initial salary. Now, who gets what is not clear. So what is the meaning of this grouping. To put a tindal at Rs. 46½ as his initial salary is as bad as putting a boiler assistant at Rs. 71 initially. The more I consider these gradings, the greater are its weakness and shortcommings exposed. For instance, in the case of ash and coal coolies who have been grouped together, there are as many as three sub-grades with varying yearly increments. Here the A sub-grade starts with Rs. 51, the B sub-grade with Rs. 40, and the C sub-grade with Rs. 35. To make the matter more absurd, an efficiency bar has been introduced in the grade. I, for one, find it difficult to conceive how in the case of ash coolies and coal coolies there can be so many different grades, and how can there be an efficiency bar appended to it. So the grading appears to be, to say the least, confusing. Similarly, in the grade IX, khalasis, general labourers, sweepers and other junior staff have been put into one category, and there are three sub-grades shown against the said grouping. So about the grade IXA. To sum up, I should say that the sub-grading regarding the wage scales have been as anomalous as the groupings of different classes of workers. There is no system or, if there is any, that is confusing having in it so many sub-gradings, with different wage scales only to add to the confusion further. So it is needless to point out that the grades require a thorough revision.

The next point is, whether the gradings should be done on the lines suggested by the Union in the Annexure B to its written statement. I have scrutinised the said gradings. Though the chart of gradings submitted by the Union is not an ideal one, yet it is far more methodical, and it answers the classification of workmen with an eye to their nature of work. So it is a better one than of the company and in the absence of a still better one I accept it, but with certain modifications. I have had the occasion to remark already that the wage scales suggested by the Union in the Annexure B to its written statement are extravagant. I have drastically cut them down to the extent I found necessary in the circumstances. I accordingly set forth the grades as per the Appendix 1 to my award giving therein the wage scales. I have not departed widely from the wage scales existing in the Company except where found necessary.

Regarding the fitting in of the workers in the revised grades, all that is said is that the revision regarding the wage scales should not be given effect to reterospectively. A worker should be put in at a point in the new grade where his present pay justifies. If his present pay is the same, i.e., if it fits in exactly at a point in the new wage scale, then he should be fixed there. Increments will run thereafter. But if his present pay falls a little short of the next higher point in the new wage scale, then he should be given necessary increments to be pulled up to it. So the new grades should be brought into effect to absorb the existing workers in their new rung of the scales.

To dispose of the objections of the Company that the present gradings are better than the gradings and wage scales prevalent in the collieries and, as such, they should be maintained, it does not require much comment. A colliery is a colliery and an electrical concern is an electrical concern. The two are fundamentally different. So any attempt to compare one with the other is out of place. Besides, in a colliery the work is more or less by its nature crude, while the work in an electrical concern requires skill and proficiency. So, because there are no proper gradings in the colliery, that cannot be an argument for denying the same in an electrical concern, as in the present case.

Regarding the second branch of contention, that the designations of workers are defective, I need not say much. I have already put in the people into respective classes according to the nature of work. So the designations do not very much matter. There was already a dispute previously, and that dispute has taken shape here in which the Union takes strong exception to the retention of the designations "Punjabi Jamadar" and "Punjabi labour". For the Punjabi Jamadar the Union suggested the designation of tindal, and for the Punjabi labour the designation of "Rigger". I have got in evidence that the word "Punjabi" occurring in the designation of workers represents those engaged in heavy manual labour. Though Punjabis are generally associated with robust physique, and may be capable of doing very hard labour, still to claim that capability as a monopoly for a particular race may very well offened other people. I have also got in evidence that under this category at present there are men other than the Punjabis. So the term "Punjabi" is an anachronism of the past. It is not fully descriptive, and so it is a misnomer. Where is the point in still retaining this name? Tindals occur in many concerns, and also in electrical concerns. This is also the case with "Riggers". So I think that the designations of "Punjabi Jamadar" and "Punjabi labour" should be changed for "tindal" and "rigger" respectively. This change of designation should be operative as soon as the award comes into operation.

Issue No. 2: The Union claims under the issue No. 2(a) accumulation of leave for two years for shift workers, as in other cases. As page 4 of the Company's written statement, in paragraph 9, I get that the Company is agreeable to concede this claim of the Union. So I hold that this claim succeeds on consent.

Then I take up for consideration the issue No. 2(b). The Company resists the claim. The Union could not place any ground which would impress me to alter the Standing Orders regarding the retiring age limit. The Standing Orders of the Company, as per its item No. 16A, regarding retirement, runs thus:—

> "All employees shall retire from the Company's service after the completion of 30 years' service or on attaining the age of 55, whichever is earlier, provided that the Company, at its sole discretion, may agree to an extension of the service of an employee due to retire under this rule and provided that he also is agreeable."

It may happen, no doubt, that certain people do retain their efficiency both mentally and physically even after the age of 55 years. But that is only an exception, and not a rule. Generally, under the climatic conditions prevailing in India, or in West Bengal in particular, efficiency is considerably impaired after the age of 55 years. The Standing Orders of the Company have provided for extension of service in exceptional circumstances, on common consent. So it cannot be said that all persons are made to retire at 55 years of age, as a matter of course. If the retiring age limit is extended to 60 years, the prospect of workmen comparatively junior will be clinched or narrowed down. This is an electrical concern. Alertness and mental equipment are essential for the discharge of duties here. So people in impaired health can hardly be equal to the task. In such circumstances, to fix the retiring age limit at 55 years is not unreasonable, nor unfair. So I do not accept the Union's contention for fixing the age of superannuation at 60 years as a general rule.

The Union next urges that the clause of "30 years' service" should be deleted from the Standing Orders because many people who had entered the service at an early age completed 30 years of service before they reached the age of 55 years. Under the Standing Orders, as it is, they are liable to retire. This is indeed a legitimate grievance. But the learned representative on behalf of the Company contends that the issue is not comprehensive enough to cover this matter. Strictly speaking, this contention is correct. Under section 10(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act the Tribunal is required to confine its adjudication to points specified in the issue for adjudication. But in the sub-section of the said section it is also mentioned that matters incidental to such an issue can be adjudicated upon. Here the Standing Orders about the retiring age has been impugned by the Union. This is, of course, with reference to its claim for raising the age limit of retirement from 55 years to 60 years. But in the said Standing Orders the words "completion of 30 years' service" also find place. So I think I am entitled to go into this question as an incidental matter connected with the issue under reference. So in that view of the matter I delete the words "After the completion of 30 years service or" from the item No. 16A of the Standing Orders, and also the words "whichever is earlier" occurring in the said paragraph. This piece of the issue No. 2 is thus disposed of.

Under the issue No. 2(c), the Union claims extension of medical attention not only to an employee and his wife and children but also to his parents and dependant brothers and sisters. The Company resists the claim. The Company contends that under the State Employees Insurance Act the Company is liable only to bear the medical expenses of its employee, and none else. Besides, to enlarge the medical benefit to employees' parents and dependants will not only cause financial burden on the management, but it will give rise to lots of complications in determining as to who are dependants and who are not. I refer to the Standing Orders, paragraph 13, which bears on this point. It runs thus:

> "All employees are entitled to be attended on the Companies' premises by the Companies' doctor free of charge, and will also be supplied by the Companies, free of charge, with medicine or treatment prescribed by the Companies' doctor.
> The above benefits extend only to employees of the Companies or to the wives and children of employees who are treated in the Companies' premises. Other relatives or friends are not entitled to medical attention or medicine.
> Persons other than employees, their wives or children, may only be attended on the Companies' premises by the Companies' doctor with the Power Station Superintendent's permission and on payment to the doctor of such fee as may be authorised by the Power Station Superintendent."

So I get that persons other than the employees' family members may have medical attention on having permission of the Power Station Superintendent, and on payment of doctor's fees. I find in evidence that the doctor's fee is nominal, and cases asking for such medical attention are very rare. Of course, the Union has led evidence that it is difficult to get the assistance of private doctors except on payment of exhorbitant fees. But specific cases have not been enumerated where difficulties were experienced as anticipated. It will not do to forget that the Company is not under any obligation to bear the entire expenses of free medical treatment of a worker and his family. The burden is shared also by the State. In the changed circumstances, consequent on the introduction of the State Employees' Insurance Act, I am unable to saddle the Company with further expenses on the score of free medical attention to employees' parents, and other dependents, viz., brothers, sisters, etc., when strictly speaking, the Company is liable to defray the expenses of its employees only. So the claim under this head is turned down.

Issue No. 3: This demand is gradually becoming persistent in most of the Companies. It can hardly be denied that dearness allowance has come to stay. There is hardly any near prospect of prices coming down to the pre-war level. If dearness allowance becomes a permanent feature, then it is desirable that at least a fraction of it should go into the body of wages. But the difficulty is that this decision cannot be taken in a solitary case like the present one. If this decision is to be taken, it should be taken industry-wise, or steps in this direction may be taken by the Government on a comprehensive basis. The Gadgil Committee's recommendations, it is worth pointing out, was not accepted by the Government on this score. Besides, dearness allowance being given in the Provident Fund contribution and also in gratuity, the importance of this claim has been minimised to a great extent. So in the present case I turn down this claim.

Issue Nos. 4 and 7: These are taken up together because the parties have reached a compromise concerning these two issues. I refer to the compromise petition filed by the parties on 8th April 1957 before this Tribunal by which the disputes over these issues have been settled amicably. I accept the said compromise petition, and incorporate the same in my award as Appendix No. 2

Issue No. 5: The Union here claims some casual leave. The Company submits that the privilege leave and sick leave in vogue in this Company are more liberal than anywhere else. So the claim for further casual leave cannot stand. The Company has submitted a chart showing leave available to the workmen. For the shift workers 30 days' privilege leave in a year is given. For the non-shift workers 20 days' privilege leave in a year is given. Out of the above, 15 days are given under the Factories Act; 12 days as festival holidays, and 2 days as national holidays. Under the Second Engineering Tribunal's Award the total period of leave was 30 or 35 days, and out of that 15 days were under the Factories Act, 10 days as festival holidays, and 5 or 6 days as other heads of leave. Even from the Company's above statement it is clear that under both the awards of the Major Engineering Tribunal, 5 or 6 days' other kind of leave was provided for. This seems to stand for casual leave. The Company's stand seems to be that because the privilege leave and sick leave are ample here, the claim for casual leave cannot be sustained. I am unable to agree to this idea. Sick leave may be admissible only on production of medical certificate in case a person falls sick. Privilege leave accrues on the length of service. But it can never be thought of that a man during the whole year would not require some days' absence for doing odd business for his family. Casual leave is provided for everywhere. In all systems of holidays and leave, it has been recognised that there should be some provision for absence for doing one's casual business. I can understand that it should be curtailed to the minimum in an engineering industry or an industry where other kinds of leave are liberal. But there can be no reason why casual leave should be totally denied to the workmen. In the Standing Orders of the Company, I find in item No. 11E that the Power Station Superintendent or the District Engineer may, at his discretion, grant additional leave but without pay. This certainly does not answer the requirement of casual leave, nor was it meant to answer the same. This was meant to provide for additional leave where longer leave than under the provision was required, viz., in cases of privilege leave and sick leave. So I must take it that the Standing Orders of the Company do not provide for contingency of casual leave. Considering all these circumstances, I award that 5 days' casual leave with pay in a year must be granted to all employees. But such leave should not be claimed as a matter of right, and must remain at the discretion of the management, and must lapse after one year.

Issue No. 6: This issue relates to retrenchment of Sitaram Mistry (carpenter). According to the Union, this man was working as a carpenter since 1953. He was put on probation for one year as a dependent of Lachman carpenter who had retired before. After one year his period of probation was extended for 6 months. He was given a further extension of 6 months on the ground that he was still a slow worker. On the expiry of the last extension period he was discharged from service. Annexure B to the Company's written statement is the letter of appointment of Sitaram Mistry on probation from 5th April 1954. As per the Company's letter, dated 3rd July 1956, which is Annexure C to the Company's written statement, I find that he was discharged with the observation "Your work was not satisfactory". The Power House Superintendent issued several letters of warning for improvement of work, but with no effect. Shri B. B. Ghosh, O.P.W. 1, who was the Power House Superintendent, states before me, at page 2 of his deposition that Sitaram was taken as a probationer on the recommendation of the Works Committee. Sitaram was a casual labour for about 5 or 6 months before he was taken as a probationer. Sitaram was verbally told and also written to that he worked slow. The Works Committee was informed of this in writing. It appears that Sitaram was given ample trial. The fact that his period of probation was extended from time to time shows clearly that the Company was rather willing to retain him. But ultimately when it was found that he could not improve his work, the Company was compelled to discharge him. There is no motive alleged against the Company. I find no mala fide in the present case. So I uphold the discharge order and reject the claim of reinstatement and compensation for Sitaram.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

(If any class has been omitted through oversight, that may be put into the proper class by the Company with an eye to his work. I leave it to the management, bcause my groupings do not claim to be exhaustive. About putting the present employees in these revised grades, they should be fixed according to their present pay but if the present pay falls short, he should be given such increment as may put him at a point next above his present pay. This would be prospective. But in any case this should not curtail any existing benefit.)

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1110-I.R./IR/11L-37/57, dated 10th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. De Penning & De Penning, 10 Government Place East, Calcutta, and one of their workmen, Shri Hari Sadhan Ghose, represented by Patent & Trade Mark Agencies Employees' Union, 65 Kansaripara Road, Bhowanipore, Calcutta, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the discharge of Shri Hari Sadhan Ghose was justified? Is he entitled to reinstatement and/or any other relief?

AWARD

This is a case of summary dismissal of an employee of Messrs. De Penning & De Penning (hereinafter referred to as the Company for the sake of brevity) on the ground of disobedience and insubordination.

The case of the Union is that the Company carries on business in Patent & Trade Mark Agency in India, Pakistan and all over the world. Shri Ghose was an employee in the Accounts Department. The Company has no systematic terms and conditions of service. The employees formed a Trade Union of their own sometime in September 1956. Shri Ghose took a leading part in the Trade Union activities which the Company did not take in good grace and became vindictive. On 19th December 1956, at about 4-25 p.m., Mr. De Penning called Shri Ghose to enquire as to who would do Mr Perie's work as he was absent and why his (Perie) was not done by him. Shri Ghose in all courtesy told Mr. De Penning that there was no instruction from him to do Perie's work for the day. This reply infuriated Mr. De Penning who ordered Shri Ghose to get out of the office and hurriedly caught him by the neck and pushed him out of the office. This was followed by a letter of dismissal. No charge-sheet was given, nor was any enquiry held and this is opposed to principles of natural and social justice. The Union therefore alleges that this is a case of victimisation, pure and simple, and seeks Shri Ghose's reinstatement.

The Company in their written statement denies generally the allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends, inter alia, that on 19th December 1956, Mr. G. M. Faulkner, a senior officer of the firm, came to Mr. De Penning and told him that there was an urgent report to be posted to the client with a debit note but as Mr. Perie was absent, he (Mr. Faulkner) requested Shri Ghose to write out the note who flatly and in an insolent manner refused to do the same saying that it was not his job; that Mr. De Penning again and again requested him to do the work and explained to him that as on previous occasions he did write out the debit note in the absence of Mr. Perie and as the matter was very urgent he should do it, but Shri Ghose still refused whereupon Mr. De Penning gave him a last chance with a clear understanding that if he did not write out the debit note he would be dismissed. Still Shri Ghose refused to write out the debit note and thereupon Mr. De Penning told him that he was dismissed from service and next day he might collect his dues; that Shri Ghose asked for a letter of dismissal and he was informed that he would be given it the next day; that the matter being very urgent Mr. De Penning himself wrote out the debit note which was sent to their client that very day. Thus the Company justifies the summary dismissal on the ground of insubordination and gross misconduct and repudiates the allegation of victimisation. The Company therefore seriously contends that in the circumstances the employee is not entitled to reinstatement.

DECISION

Admittedly in this case there was no charge-sheet, no enquiry, nothing of the kind. It is therefore seriously contended on behalf of the Union that the principles of natural and social justice had been violated and justice had been denied to the employee by the orders of summary dismissal. There are numerous rulings wherein it has been laid down that if no enquiry were held by the management the Tribunal and/or Court is entitled to hold an independent enquiry and scrutinise the action of the Company on this point. The rulings reported in 1956 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 67, 1956 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 433, 1957 L.L.J., Vol. I, page 387, 1957 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 15, may be referred to. In all these cases the trend of decision is that rules of natural and social justice require that the delinquent employee must be given a reasonable opportunity of being heard in his defence and that fundamentals of fair play and justice must be observed. This requires that a proper enquiry need be held by an impartial authority before an employee is found guilty. In the case of Buckingham & Carnatic Co., Ltd., it is laid down that the Industrial Tribunals have been given the power to see whether the termination of service of a workman is justified. It is also laid down there that if there is evidence to support the action of the management the Tribunal will not substitute its own judgment for the judgment of the management. But the decision of the management with regard to a charge of misconduct against an employee will not prevail if—

(i) there is want of bona fides; or

(ii) it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice or violation of the principles of natural justice; or

(iii) there is a basic error of facts; or

(iv) there has been a perverse finding on the materials.

Now, it devolves on the Court to arrive at an independent finding as the result of the enquiry held by this Court whether the instant dismissal is justified or not.

Now, I come to the facts. The Company bases the order of dismissal on the incident that happened in their office on 19th December 1956 round about 4-15 to 4-25 p.m. This incident relates to the preparation of a short debit note, photostat copy of which is marked Ext A(7). The debit note relates to the firm of Messrs. Smith Stanistreet & Co., who entrusted the Company to make a search in the office of Registrar of Trade Marks and to communicate the result thereof to them. If the result of the search proved favourable, Company's customers would proceed to get the patent mark registered immediately. The Company therefore contends that this was a very urgent and important matter which required immediate despatch to the client that very day (19th December 1956). The case of the Company is that Shri Ghose refused to prepare this debit note though asked intially to do so by Mr. Faulkner, a senior officer of the Company, at about 4-15 p.m. and when he refused to carry out Mr. Faulkner's orders Mr. De Penning, a senior partner of firm, asked Shri Ghose to prepare the debit note which he still refused and that even after Mr. De Penning gave him a final ultimatum that he might disobey his orders on pain of dismissal. This warning even went unheaded and then Mr. De Penning said that in that case his service was no longer required and he was dismissed. On behalf of the Union it is seriously contended before me that this is a cooked up story, a myth, pure and simple, and nothing short of an unfair labour practice and victimisation because Shri Ghose was mainly instrumental in forming a Trade Union on or about September 1956 of which he was to treasurer and therefore the Company first axed Shri Ghose. In this behalf there is nothing beyond the sole evidence of Shri Ghose and his evidence is that at about 4-25 p.m. Mr. Faulkner asked him to do the debit note which he could not carry out because there were the auditors examining his portion of the work that day and he had to attend to them. And it is also his case that there is no practice in the Company's office that in the absence of one employee, another does his work. On the contrary, the Company has examined Mr. Faulkner and Mr. De Penning as well. As their evidences are very important I proceed to quote the relevant portion of their evidence in extenso. Mr. Faulkner says as follows:—

"I went to the Accounts Department and Mr. Perie was not present due to sickness. I asked Mr. Ghose to write out the debit note. He flatly refused stating that it was not his work. Then I went to Mr. De Penning to let him know what was happening. Then Mr. De Penning sent for Mr. Ghose in my presence. Mr. De Penning asked him to make out the debit. He refused. Mr. De Penning said that as Mr. Ghose was not prepared to do the work then 'he must go'."

"It was between 4 and 4-15 p.m., I went to the Accounts Department. I asked Mr. Ghose to make out the debit. Mr. Bose and Mr. Barat (I believe) were there. The seat of Mr. Ghose is just in front of Mr. Bose's. Mr. Bose and Mr. Barat are in our employment now. It is not a fact that I did not go to the Accounts Department, nor is it a fact that I did not ask Mr. Ghose to make out the debit. In my knowledge there was no complaint about Ghose's work on that date..............."

This version of Mr. Faulkner is corroborated by Mr. De Penning who says as follows:—

"I sent for Ghose in the presence of Mr. Faulkner. I asked Ghose to prepare a debit note and give it to Mr. Faulkner to send it out. Ghose flatly refused to do so in a most insolent manner. I asked him again to prepare it and I asked him twice and lastly warned him if he refused to carry out my orders I had no further use of his service. On his further refusal I said, 'you are dismissed'. He asked for a letter of dismissal and I said, 'you get it next morning'."

The evidence of Mr. Faulkner thus supported by that of Mr. De Penning leaves no room for doubt in my mind that they gave the Court the truthful version of what actually happened in the office on 19th December 1956. And the evidence of Shri Ghose alone does not take away the least from the truth of the incident as related by Company's witnesses before me. I have absolutely no reason to disbelieve the testimony of Mr. Faulkner and Mr. De Penning and I am unable to hold that they would stoop so low as to manufacture a false story to sack Shri Ghose for his Trade Union activities. It is difficult to believe that nothing happened on that particular date to justify the dismissal of the employee. It is also curious that Ghose could not produce his colleagues Bose and Barat to support his version. It is pertinent to point out that the Union in their written statement alleged that Mr. De Penning hurriedly caught Shri Ghose by the neck and pushed him out of the office and added "Bloody Bengalee, you shall have to go out and I will see what law can keep you in this office". But not a word was said in Court to corroborate this allegation. This omission is very material and this taken with other circumstances of the case leads me to hold that the Union has not stated the whole truth. There is another circumstances which needs be referred to in this connection. The Union suggests that there is no practice in the Company's office for one employee to do the work of another in his absence. But, the Company has produced certain photostat copies (Ext. A series excepting A-7) of debit notes prepared by Shri Ghose in the absence of the assistant whose duty it was to prepare it. Admittedly Shri Ghose was an Assistant Accountant and it is contended on his behalf that it was no part of his duty to prepare the debit note in any circumstances. But as already proved by the Company which produced the photostat copies of debit notes sometimes prepared by Shri Bose, sometimes by Shri Ghose in the absence of Mr. Perie whose duty it was to do the debit notes, I am convinced that as a matter of ordinary practice it was nothing unnatural for any other assisant to do the work of Mr. Perie in his absence especially when the work was short and simple. Undisputedly Mr. Perie was absent only on the 19th December 1956 and the work being very immediate and urgent the debit note had to be sent out on that very date and Shri Ghose was asked to do it. Shri Ghose has not been able to show any valid or acceptable excuse to exonerate himself from the blame for his repeated refusal to do the simple debit note. This debit note Ext. A(7) is a very short matter and admittedly it might take only two minutes to do it and it was only his dogmatic refusal which led to this trouble. If good sense had dawned on Shri Ghose he would certainly have agreed to do the debit note, but his obstinate refusal brought him to the present impasse. Then again it is urged on behalf of the Union that this note was kept pending in the Company's office for the last 2 or 3 days but all on a sudden it strangely struck the Company that the matter was immediate and urgent and that the note must be despatched by that day's mail. It is further contended that even if the search report were immediate and urgent there was no urgency about the debit note which might have waited for a day or two. The debit note concerns the Company since it was their bill only and there was no apprehension of the Company's losing a petty amount of Rs. 16 only from a reputed firm like Messrs. Smith Stanistreet & Co. Herein Mr. De Penning explained that it was the invariable practice of the Company to despatch the debit note along with the search report. The question of urgency or otherwise of the debit note is immaterial. What concerns the Court is the disobedience of Shri Ghose to carry out the orders of the Company first through Mr. Faukner and ultimately through Mr. De Penning. There was the order and there was the repeated refusal of the employee to carry out the same even on pain of dismissal and this was a clear case of gross disobedience and insubordination which certainly merits dismissal. The present conduct of Shri Ghose was clearly subversive of all discipline in the Company and it would be laying down a dangerous proposition of law, I am afraid, if it be held that such gross insubordination does not justify the orders of dismissal. In this connection a reference may be made to the case of Messrs. Bhagyaluxmi Insurance Ltd., published in Calcutta Gazette. May 10, 1951. In this case the Judge, Shri P. R. Mukherjee, found that the dismissal of Shri Bhabesh Chakravorty was justified. What happened in this case may be briefly stated thus:—

> "The driver employee was never punctual in attendance and had been in the habit of being absent without notice. He was warned several times for remaining absent without leave and warnings had no effect. Apprehending that he might not turn up at the appointed time the Managing Director of the Company cautioned him on the previous day to turn up punctually at 8 a.m., but strangely enough he obliged the Managing Director by putting in an appearance at 9-30 a.m. That was an important engagement. What was most regrettable and inexcusable was the impertinent conduct of the driver who when confronted by the Managing Director flatly on his face said that he (Managing Director) cannot expect better attendance from him (the driver). The Managing Director thereupon summarily dismissed him."

This dismissal was upheld by the learned Appellate Court and the case is reported in 1952 L.A.C., page 366. The flat refusal of the driver in the face of the Managing Director to carry out his orders was considered to be an act of insubordination sufficient to justify the dismissal of the workman summarily. The insubordination displayed by the employee in this case is of a type of that displayed by the driver in the case referred to above.

Next, a word need be said about the Union's allegation that this employee was axed for his Trade Union activities. The Union, it is stated, was formed some time in September 1956, though it was not registered earlier than 18th March 1957. The order of dismissal was passed on 19th December 1956, so no casual connection between the formation of the Union and the dismissal of the employee can reasonably be traced. There is also no evidence worth the name to connect the dismissal with the Trade Union activities of the employee and no such case has been made out. At this stage, it may be mentioned that the learned Advocate for the Company placed before the Court some instances of tampering with the minute book and tearing of certain pages out of this book and it is his contention that the pages if not torn would have supported the Company's case and not the Union's. The Court does not like to speculate upon what was actually written in the torn pages and what correctly the figures said to have been tampered with were. Independently of all these contentions the Court comes to the finding that the gross insubordination displayed by the employee as referred to above is sufficient justification for the dismissal of the employee. It has been seriously contended on behalf of the Union that the punishment of summary dismissal is too severe to be upheld in the circumstance. But since the Court has found that the dismissal is justified, the Court cannot substitute its own, punishment for that imposed by the Company. It has been clearly laid down in the case of Buckingham and Carnatic Co., Ltd., reported in 1952 L.A.C. at page 498 "that it would be open to the Tribunal to examine the findings of the management on the charge of misconduct to assure itself that there is evidence to support the finding and that the decision of the management is a possible view on the evidence before it. In such a case the Tribunal should refrain from substituting its own judgement for the judgment of the management, as in such matters the Tribunal does not act like a Court of Appeal but rather as a supervisory body, exercising what would ordinarily be regarded as powers of revision for correction of basic errors which go to the root of the matter and of perverse findings". Having carefully considered the entire case on its merits the decision of the Court is that it cannot hold that the decision of the management is lacking in bona fides or that it is a case of victimisation or an unfair labour practice or of violation of the principles of natural and social justice, nor can the Court say that there is a basic error of facts or that the findings of the management are perverse on the materials. This is a clear case of gross insubordination and no useful purpose would have been served if the Company had given a charge-sheet calling upon the employee to explain the charge and held an enquiry and arrived at a conclusion. The deplorable incident that happened on the fateful afternoon of 19th December 1956 in the presence of Mr. De Penning and the employee needed no charges to be framed, nor any explanation therefor and in the circumstances it cannot be said that any prejudice was caused to the employee in the absence of an enquiry. Absence of a reasonable opportunity given to the employee does not by itself vitiate the enquiry but in order to vitiate the enquiry it must be shown that prejudice was caused to the employee. In this case I must say that no prejudice was caused to the employee because he deliberately refused to carry out the orders of the senior officer and the senior Managing Partner of the Company. In this connection reference may be made to the case of Amalgamated Tea Estate Co., Ltd., and Kerala Union Plantation Workers' Union reported in 1956 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 433, wherein it has been laid down that "in a domestic enquiry one should not expect a rigid observance of the rules of procedure prescribed either by the Criminal or Civil Procedure Codes but when the standing order itself lays down that the particulars of the offence complained of should be given in the charge-sheet, there can be no doubt that the enquiring officer should have complied with this requirement of the standing order. But the question at issue is whether on account of this omission on the part of the management the workmen in question were prejudiced in their defence and whether it has occasioned any failure of justice. According to section 284 of the Criminal Procedure Code even a criminal trial is not vitiated on account of any error in stating either the offence or the particulars required to be stated in the charge-sheet and no omission to state the offence or their particulars shall be regarded at any stage of the case as material, unless the accused was in fact misled by such error or omission and it has occasioned a failure of justice". "Rules of procedure are only handmaids of justice and any departure from such rules of procedure as laid down in the standing orders would not be material unless it is shown that the workmen concerned had materially been prejudiced by the adoption of an irregular procedure. There is no reliable evidence in any of the cases which we have before us that the workmen concerned had been prejudiced. In our opinion an enquiry conducted according to rules of natural justice would be sufficient."

In view of the rulings reported above and having regard to the case I must come to the finding that the dismissal in the present case is justified and that the failure to serve a charge-sheet before enquiry cannot be considered to have vitiated the enquiry in the absence of any proof that the employee was prejudiced in his defence.

Before parting with this case I may say that the Company raised a point that it is not an industrial dispute because his case was not taken up by any Union, nor did anybody of workmen collectively espouse his cause. This contention of course, is not pressed with vigour. The fact is that the case of the workman was taken up by the Patent and Trade Mark Agency Employees' Union. That being so, the contention of the Company that it is not an industrial dispute is overruled.

The conclusion therefore is that the dismissal of this employee is justified and he is not entitled to reinstatement. If the employee has any outstanding dues the Company will pay the amount to the employee within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. British Paints (India), Ltd., P.O. Botanical Gardens, Howrah, and their workers represented by Paint Workers' Mazdoor Union, 164 Andul Road, P.O. Botanical Gardens, Howrah.

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri M. Ghosh, Labour Adviser of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industries, Shri R. Goswami, Legal Adviser of the aforesaid Chamber of Commerce, and Shri S. Roy, Secretary of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri Ram Sen, Secretary.

By Government Order No. 1698Dis./D/11L-136/56, dated the 25th April 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), for adjudication. The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 30th April 1956. The Union filed written statement on 28th May 1956. The Company filed written objection on 25th June 1956. After several adjournments, the case was taken up for hearing on 27th March 1957. The argument was heard on 21st May 1957. The award was reserved.

3. The only issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Bonus for 1954.

(2) Revision of existing grades.

AWARD

4. Before I take up the issue, I would like to give a brief history of the dispute.

It is contended by the Union that the pay-scales in the existing grade system were fixed long ago, and that they require a change for the better in the context of changed circumstances. The existing grade system is also said to be defective inasmuch as there is no yearly increment. There is no job valuation, and so the pay system is defective. It is also contended that here the workers have got to handle poisonous gas and chemicals, and this has an adverse effect on their health. In view of the above nature of work, it is urged that the wage scales should be increased. Regarding bonus, it is contended that the bonus the workers are now getting is customary bonus payable annually. It is further contended that for the year 1954, over and above customary bonus, three months' extra bonus should be given to the workers.

The Company, on the other hand, contends that the business originally belonged to Messrs. Hadfields (India), Ltd., which got involved in debts. The present Management took it over in 1948 along with debts of the old Company, and it has to fight against keen competition. It has still to fight against debts. Its total personnel will be nearly 200. Its wage scales are far in excess of what are being paid by similar concerns in the neighbourhood. There are other facilities available here unlike similar other concerns. The Company resists the granting of automatic incremental scales of pay for the workers. They, however, give increments on the basis of satisfactory work and regular attendance. The minimum total monthly emolument of an unskilled worker is Rs. 89-6. The story of handling poisonous gas, etc., is said to be a myth. There has been no case of occupational disease, and unless one be careless one runs no hazard in handling chemicals. Regarding bonus, the Company denies the existence of customary bonus. The bonus which is given is based on profits. The Company proposed to give two months' basic wages as bonus for the year 1954. This was announced on the 29th March 1955, and the first instalment was given in March 1955. This quantum of bonus is claimed to be the highest bonus paid in the paint industry. The present claim of bonus is said to be barred because it arises after receipt of the bonus given. That the financial condition of the Company is bad will appear from the fact that after 1923 dividends were paid for the first time in 1953.

Issue No. 1: Coming to the issue in question, I must point out that the onus to prove the existence of customary bonus is on the Union. The Union has practically placed no evidence before the Tribunal in this respect which can be called reliable. Besides, the Ext. B, which is the agreement reached in 1952, with the Union, shows that bonus was not customary. The paragraph 6 of the said agreement runs thus:

> "The question of paying a bonus in September 1952, will entirely be dependent on the business conditions of the Company then, and will be reviewed in August 1952 in consultation with the Secretary, Howrah Paint Workers' Union".

It will not do for the Union just to say that the agreement in question had been with another Union, unless it can be shown beyond doubt that the said Union had bartered away the rights of the workers, or that it acted in collusion with the Management. Regarding the claim of bonus for the year 1954, Ext. D shows that bonus equal to one month's basic wage was promised to be paid, as in the previous year, at the Puja time, according to the usual schedule. The remaining one month's bonus was made payable subject to certain conditions. The workmen received bouns under this notice. So it is clear that the workmen did acquiesce in the conditions under which bonus was distributed as above. So it may be clearly said that they are estopped from raising a further claim for extra bonus in respect of the year 1954. Even if the question of estoppel is put out of account, still the claim of customary bonus is practically buried as a result of this notice, Ext. D. So I hold that the claim for customary bonus for the year 1954 stands rejected.

Regarding the claim for bonus based on profits, it may fairly be contended that after receipt of the bonus for the year 1954, such a claim cannot be agitated upon. Even if such a claim could be sustained, still I find that it is not maintainable on proper accounting. The Union has given one version in the light of the formula set forth by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the Rastriya Mill Mazdoor case, and the Company has given another version as per the Ext. J in pursuance of the same formula. So far as the net profit is concerned, the Union has accepted Rs. 6 lacs and odd as the net profit for the year in question. But the chart that the Union has submitted is rather clumsy, and does not take into note the reckoning as is done by their Lordships in working out the said formula in the aforesaid case. It has not granted any rehabilitation charge over the statutory depreciation. This is what is condemned by their Lordships in the said case and also in numerous other cases which followed it. It has given a return of a fixed nature. But why contractual return on preference shares should not be excluded, the Union has given no explanation. Similarly, the Management is entitled to exclude the return on deferred shares. It may be debatable whether it should be 10 per cent. or 5 per cent. But on account of the risk involved, I do not think that 10 per cent. interest is an unjustified figure. Besides, no participation profits were given for the last 30 years. That is also a consideration why return should be at 10 per cent. Regarding return on working capital the Union is silent. Here under this head, debenture capital to the tune of 26 lacs and odd was there, and 5 per cent. interest was stipulated. That is clear from the Ext. L and its enclosure. Regarding rehabilitation allowance, though I do not absolutely agree with the manner of working out, as pointed out in my award in the case of Messrs. Guest, Keen, Williams, Ltd., yet I find that the manner in which it has been worked out is as per lines suggested by the bonus formula of the Labour Appellate Tribunal, on which both sides have relied. Under the Ext. L, there was a stipulation for redemption of existing debentures to the tune of Rs. 2 lacs and odd. So that was a compulsory payment which the Management was required to make In this view of the matter, I find that the reckoning as per the Ext. J conforms to the requirement of the bonus formula set forth by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the Rashtriya Mill Mazdoor case. So there is a deficit to the extent of Rs. 2 lacs and odd. According to the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the Muir Mills case, there can be no bonus where there is no profit. Now, as there is no available surplus here for bonus, the claim for bonus, strictly speaking, does not lie.

Even this apart, I find that though the profits went up to 6 lacs and odd, yet this Company was involved in debts. That shows the precarious nature of existence of the Company. Its existence should be stabilised. Reserves have got to be built up, and they can be built up out of profits, mainly. So the Union should not grab on its profits, but should remain content to have the bonus that is given by the Company out of good will and grace.

Next, if I compare the bonus given in this Company with that in equal similar other concerns, I find that the bonus given by this Company compares favourably with any of them. If I turn to the Ext. A, I find that even Messrs. Jenson & Nicholson, a very big firm, did not grant more than two months' bonus for the year 1954. Shalimar Paints gave less, i.e., one and a half month's bonus. Messrs. Hoyle Robson and Messrs India Paints gave one month's bonus. Macfarlane Company granted no bonus at all, for the year 1954. So, it appears that the present Company granted the highest bonus in the paint industry in this region.

The same document shows that the bonus given in 1954 by this Company is on a par, if not better, with that given by other concerns in the same region. That takes away much of the force of the contention of the Union under this head. So I hold that the claim for extra bonus besides what has been given by the Company for the year 1954, viz., two months' wages, does not lie. If any moiety of it remains to be paid, that should be paid as soon as the award becomes operative.

Issue No. 2: Regarding the claim for revision of the existing grades, I find from the Ext. F that even an unskilled worker as an ordinary labourer gets Rs. 91-13 as initial salary, and Rs. 98-5 as the total salary at the top. He starts with Re. 1 per day. There is an increment reaching to Rs. 1-2 per day, and finally it reaches at Rs. 1-4 per day. Dearness allowance is given according to the B.C.C. scale on the middle class cost of living index. So dearness allowance is very liberal, and it is more than what can be legitimately claimed by the working class. The Bengal Chamber of Commerce has prescribed a graduated scale based on the fluctuating cost of living index, and it rises and falls according to certain slabs. Now, the middle-class cost of living is 80 per cent., or at least, 60 per cent. higher than the cost of living index of the working class. So I must say that the unskilled workers are getting pretty high emolument inclusive of dearness allowance on this liberal scale.

Next, if I look to the other classes of workers, I find that they are similarly well paid. The nature of their work has been detailed as per the Ext. A. It is clear from a perusal of the Ext. A that these workers do manual work more or less of mechanical nature, and there is not much skill required except in cases of technical men such as carpenters, tinsmiths, fitters, turners, electricians, welders, masons and blacksmiths. If I turn to the Ext. F, I find that an electrician gets Rs. 125 and odd per month. A turner gets a similar amount. Blacksmiths and masons get a little less. Carpenters and tinsmiths start with Rs. 109 and odd, and end with Rs. 125 and odd, inclusive of dearness allowance, of course. But is this not a very good emolument? There can be hardly any doubt that it is so. If it was an engineering industry, and was governed by the award of the major Engineering Tribunal's award, the pay inclusive of dearness allowance would not perhaps be half as much. So I find that there is no cause for interference, so far as the pay scales are concerned. In a paint industry as much as in an engineering industry, pay scales can never be automatic. That claim was turned down by the Major Engineering Tribunal, and for very good reasons. I need not reiterate them here.

About hazards in handling poisonous gas, I find that it is no more than what attends on the discharge of duties even in engineering concerns. There is no special feature in it. No case of occupational disease was cited before me. So, on that ground, to claim higher wages cannot be sustained.

But on one point, I feel that a little relief should be given. This is with regard to the minimum wage of a labourer. It should be Rs. 30 per month, or Rs. 1-2-6 per day. That being so, the next increment would be Rs. 1-4-6, and the further would be Rs. 1-6-6 per day. This will be prospective and will come into operation as soon as the award comes into operation. Barring this, the existing grades and wage scales should be maintained. This is my award.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under Government order No. 3953Dis./D/10L-120/56, dated 5th September 1956.

2. The petitioner contends that he has been made to retire prematurely at the age of 54 years, and that this has been done without the express permission of the Tribunal in writing before whom the main case was pending for adjudication. So section 33 of the Act has been violated. He claims relief under section 33A of the Act.

The Company resists the claim on the ground that under the Standing Orders, a man is liable to retirement on completion of 30 years' service, or on his reaching 55 years of age, whichever is earlier. In the present case the petitioner was appointed on the 1st April 1924. So he completed 30 years' service on 31st March 1954. Consequently he was liable to retirement on 1st April 1954. He was, however, allowed to continue in his service, on the basis of an agreement in a conciliation proceeding, up to 31st March 1957. So when he retired on that date, no permission of the Tribunal was necessary.

Turning to the evidence on record, I find that the Company has produced the service card of the petitioner, and in that card I find that his age was 21 years at the time of this appointment in March 1924. From this, it is clear that on 1st April 1957, he did not reach 55 years of age, but he completed his 30 years of service long before that. Now, as the Standing Orders stand, he is liable to retirement on his completion of 30 years' service because that is earlier than his attaining the age of 55 years. So the Company did not violate the Standing Orders in this matter of his retirement. It is the contention of the Union that this man was in the service of some other Company in 1928, and that this fact can be proved by evidence. But I do not go into that evidence. I find it superfluous. The petitioner has been made to retire not only on his completion of 30 years' service in this Company, but on maturity of the agreement term entered into before the Assistant Labour Commissioner. How can he avoid this agreement? So he was justly retired after end of March 1957. This petition under section 33A is, therefore, liable to be rejected, and I reject it accordingly.

And whereas the said First Labour Court has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri Manindra Mohon Ghosh, Proprietor, Bus No. WBR 175 of 28 Mahendra Goswami Lane, Calcutta-6 and one of his workmen Shri Ambika Prasad Panday represented by the Rashtriya Bus Mazdoor Congress, 45B Strand Bank Road, Calcutta, referred under Government order No. 1229-I.R./IR/4L-8/57, dated 18th April 1957. (Case No. VIII-C—32/57.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court

Appearances.

For the Union: Shri Ambika Prasad Panday, workman himself.

For the Company: Shri Manindra Mohon Ghosh.

The Government of West Bengal in the Department of Labour by order No. 1229-I.R./IR/4L-5/57, dated 18th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri Manindra Mohon Ghosh, Proprietor, Bus No. WBR 175 of 28 Mahendra Goswami Lane, Calcutta-6 and one of his workmen Shri Ambika Prasad Panday represented by the Rashtriya Bus Mazdoor Congress, 45B Strand Bank Road, Calcutta, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the termination of services of Shri Ambika Prasad Panday was justified? To what reliefs is he entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union is that Shri Manindra Mohon Ghosh owns a Bus No. WBR 175 which regularly plies in route Nos. 76 and 76A. The instant workman Shri Ambika Prasad Panday was appointed on 24th March 1956 as a permanent conductor and his daily wages were Rs. 3-8 only. On 31st August 1956 the workman suddenly received a letter from the Company terminating his service as and from that date. He was not charge-sheeted, nor was any enquiry held. Therefore this is a clear case of unfair labour practice and the Union urges that he should be reinstated.

The Company in its statement has denied the allegations of the Union and contends that this conductor was a temporary hand since 19th June 1956 on daily wages. The workman indulged in various malpractices which amounted to misconduct and he was also found guilty of insubordination and disobedience. In the circumstances the Company was obliged to terminate his service. On the date fixed for trial (6th August 1957) both the parties put in a petition of compromise settling their disputes. On a perusal of the terms of compromise I find that the same are fair and reasonable. In the circumstances the terms of the petition of compromise may be given effect to. The petition of compromise will form a part of the award.

This is my award.

Dictated and corrected by me.

James Wright Limited, United India Buildings, 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their employees represented by the James Wright Employees' Union, 23A Netaji Subhas Road (top floor), Calcutta-1, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto, was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. James Wright Limited, United India Buildings, 22 Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the James Wright Employees' Union, 23A Netaji Subhas Road (top floor), Calcutta. (Case No. VIII—91/56.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, with Shri K. P. Mookerji, Solicitor of Messrs. Khaitan & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.

By Government order No. 1696Dis./D/11L-123/56, dated the 25th April 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal presided over by me, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), for adjudication. The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 28th April 1956. After usual notices the Union filed written statement on 21st May 1956. The Company filed written objection on 11th June 1956. After several adjournments for interlocutory matters such as inspection, etc., the case was taken up for hearing on 5th March 1957, and the evidence was concluded on that day. The argument was heard on 17th June 1957, and the award was reserved.

3. The issues contained in the schedule to the order of reference stand as follows:—

(1) Pay and scales of pay.

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Provident Fund.

(4) Overtime.

AWARD

4. According to the Union, this Company is a well-known firm of long standing dealing in all kinds of provisions such as Jams, Sauce, Pickles, Meats, Butter, Cheese, Fruits, Vegetables, Liquors, Toilets, Razor Blades and sundry stationery articles. This Company being a member of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry, introduced in March 1947 for its employees scales of pay and dearness allowance on the lines recommended by the said Chamber of Commerce at that time. The employees, however, were not satisfied with this, and they went on agitating for better emoluments and amenities till the Omnibus Tribunal (Mercantile Tribunal) was set up by the Government under its order No. 135Lab., dated 17th January 1948. The workmen, however, withdrew participation from the said Tribunal on a tacit understanding from the Company that the Company would implement whatever is awarded by the said Tribunal. But the Company was not as good as its promise, and did not redeem the said pledge. Now, though the cost of living index has gone up from 401 to 410 points in respect of the middle-class cost of living index and from 321 to 330 points in respect of working class cost of living, the Company refused to increase the amount of D.A. Accordingly, the Union which was formed in October 1955, submitted a charter of demands to the Company on the 6th December 1955. The present reference is the result of that, when conciliation failed to produce any tangible results.

According to the Company, it is faced with serious difficulties due to the uncertain nature of the import policy of the Government for the past few years. The result has been that the Company has been forced practically to cut down its import programme and under-sell its commodities. It is denied emphatically that that it was ever a party to the Mercantile Tribunal aforesaid, or did give any assurance to the workmen to make good the award that would be passed by the said Tribunal. On the other hand, the Company contends that at the time of adjudication of the dispute before the said Mercantile Tribunal, the employees of the Company recorded in writing that there was no pending dispute between the present Company and its workmen. Even before that, the Company further says, there had been an agreement entered into between the Company and its employees in which dearness allowance was put on a progressive scale according to the rise in the cost of living index up to a certain point. This was confirmed by a circular, dated 1st April 1958. The Company pleads its inability to increase the dearness allowance on the ground that it is struggling against a crisis. For the same reason it is not in a position to increase either the wage scales or the grades of pay. Whatever profit the Company did make in the past was largely due to the help the Company received from other sources and on having loans of capital without interest and other advantages. At the present time due to certain extraneous factors beyond control, the Company has been forced to fall back upon its own resources with the result that the Company finds itself in a very tight corner. It was contemplated to have recourse to retrenchment and drastic economy in all matters of expenses. Due to hard competition in the market, the Company cannot raise the prices of commodities with the result that it has to defray duties practically unaided. Regarding the Provident Fund, the Company says that it is unable to increase the rate. It allowed what it could permit having been to that extent under exemption from income-tax. Regarding the claim of overtime allowance, the Company resists it on the gorund that there are slack periods when the employees do not have much work, and this would compensate the work in rush periods. To crown this, the employees have started "go slow" tactics, says the Company, and it apprehends that overtime allowance would merely set a premium upon it.

Issue No. 1—Pay and scales of pay

The Union demands gradations of pay on the basis of the award of the Tribunal in the case referred to it under G.O. No. 2820Dis./D/11L-153(54), dated 1st June 1954, concerning a dispute between Messrs. Harrison & Crossfield Ltd., Calcutta, and their workmen published in the "Calcutta Gazette", Part I, dated 3rd February 1955. The Union in its statement has demanded a special grade at Rs. 260 and upwards, and the other grades demanded are as follows:

Grade A—Rs. 160—10—260.

Grade B—Rs. 75—5—110—6—140—10—190.

The Company is at present granting a special grade at Rs. 250 and upwards. The other grades are as follows:—

Grade A—Rs. 150—10—250.

Grade B—Rs. 100—7—170.

Grade C—Rs. 60—4—124.

Grade D—Rs. 60—2—90.

Now, if I turn to the Ext. F, I find that under the existing grade system, in the grade D the maximum limit of Rs. 90 is reached after 15 years. So an employee does not have any increment of pay thereafter till his 24th year of service. Similarly, in the grade C the maximum of Rs. 124 is reached in the 16th year of service. An employee stagnates there for the remaining 8 years. In the grade B the maximum of Rs. 170 is reached at the 10th year, and an employee rots at that figure for the remaining 14 years of his service. Similarly, in the grade A, an employee reaches the maximum limit of Rs. 250 in his 10th year of service. He does have before him 14 years of service normally, during which time he will get no increment. So it is clear that under the present system an employee has to remain practically without any increment for more than half the length of his total period of service. This is anything but desirable. A man thereby loses the zest of service if he is made to rot at a particular fixed salary for a considerable period of time. The grade system should be formulated in such a manner that a man by having increments from time to time may keep up his zeal or enthusiasm for the service till he reaches the top of the grade. In this view, the grade system in this Company calls for a revision. If I turn to the award in the industrial dispute between the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry and its employees, published in the "Calcutta Gazette", on 8th February 1949, I get there 4 grades, corresponding to the grades here, of course, on a little greater scales of pay. I get there the following grades:

Special grade—Rs. 260 and upwards.

Grade A—Rs. 160—10—260.

Grade B—Rs. 110—7—180.

Grade C—Rs. 70—4—134.

Grade D—Rs. 70—3—130.

If I compare this table of grades with the existing one in this Company, I find that excepting the grades D there is not much divergence in the remaining other grades. Only they are a little higher by Rs. 10 and the amount of yearly increment is practically the same. Now, this Company being a member of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry, I think this aforesaid grade should answer the exigency of the case admirably. At the same time, it will not impose any heavy burden on the financial condition of the present concern. So I supplant the existing grades by the above. Of course, under this new grading of wage scales also an employee will reach the top of his grade in 10 or 15 years' time. But it is a little better in the sense that there is not much divergence between the grade A and the special grade, and also between the grade C and the grade D. If the Company so minds and pleases, it may promote employees from the grade A to the special grade where the prospect will be maintained till the end. Similarly, in the cases of the grade C and the grade D, I do not think that there is much difference in fact, in the ilk of the persons occupying the said grades. Under the existing grades the divergence in these two grades is very wide because the maximum in one case is Rs. 90 while in the other case it is Rs. 124. The revised grades as given in the award of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry are better in that view than the present grades and scales of pay in this Company. In support of the Union's contention that the grades should be as per the award regarding Messrs. Harrison & Crossfield Ltd., no reason has been placed by it why it should be so. Besides, in the said award the grades C and D have been amalgamated. Now, why they should be amalgamated? The Union could not impress me by any cogent or plausible reason in this respect. So I am unable to accede to the Union's contention. On the other hand, I am inclined to think that it will conduce to industrial peace if divergence of scales of pay is reduced to the minimum between one member unit and another member unit of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry. That is also an additional reason for my introducing the above grades.

Regarding the drivers, the Union claims as per its written statement, a grade of Rs. 75—5—110. Under the existing grade they get Rs. 60—2—90. But in the aforesaid award of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry, I find that motor drivers have been given a salary of Rs. 65 only. The present condition of salary of the drivers here is thus in a way better than what is provided for under the award regarding the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry, because here, though with a less starting salary, the drivers have been allowed a grade of pay which is absent in the award of the aforesaid Chamber of Commerce. I think the present pay and wage scales of the drivers in this Company are quite adequate and require no interference.

Regarding the sub-staff, the Union claims as per its written statement, a scale of Rs. 30—2—60. The Company is at present giving two grades for the sub-staff, viz., (1) Rs. 20—2—30 and (2) Rs. 30—1—50. I do not think that there should be any pay less than Rs. 30 per month at the present moment. That is the minimum salary given in most of the Tribunal awards for keeping body and soul together of a workman. So I abolish the first one, viz., the grade of Rs. 20—1—30 and allow the other one, viz., the grade of Rs. 30—1—50 to continue as the one single grade for the sub-staff.

Regarding the fitting in of the existing employees in the revised grade, what I award is that they should be put to a point where their pay warrants in the grade allowed by this award. If one's present pay is the same as the one in the new grade, then it should be fixed there. But if it is somewhat between one point and the other in the new grade, then in that case an increment should be given just to pull it up to the next higher point of the pay scale in the new grade. I do not allow any retrospective operation of the new grade. This new grade will come into operation on the 1st day of the month following the month when the award becomes operative. The scales of pay, for the convenience of reference, will find place in the Appendix to this award. The Union has shown in the Annexure A to its written statement, the scales of pay and D.A. in different commercial firms in the neighbourhood. But the authenticity of the document remains to be proved. So I am unable to accept it.

Issue No. 2—Dearness allowance

This issue relates to the claim of dearness allowance. The Union claims dearness allowance for the clerical staff and the subordinate staff on the basis of the middle-class cost of living index as recommended by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry, and that with retrospective effect from January 1953. The ground for their demand is that at their instance, the Omnibus Mercantile Tribunal had been set up in January 1948 under G.O. No. 135Lab. But they withdrew from the said Tribunal on the tacit understanding from the Company that they would be given the benefits of the award that would be passed eventually by the said Mercantile Tribunal. But the Company did not implement the said award, and its staff were denied the promised benefits of the said award. The Company, however, denies this allegation. The Company's Manager Shri K. N. Roy, O.P.W. 1, who has deposed before me, has specifically denied having given any such assurance to the workmen by the Company. The Union could not place before me any document, or the order of reference showing inclusion of the name of this Company in the aforesaid Omnibus Mercantile Tribunal. The onus to substantiate this lay on the Union which the Union signally failed to discharge. The Union relies on the statement of the Company at page 2 of its written statement, that at the time of the dispute the employees of the Company recorded in writing that no dispute existed between the Company and its employees. But this does not go far enough. It does not say that this matter of no dispute was mentioned before the Mercantile Tribunal. Besides, if any such statement was made by the Union, then how can it now say contrary to that statement, that there did really exist a dispute at that time between it and the management? Next, the award of the Mercantile Tribunal, so far as D.A. was concerned, was based on an agreement between the parties before it. So that agreement, strictly speaking, was binding on the parties who did figure before that Tribunal, and on none else. This Company being not a party thereto, cannot be bound down to pay D.A. on the scale formulated under an agreement between the parties before the Mercantile Tribunal. So, to invoke the benefit of the said award concerning D.A., the Union has got to place tangible materials before the Tribunal which it has failed to do. On the other hand, I get from Shri K. N. Roy, O.P.W. 1, that the Ext. H was circulated to all the branch offices to his knowledge, and it was given to the workers. The circular was put into effect to enforce wages and D.A. Then if I turn to the Ext. G, dated the 25th February 1947, I find that dearness allowance was given on the middle-class cost of living index number on different slabs, gradually rising by 10 points from 180 points to 300 points. Sixty per cent. on the first rupees one hundred, 30 per cent. on the second rupees one hundred, and 15 per cent. on the balance of the salary were the extent of the D. A. that was provided for under the Ext. G. This is on the lines chalked out by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce for its constituent members. It is the case of the Company that it was not contemplted that D.A. would go beyond 300 points, having 100 points as the index of cost of living in 1939 as its base. It is further stated that the Company was opposed to granting D.A. beyond 300 points of the cost of living index having its base at 100 points in 1939. This finds corroboration in the Ext. G. That is proved. Now, it is the contention of the Union that as the cost of living index has far exceeded 300 points, why should not D.A. be increased accordingly. No doubt, there is some force in this contention. But the position is that, if the Bengal Chamber of Commerce award cannot be extended to the workmen in this Company per se, what should be the reasonable dearness allowance? The present D.A. in that view is not unreasonable. The scale of D.A. in the Bengal Chamber of Commerce was most liberal. I have great doubt, if it was not agreed upon by the parties, whether the Tribunal would have awarded D.A. to this extent. Next, when all is said, the fact remains whether the present Company is in a position to pay any increased D.A. Regard being had to the evidence on record, I think that the present Company is not in a position to give any increased D.A. The import position of the Company is not good. There are restrictions. The present Company deals mainly in imported goods. So there has been considerable shrinkage in profits on account of restrictions on imports. The audited balance sheet and the profit and loss account show that the Company is faced with a dismal prospect in its trading position. Dearness allowance certainly depends on the Company's capacity to pay. That capacity does not appear to be sound enough, and for the present it is really shaky. So I am unable to grant further D.A. beyond what is being given by the Company. I reject the claim of the Union in this respect.

Issue No. 3—Provident Fund

Regarding the Provident Fund, the Union claims that the rate of contribution should be at 10 per cent. in place of 6¼ per cent. of the salary, as at present. Besides, there should be compensation at the rate of half month's salary for each completed year of service for the period uncovered by the Provident Fund.

The Company contends that it grants Provident Fund contribution by the employees and the employers at 6¼ per cent. of the salary only because it is exempted from the income-tax. It cannot increase it, and thereby increase the amount of income-tax. But this contention I am unable to accept in toto. Contribution to the extent of 6¼ per cent. is no doubt immune from the liability to pay income-tax. But that does not mean that the contribution cannot be higher. Lots of other companies, and even engineering firms, are allowing Provident Fund contribution at a higher rate than this 6¼ per cent. Even the Government Provident Fund Act contemplates for the workers 10 per cent. as the contribution out of the salary of the workmen. 6¼ per cent. as the amount of contribution to the Provident Fund was originally given in the Major Engineering Tribunal's Award. But that has also been altered. So I make the Provident Fund contribution to be 8 per cent. of the salary of a workman having in it an equal share of contribution by the Company. This will come into operation from the first of the month following the month when the award becomes operative. The Company should not grudge the extra amount of income-tax it will have to pay consequent on this small enhancement of the rate of contribution to the Provident Fund. It should be borne in mind that Provident Fund has a great salutary effect on the industry itself. It teaches the workmen to lay by something for the future. That also serves as a retiral benefit in old age. It also checks frequent turnovers which is a bane in most of the companies. It cuts down absenteeism. So in the long run the Company does not stand to lose by such contribution to the Provident Fund.

For the period uncovered by the Provident Fund, there should be some compensation. It may be that there are many old employees who do not get much benefit of the Provident Fund because of its introduction towards the end of their service period. So I grant them in lieu of Provident Fund, compensation at the rate of half month's salary for each completed year of service just before the introduction of the Provident Fund system. This should be paid during the retirement when they leave the service as a retiral benefit.

Issue No.4.—Overtime

This relates to the claim for overtime allowance. Overtime is allowed under the Factories Act. As this concern is not a factory, the Company resists the claim on this head. The Company is, no doubt, justified in that view. But even in commercial concerns overtime allowance is provided for under awards of Tribunals. They are treated as units governed by the Shops and Establishments Act. So if the workmen have to work beyond the scheduled hours, they are entitled to get some overtime allowance. The scheduled hour of departure in this Company is 5 p.m. on week days, and it is 1 p.m. on Saturday, as I get in evidence. For one hour after the scheduled hour of departure no overtime will be payable. But beyond that, for each hour of work the workmen will get 1½ times their wages,—I mean, salary and D.A. It is contended by the Company that the workmen are going slow, and overtime allowance would only encourage it further. No evidence has been placed before me showing that the workmen are guilty of "slow down" tactics. So, I do not see how the granting of the legitimate overtime wages would encourage slow down on the part of the workmen. The Company next says that there is slack season as well as brisk season in the business. So no overtime should be granted. I find no force in this contention. If there is any slack period, the question of overtime allowance then does not arise. But if during the brisk period the workmen are detained longer than the scheduled hours of work of the Company, why should they be deprived of overtime wages? They cannot be held answerable for slack and brisk business. So the contention of the Company is overruled and overtime allowance is allowed as above.

Agents: Hoare Miller & Co., Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 5 Fairlie Place, Calcutta and their workmen represented by the Ganges Engineering Works Workers' Union, 80 Dawnagazee Road, Bally, Howrah, regarding the following issue, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1273I.R./IR/10L-42/57, dated the 23rd April 1957.

Issue

How is the gratuity awarded by the first Omnibus Engineering Tribunal by way of retirement benefit for the period uncovered by Provident Fund to be calculated?

After usual notices both parties filed written statements.

AWARD

Issue No. 1: On the question of interpretation of the award of the first Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, Shri J. N. Chatterjee, appearing on behalf of the Company, at the outset, contended that the reference was bad in law, and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain it. Shri Patit Paban Pathak, on behalf of the Union, referred to paragraph 7 of the agreement, dated 9th February 1957, and pointed out that this issue was, by common consent, submitted to the Government for its reference to a Tribunal. Therefore, Shri Chatterjee cannot raise that objection in this case. Apart from the legality of the question it was contended that it would be improper to question a course of action settled by an agreement, which was binding on the parties. Shri Chatterjee, in view of the terms of the agreement, agreed not to press the legal objection, and did not press it.

The question involved in the dispute is a short one. The parties before me hold different views, and the matter was made more complicated at the stage of conciliation. Hence the necessity of an adjudication for clarification of the point. This Company has introduced a Contributory Provident Fund, with effect from March 1949, apparently, in terms of the said award in reference. It had a gratuity scheme already in operation. It appears from the written statement of the Union, and the arguments advanced by the learned representatives of the parties, that the question in dispute lies within a narrow compass. The directions given by the Tribunal, at page 112 of its award (Government publication—awards made by Major Engineering Tribunal during 1948, Vol. III), relevant for our purpose, are:

(i) On retirement after continuous service for not less than 25 years—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's pay for each completed year of service, subject to a maximum of 15 months' pay.

(ii) On retirement before completing 25 years' continuous service, owing to illness, old age or any other sufficient cause, with the written consent of the employer—Gratuity at the rate of half a month's pay for each year of completed service.

(iii) For the period for which the Contributory Provident Fund has been in operation, the employees falling in clauses (i) and (ii) will receive the whole amount of the employees' contribution to the fund; but in calculating the gratuity payable, the period for which the Contributory Provident Fund has been in existence will be deducted from the total period of service. The maximum period of service for those failing in clause (i) will be deemed to be 30 years for the purpose of this clause.

It is evident from the above that the award directed a method for calculating the gratuity payable in a case, as here, where both gratuity and contributory provident fund are in operation. The award decided that the workmen are entitled to claim only one kind of retiring benefit. Accordingly, it directed that the period for which the contributory provident fund has been in existence, will be deducted from the total period of service and that the maximum period of service for employees falling in clause (i) will be deemed to be 30 years for the purpose of clause (iii). The parties have no difference of opinion regarding this. They have differences only on the question whether the gratuity should be calculated on the basis of the wage-rate prevailing prior to the introduction of the provident fund, or, as at the date of the retirement. The Company's case is that since the employees are not entitled to double benefits, of both gratuity and provident fund, on retirement, under the award, it is only reasonable to hold that the wages should be calculated for payment of gratuity at the rate prevalent before the introduction of the contributory provident fund, i.e., at the rate paid in February 1949. I have considered the arguments advanced by the learned representatives of both sides, and have also carefully considered the relevant portion of the award, and I find that:

(i) the award does not say that the wages should be calculated at the rates as they stood in February 1949, i.e., at the rate just before the introduction of the scheme of the contributory provident fund,

(ii) the only direction made in this respect is that in calculating gratuity payable for the period, for which the contributory provident fund has been in existence, that period shall be deducted from the total period of service,

(iii) it would not be proper to make any anticipation, assumption or surmise in this respect,

(iv) the payment of retiring benefit is dependent on retirement and no one can either claim it or get it before he actually retires from service. Therefore, the only relevant date in this connection is the date of retirement.

It is, therefore, reasonable to conclude that the retiring benefits should be calculated on the basis of rates of wages as they exist at the time of retirement. This view appears to get some support from the earlier provisions made, at page 111 of the said award, regarding the method of calculation of gratuity under a gratuity scheme for small companies, employing less than 100 men. There it is stated as follows:

"Gratuity is to be calculated on the basis of average substantive pay during the last 12 months of service."

This seems to me to be the implication of the directions given at page 112 of the award. This is also in conformity with the universal practice, which prevails everywhere, where similar payments are made on retirement. It is, therefore, not reasonable to think that the award by implication directs payment of gratuity, calculated on the basis of average substantive pay as it stood before the date of the introduction of the contributory provident fund. It would be fallacious to say or suggest that, on retirement, the date, on which the gratuity system ceased to be in operation, is to be taken into consideration for the purpose of payment of retiral benefits, and not the date, when an employee actually retired. It would be equally wrong to say that for payment of gratuity the rates of wages, as they stood, year after year, before the period when the contributory provident fund came into existence should be taken into reckoning.

In my opinion, gratuity is to be calculated under the award in question, on the basis of average substantive pay during the last 12 months of service immediately before the date of actual retirement. I answer the issue accordingly.

This is my award.

Chhayabani Cinema, Rajpur, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union, 53 Creek Row, Calcutta-14, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication:

(2) Pear Ali Sardar.

(3) Kamal Karmakar.

(4) Sunil Ghosh.

AWARD

This is a case arising out of termination of services of certain employees as surplus by the Chhayabani Cinema.

The case of the Union is that the aforesaid Cinema Company had no fixed terms and conditions of service. The employees therefore formed a union. This enraged the company who started victimising employees one after another. These 6 workmen were victimised purely for their trade union activities and the termination of their services is unjust and mala fide and they should be reinstated.

The Company denies the allegations in the written statement of the union and its case is that the Cinema House was opened on 26th March 1956 and the employees concerned were employed on a temporary basis and they had to be retrenched because the Company was suffering heavy losses and could not afford to retain these workmen in services. Other objections in the written statement are not pressed. The Company has emphatically denied the allegation of victimisation.

DECISION

This Cinema House was started on 26th March 1956. There is no dispute that these workmen were employed on a temporary basis since the formation of the Company. It is admitted by the office Secretary (Sibnath Chatterjee) of the Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union that the financial condition of the Company is not good. This Secretary has simply stated that these workmen were victimised because of their trade union activities. Beyond his bare verbal statement there is nothing else to corroborate it. Curiously enough some of the disimssed workmen who were present in Court were not examined. Thus there is no evidence worth the name to substantiate the allegation of victimisation. On the other hand, as admitted by the office Secretary, the financial condition of the Company is not good. The Proprietor also produced Account Books before the Court and examined two other witnesses to prove the condition of the Company and I have no reason to disbelieve them. I am therefore satisfied that the Company is not in an affluent position to retain these workmen in their services. It is also in evidence that the Proprietor raised a loan to the tune of Rs. 15,000 for starting the Cinema House. If the business were brisk we would expect that the Company would certainly maintain the full complement of the initial staff. This being the nature of the evidence and there being no proof of ill-feeling between the Company and workmen, I cannot hold that these workmen were victimised simply for their trade union activities. There is also no proof that these workmen vigorously took up trade union activities so as to alienate the sympathy of the Proprietor. The Company knows its financial conditions quite well and obviously for rationalisation of the staff and economy the Company was obliged to effect this retrenchment and the Court should not ordinarily interfere with the policy of the Company. It is a prima facie right of the Management to determine its labour force and the Management would be the best judge to determine who would become surplus on the ground of rationalisation, economic or other reasons on which retrenchment can be sustained and if the Management acting in a bona fide manner effects the retrenchment, the Court should not interfere with the retrenchment which the Management may effect [vide the case of Viswamitra Press reported in 1952 L.A.C., pages 20-33]. Then there is one other fact that criminal cases are pending against some of these workmen and some are absconding even now. In the present state of things even if there be orders for reinstatement of some of them they cannot be expected to venture to appear publicly to take up the job. The Court in the circumstances cannot interfere with the termination of services of these employees which therefore stands justified.

These workmen are not entitled to reinstatement but they must, however, be awarded the retrenchment benefits under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act as they have been in continuous service for not less than a year. Having regard to the present financial condition of the Company I award these workmen only one month's wages in lieu of notice and 15 days' wages for the completed year of service under the Company.

Another point was taken though not pressed during trial, namely, that this is an individual dispute because these workmen are not members of any union but this point has ultimately abandoned. O.P.W. 2 has admitted in cross-examination that the dismissed workmen are members of the union and the office Secretary has also deposed that some of the dismissed workmen are members of the Bengal Motion Pictures Employees' Union who have espoused their cause. So there is no substance in the contention of the Company that this is an individual dispute.

The Company will therefore pay these workmen their wages for a month and a half within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

ORDER

No. 3130-I.R./IR/10L-105/57.—19th August 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4023Dis./D/10L-130/56, dated the 8th September 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Dhar Tin Factory, 101 Akhoy Kumar Mukherjee Road, Calcutta-36, and their workmen represented by Dhar Tin Workers' Union,

1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-3, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Sixth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Dhar Tin Factory, 101 Akhoy Kumar Mukherjee Road, Calcutta-36, and their workmen represented by Dhar Tin Factory Workers' Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-3. (Case No. VIII-362 of 1955.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, President of the Union.

For the Company: Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate.

This reference was made by Government order No. 4023Dis./D/10L-130/55, dated Calcutta, the 8th September 1956, for adjudication on the following points:—

(1) Bonus for 1954.

(2) Festival holidays.

The Union in its written statement alleged that bonus equivalent to 12 days' wages is being paid. The workers should be paid additional bonus equal to four weeks' wages. They stated further that they used to enjoy 24 festival holidays which have been reduced to 10 days. Festival holidays should be allowed for 24 days as in the past.

The Company's written statement in opposition raised the defence that the Company used to allow 24 days' leave annually including festival holidays. At the instance of the workmen statutory leave is being granted in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act and 10 days' festival and other holidays. No variation would be justified. The Company denied that the workers are entitled to customary bonus.

Issue No. 1—Bonus for 1954

Workers claim bonus for 1954. In the written statement the claim was made for customary bonus. But it was admitted that prior to 1953, no bonus used to be paid. It appears that there was a reference in 1953 which was disposed of by an award on compromise. Exhibit A is the award to which is attached the petition of compromise. Issue No. 7 relates to bonus. The Union's written statement in that case, Ext. B, shows that bonus was claimed for 1950. In the compromise petition it was provided that three weeks' earnings would be paid as bonus in instalments. Since bonus was not paid before 1953, no case of customary bonus has been made out. The Union representative submitted that the claim was not for profit bonus. In this state of things the claim for bonus must fail as no custom has been proved and admittedly no share of the profits is claimed as profit bonus.

Issue No. 2—Festival holidays

Formerly the Company used to grant 24 days' leave including festival holidays. At the instance of the workmen this was split up. Statutory leave is now granted under the Factories Act and 10 festival holidays are allowed. The learned Advocate for the Company submitted that in all 12 days' holidays are allowed. The issue submitted for adjudication being festival holidays the question of leave is beyond the purview of this reference. Under the Major Engineering Awards 10 days' festival holidays are allowed in factories. In this case 2 more days are allowed by the Company. The workers are not entitled to any enhancement of the festival holidays.

(Case No. 7 of 1957 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri Sailesh Sen, Advocate.

For the workmen: Shri Parimal Das, President of the Union.

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was preferred by three workmen who are under suspension under an order made by the India Cycle Manufacturing Co., Ltd., on 26th July 1955.

Charge-sheets were drawn up against these workers and several others on various heads. One of the incidents in which these workers were supposed to have been involved was riotous disturbance in the Company's factory. The workers' case is that they were perfectly innocent and have been wrongly placed under suspension. No enquiry was held into the allegations made against them. They requested the management time and again to lift the suspension and permit them to resume their duty. The management turned a deaf ear to their importunities.

The Company submitted in its written statement that following disturbances in the factory these three workers were suspended pending enquiry into the charges. No enquiry could however be held as they did not turn up. The order of suspension had been passed before commencement of proceedings before the Tribunal. There can be hence no contravention of section 33 as at the date of suspension no proceeding under the Industrial Disputes Act was pending.

There was disturbance in the factory on the 25th of July 1955. On the next day charge-sheets were drawn up against a number of workers including those three men. Exhibit 2 is a specimen of the charge-sheets. These workers could not be served with charge-sheets before November of that year as letters addressed to them by registered post came back undelivered [vide Exts. B, B(1) and B(2)]. They were however traced through the help of the Union President and a date for enquiry was fixed. The evidence of P.W. 1 is that they had attended the enquiry and had denied the charges. Manmotho Babu who held the enquiry asked them to come on another date. No further enquiry was however held. The evidence of the Company's witness O.P.W. 1 is that Ratan Sen and Jagadish Mitra attended some day in February 1956 when he was holding enquiry but they refused to reply to questions and took up a highly defiant attitude. He asked the men to go away. The President of the Union was informed and requested to be present at another enquiry that was proposed to be held later. He did not however come. In the result no enquiry could be held.

The order of suspension was in fact passed before proceedings under the Act had started. There could hence be no contravention of section 33 at that stage. The point for consideration now is whether thereafter the suspension took the form of punishment. Learned Advocate for the Company relied on the case decided by their Lordships of the Supreme Court which is reported in 1957 1, L.L.J., page 17. Their Lordships held that suspension without pay even for an indefinite period pending enquiry or pending permission of the appropriate Tribunal to dismiss workman would not be punishment requiring permission of the Tribunal. Though this particular order of suspension was not punishment at its inception, circumstances gave a different turn later on. O.P.W. 1 admitted that all hopes of enquiry had been given up. Last attempt to hold enquiry was made in February 1956. Since then the matter is at a standstill. The workers applied more than once to the management for permission to return to duty but no reply was given. Their prayer was not granted. The dictum of their Lordships of the Supreme Court relied on by the learned advocate is of no assistance to him as after the idea of holding enquiry was given up, the suspension cannot be said to have been pending enquiry or permission of any Tribunal. This suspension assumed a different complexion and cannot but be regarded as punishment. The workers are deprived of their wages and no indication was given that they will be taken back. The Company by its attitude demonstrated that relationship of master and servant had ceased to exist. This change in the character of suspension took place during the pendency of the reference proceeding. Accordingly, section 33 must be held to have been contravened.

Learned Advocate for the Company argued that refusal to employ these men might be construed as lock-out as defined in the Act. Lock-out implies continuance of relationship of master and servant. The management does not however regard these people as their workmen. Neither are they paid their wages nor are they called upon for performance of duty. Strictly speaking this cannot be taken as lock-out, for a lock-out is generally adopted as a security measure and not on account of any offence committed by the workmen. A lock-out would also be punishment if the refusal to employ is attributable to any offence or misconduct. In my view therefore though suspension in this case did not contravene section 22 at its commencement, it did so when the Company decided not to hold an enquiry and to let matters remain hanging indefinitely. To my thinking they are entitled to relief on the finding that by the course of events this paricular suspension was converted into punishment by the final decision of the management not to hold any enquiry, and not to allow them to return to duty. The application is accordingly allowed. The management is directed to allow them to join their duty and to pay their wages from March 1956 till the date they are taken back, which must be accomplished within fifteen days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Cooke & Kelvey Ltd., 20 Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Cooke & Kelvey Workers' Union, 1/1 Tarak Mitra Lane, Calcutta. (Case No. VIII-62/57.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri H. L. Roy, Pleader.

For the Company: Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

An industrial dispute, in respect of the following issues, between Messrs. Cooke & Kelvey Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 20 Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Cooke & Kelvey Workers' Union, 1/1 Tarak Mitra Lane, Calcutta, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 676-I.R./D/11L-274/55, dated the 4th March 1957.

Both the parties filed written statements, adduced evidence, oral and documentary and advanced arguments in the case.

Issues

(1) Whether the workers are entitled to receive any additional bonus over and above what has already been paid for the year 1954-55? If so, at what rate?

(2) Whether the termination of services of Shri Makhan Lal Das was justified? To what relief is he entitled?

FINDINGS

Issue No. 2: The services of P.W. 1 Shri Makhan Lal Das were terminated with effect from 26th April 1956. The Company's case is that this was done as there was no work for him, i.e., for dearth of work. Shri Das, in his evidence before this Tribunal, said that he did not desire to go back to work, and claimed compensation for retrenchment. He frankly stated that there was no work in office for him, and that in the matter of retrenchment, the Company followed the normal rule of "last come, first go". His elder brother, the only other Polisher in the service of the Company, who entered service 8 or 9 years before him, remains in service. Shri Das is an ordinary member of the Union and, therefore, the Union did not rightly press the claim for reinstatement on the ground of victimisation. We take it that the retrenchment, in his case, is justified, and Shri Das is entitled to retrenchment relief. In fact, the Company, in its letter (Ext. C), dated 26th April 1956, offered him viz., (i) earned wages up to date, (ii) one month's pay in lieu of notice, and (iii) retrenchment compensation at the rate of 15 days' for each year of service. The offer was considered inadequate and refused. The Union further demanded gratuity in terms of Shri M. C. Banerji's award and retrenchment compensation at the statutory rate for 32 years of service, i.e., for a total period of service not only before this Company but also before its predecessor in the business. Shri M. C. Banerji's award was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 14th May 1953. Gratuity, it appears, is payable only on retirement from service and on death, and not in a case like this, when the services of an employee are terminated by way of retrenchment on the ground of dearth of work. There is nothing in the award to support a claim for gratuity on retrenchment over and above the statutory compensation on this account. The claim for gratuity should, therefore, fail.

P.W. 1 Shri Das said that he was in service of this Company for the last 32 years before his retrenchment. He did not get any appointment letter but he proved a certificate (Ext. 1) which he received from a former partner Mr. Binns of this business. The certificate is dated 15th April 1947. In it, it is stated that Shri Das, when he was a young lad, entered service of this business over 20 years ago, that is to say Shri Das joined this business while a young man more than 20 years before 15th April 1947. He has put in another 9 years of service before his retrenchment. That makes a total of 29 years, in place of 32 years, spoken of by him in his deposition. There is no evidence on the Company's side to show that this evidence of Shri Das is untrue. That he continued in service till his retrenchment without any break is also established in this case. There has been, it is alleged by the Company, two changes of employers, viz., (1) when Shri Khemka purchased this partnership business from Mr. Binns and Mr. Deeks and (ii) when the business was converted into a public limited company as it is at this day. Apart from the brief recital of this fact in Shri S. C. Datta Gupta's award (Ext. B), dated the 12th June 1948, there is no evidence on the Company's side to show when and how the original business was transferred to this Company. That there had been a transfer was partly conceded by Shri Das, but as a worker he was not interested in the change. His service was uninterrupted and the service conditions remained as they existed before, with a very slight alteration in hours of attendance. He continued in service for over 29 years in this business. It appears from the Ext. B that the business is still being carried on in the name and style of "Cook & Kelvey Ltd." with the goodwill and assets of the partnership business. It is, therefore, idle to talk on the basis of a finding, with reference to a case of another employee, in Shri Datta Gupta's award, that the service of Shri Das should be taken to commence only from the date of incorporation of this Company into a limited company in 1946. The findings on any particular issue in the award of Shri S. C. Datta Gupta cannot be taken to be relevant and binding upon this Tribunal in a different case. Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate for the Company, also did not contend that they were binding in the present case. Shri M. C. Banerji had to consider this question in a general way in answering the issue of gratuity in his award. He came to the conclusion that the Company should take into account the services rendered by workmen to his predecessor in title for the purpose of calculating gratuity, where there is continuity of service. I am also of the same opinion. Whether the services continued under different employers, without break, is a question of fact which I have answered in favour of the workmen. There is nothing in law which should support the contention of Shri Sen that with every change of employer the service must be held to be terminated whether, in fact, they were or not so. In this case, Shri Sen referred to the provisions of section 25(FF) of the Industrial Disputes Act in support of his contention that Shri Das was not entitled to any retrenchment compensation for the period previous to the date of the incorporation of the Company into a public limited company. Admittedly, the services of Shri Das were terminated on account of dearth of work, that is to say he was found to be surplus to requirements in the office. It is not the Company's case that his service was terminated on account of any change of employers for transfer of business. Therefore, section 25(FF) either before or after amendment has no application here. Neither the provisions of the said section by implication supports Shri Sen's contention. In my opinion, a contrary view seems to be implied in section 25(FF) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Shri Das is entitled to retrenchment compensation for the total period of service done in this business, namely for 29 years. He is entitled to 14½ months' pay at the rate of Rs. 71 per month (as in Ext C). He is further entitled to Rs. 61-9 on account of earned wages and Rs. 71, i.e., an amount of one month's pay in lieu of notice (as in Ext. C). Shri Das did not ask, as stated already, for reinstatement and, therefore, he is not entitled to it. The Company will pay him the said amount of compensation, etc., under this award within a month from the date of its publication. I answer the issue accordingly.

Issue No. 1: The Company paid its workers 15 days' basic pay as bonus for the year 1954-55. The Union demands an additional amount of 1½ months' wages as bonus in addition to what was already paid. The Company's case is that the workers are not entitled to it and that the amount already paid was not only adequate but generous too.

Shri Sen relied upon the balance sheet Ext. A series. Income Tax Assessment Order, Ext. E and a chart under the Full Bench Formula to show that after deducting the prior charges under it there is a deficit of of Rs. 15,483 and no surplus profit for distribution among the workers. Balance sheet (Ext. A) for the relevant year shows that the net profit is Rs. 60,689-5-10. There is nothing on the Union's side to challenge either the balance sheet or the chart drawn up under the Full Bench Formula to be wrong. Additional bonus is claimed out of profit for the year in question and as there is no surplus profit available under Full Bench Formula, after deducting the admitted prior charges, the workers are not entitled to any additional bonus in the year in question.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Deokinandan Sharma and 19 others, workers of Messrs. Leonard Biermans Societe Anonyme, against the said Company. (Case No. 3 57 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Chitta Ranjan Das, General Secretary, Calcutta Press Employees' Congress.

For the Company: Shri B. B. Nan, Solicitor of Messrs. Sandersons & Morgans & Co.

The original reference, out of which the present application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act has arisen, was made to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 5263I.R./D/11L-262/55, dated 10th December 1956, and the said reference is still pending before the Tribunal.

AWARD

This is a complaint made by as many as 20 persons. Their case is that they were all workmen of Messrs. Leonard Biermans Societe Anonyme—Opposite Party, but the Opposite Party during the pendency of the aforesaid proceedings before this Tribunal wrongfully dismissed them without the express permission of the Tribunal. So, it is contended by them that the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act were contravened thereby. As the said dismissal was unjustified and mala fide, reinstatement with back wages has been claimed on their behalf.

The Company—Opposite Party—contested the application. It is the contention of the Company that the present application must fail in limine, because the petitioners were never the workmen of the Company. The version of the Company is that all these persons were allowed to work as apprentices in the Company's factory by Mr. Palaria at the instance of the mortgagee Company—National Playing Card Company, Ltd., which financed this Company to the extent of more than one lakh against hypothecation of some of its plants, machineries and other assets. Mr. Palaria had to be appointed as the Factory Manager of this Company for protection of the interests of the National Playing Card Company, Ltd., in the plants and machineries, etc., mortgaged to the said Company. When in the beginning of January 1957 Mr. Potti took over charge of this Company, he came to know of the position of the present petitioners, and asked the mortgagee Company to withdraw them from the Company's factory. Accordingly, the petitioners were not allowed to work when they approached.

The parties have adduced evidence—both oral and documentary. After giving my anxious and careful consideration to the evidence and circumstances, I feel no doubt or hesitation in saying that these 20 persons are to be deemed to be workmen of the present Company. It did not matter much whether they were taken in or appointed by Mr Palaria at the instance of the mortgagee Company—National Playing Card Co., Ltd. It is clear from the materials on record that Mr. Palaria was acting as Factory Manager of this Company at the relevant time. Even if it be assumed that these persons were taken in by Mr. Palaria at the instance of the mortgagee Company, it must be held that they were taken for and on behalf of this Company. The present Company will be certainly bound by what was done through its agency or by its agents. The stubborn fact remains that Mr. Palaria while acting as Factory Manager of this Company, took these persons in its factory, and that they were employed in the said factory, and not in the concern of National Playing Card Company, Ltd. It has also been proved that these persons while employed, used to get their pay or wages from the present Company, and that the Pay Register for them as well as for other workers of this Company was the same. Then again, it appears from Ext. A that gate pass was issued to one of these persons, namely Shri Shyam Sundar Joshi by this Company, and it was signed by the above Factory Manager. So, there is no escape from the conclusion that these persons were appointed for and on behalf of this Company. Accordingly, I hold that these persons were the workmen of the present Company.

Next point for consideration is whether there was contravention of section 33. It has been admitted by the Company in its statement in reply that these persons were not allowed to work, when they called on the Company's factory on 7th January 1957 (vide paragraph 6). It is also a fact that since then they have not been allowed to resume their duties in the factory. So, the position comes to this that during the pendency of the original reference before this Tribunal, all these workmen were discharged by the Company without taking permission from the Tribunal. An argument has been advanced by the learned lawyer of the Company that these persons were taken in as apprentices, and as such no permission of the Tribunal was required for terminating their services. I would say straightway that there is no merit or substance in this argument. A probationer or a temporary workman comes within the definition of "workman" in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Even an apprentice is included in the definition. It is well settled that even a temporary workman is entitled to the protection afforded by sections 33 and 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Merely because the employee was only an apprentice or a temporary workman, the employer could not, in disregard to the provisions of section 33, discharge him without the permission of the Tribunal. For this authority, I rely on the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal of India reported in 1957(i) L.L.J., page 93.

So, the last point for consideration is about the merits. It has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India that not only the fact of contravention, but also the merits of the case must be gone into, and the mere fact of contravention will not help an employee. The scope of investigation made by a Tribunal under section 33A into the merits of discharge or dismissal is exactly the same "as if it were a dispute referred to it" by an independent reference under section 10 of the Act. Therefore, a duty is cast upon the Tribunal to enter into the merits of the case and to give the employees appropriate consequential relief. It is an established principle of law that where a Court or Tribunal is called upon to decide a matter, it must decide in a complete way, in order that the rights of the parties may be settled. These persons, who have been working in the Company's factory were not allowed to work when they approached on 7th January 1957, and this fact stands admitted. The burden of proof is on the employer to show that their discharge or termination of service was justified. On a consideration of the entire evidence, I find that the Company has not succeeded in discharging the burden that lay heavily on it. The only plea that was taken on behalf of the Company is that these persons were not the workmen of the Company, nor were they ever employed by it. But that plea has not been accepted by the Tribunal for reasons already stated. So, the point boils down to this fact that the present petitioners were discharged wrongfully from their service. They were refused work without any rhyme or reason. There was also violation of the principles of natural justice. So, the discharge or termination of service of the petitioners cannot be upheld.

The question next is about the relief, which the petitioners are entitled to. I am of the opinion that they are entitled to reinstatement and to be restored to their respective jobs in the factory of this Company. Even the fact that they were apprentices or probationers does not stand in the way of their being reinstated. No circumstances have been established for denying them relief of reinstatement.

So far as back wages are concerned, I am not disposed to award the same, because it is alleged that these persons were taken as apprentices. I refrain from expressing any opinion in the present complaint as to whether the present petitioners were really taken in as apprentices or temporary workmen. This point may be pursued, if necessary, at the time of hearing of the original reference which is still pending.

In the result, the application is allowed. The petitioners must be reinstated without any break in their service. They shall report themselves for duty in the factory of the Company within 10 days from the date of publication of this award in the Calcutta Gazette. They will not, however, get any back wages or allowances.

This is my award.

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri M. Saha, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri Udai Pratap Singh, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1242-I.R./IR/11L-98/57, dated 18th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Murarka Paints & Varnish, Ltd., Sodepore, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Murarka Paint Workers' Union, House of Lala, Station Road, Sodepore, 24-Parganas, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

AWARD

The case of the Union is that these eleven workmen concerned were laid off for a month from 28th November 1956 to 27th December 1956 unjustly and were not given any wages for the period. This was purely due to the Trade Union activities of the workmen which the Company did not like. So non-payment of due compensation for the period they were laid off is purely an unfair labour practice. The Union therefore claims due wages of these workmen for the period of lay-off.

The Company in their written statement contends that these workmen were laid off for valid reasons as there were no works in the factory for these workmen to do during the period they were laid off. Other allegations in the written statement of the Company are not pressed during trial.

DECISION

The trial in this case has been simplified. Admittedly these workmen were laid off for the period from 28th November 1956 to 27th December 1956. There is no dispute that the lay-off was justified. The Union made no attempt to show that this lay-off was unjust. That being so, the workmen are entitled to 50 per cent. of the wages for 26 days during the period of lay-off minus the wages for the weekly holidays that intervened. Both parties agree that these workmen are entitled to 50 per cent. of their wages for 26 days during the period of lay-off.

The Company must pay the aforesaid wages, i.e., 50 per cent. of the wages for 26 days to the workmen according to their respective wages within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

For the complainant: None.

For the employers: Miss P. Mitra of the I.J.M.A.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order Nos. 1988Dis./D/7L-48(a)/53, 2329Dis./D/7L-47/54, 3393Dis./D/3A-10/54, 3537Dis./D/7L-47/54 and 4130Dis./D/7L-47/54, dated the 7th April 1954, 6th May 1954, 12th July 1954, 21st July 1954 and 26th August 1954, respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 6th October 1955.

On 5th November 1955 Abdul Hossain, MA/235, Spinning Department and Sushila, FS/209, two workmen of Messrs. Lawrence Jute Mills, applied under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, complaining that the employers did not like their Union connection and on or about the 14th September, the opposite party arbitrarily dismissed them without assigning any reason. They therefore pray for an award declaring that the dismissal has been mala fide and unjust and directing the Management to reinstate them in their former job and to pay them wages for the period of their non-employment. The Company, in its written statement, opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was fixed for hearing on 31st July 1957, on which date neither of the applicants appeared. Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., however, appeared for the Company and filed documents, Ext. A (certified copy for permission to dismiss Abdul Hossain Sah, Token No. 321, E.B. No. MA/235), Ext. A(1) (certified copies for permission to dismiss Sushila Bala Dasi, Token No. 335, E.B. No. FS/209, under section 33), Exts. B and B(1) (certified copy of the Tribunal's order striking off the application in respect of Abdul Hossain and Sushila Bala Dasi). It may not be out of place to mention here that the petitioners did not appear before the Tribunal for over a year. In these circumstances, the case is dismissed for default. Apart from what has been mentioned above, the case is also not maintainable in law (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

Chairman, Jute Textile Industry Tribunal.

ORDER

No. 3252-I.R./IR/11L-350/57.—23rd August 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 796-I.R./D/11L-350/56, dated the 9th March 1957, the industrial dispute between Messrs. B. B. Parel & Co., 46 J. N. Mukherjee Road, Salkia, Howrah and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Porters' Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-3, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. B. B. Parel & Co., 46 J. N. Mukherjee Road, Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Porters' Union, 1 Joy Bhattacharjee Lane, Calcutta-36. (Case No. VIII-332/56.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Appearances:

For the employees: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee, M.L.A., President, Calcutta Porters' Union.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury, LL.B., Labour Adviser of the Company.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under order No. 796-I.R./D/11L-350/56, dated 9th March 1957. Before this, the said dispute was pending in the First Industrial Tribunal. It was subsequently withdrawn and referred to this Tribunal.

The issues as contained in the schedule to the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Wages and dearness allowance.

(2) Leave and holidays.

(3) Working hours.

(4) Conditions of service.

AWARD

The case of the Union as stated in the written statement is that the workmen employed in this concern are required to work all the days of the week, and they work 14 hours a day. The minimum pay for a workman is Rs. 56 per month. There is no dearness allowance, no leave, no holiday and no off-day. So, the Union has demanded as follows:—

(i) Minimum basic pay of Rs. 30 and dearness allowance of Rs. 40 per month.

(ii) 192 working hours in a month.

(iii) Ten days' festival holidays, 15 days' paid annual leave and 7 days' casual leave in a year.

(iv) Gratuity at the rate of 15 days' wages for each year of service, and sickness benefit on the basis of Employees' State Insurance Act.

The Company contests the demands of the Union. In reply, it states that it is a very small concern, and employs only about 8 workmen. The conditions of service of the workmen employed in this concern, their wages and other privileges are in line with those of similar concerns in the locality. The grievances of the Union are fantastic, and should be rejected. It is further stated that out of the 8 workmen, 6 were dismissed for misconduct, and the remaining 2 were given chance to work, if they gave undertaking of good conduct. One of them, Shri Protap Tewari, gave such undertaking and is still working, while the other, Shri Sikhari Kuhar, neither gave such undertaking, nor did he join his work in spite of notice, and accordingly he was treated as a deserter. The Company appointed new hands, who have no dispute with it.

An objection was raised by the learned spokesman of the Company regarding the matter of representation of the Union. He argued that the Calcutta Porters' Union or the President of that Union has no locus standi to represent the workmen. But I do not attach much importance or significance to this question, because in the order of reference made by the Government it has been clearly stated that the workmen are represented by Calcutta Porters' Union. So, the order of reference of the Government regarding the representation of the workmen should be presumed to be correct. Before making the reference, the Government must have been satisfied regarding the competency of the Union to represent the workers in question. Furthermore, one of the workmen has been examined before me. He is P.W. 1 Shri Ataura Dhobi. He has also stated in his evidence the grievances which the workmen employed in this concern have. So, in any view of the matter, the case cannot be thrown out merely on the ground as urged by the learned spokesman of the concern. The objection is thus disposed of.

Now I would take up the issues, one by one.

Issue No. 1

This concern deals in lime, brick and surki for which coolies and carters are employed. No separate dearness allowance is given to the workmen employed in this concern. O.P.W. 1, Shri Purna Chandra Parel, has deposed in this case on behalf of the concern. It transpires from his evidence that the coolies employed in this concern get wages at the rate of Rs. 1-12 while the carters at the rate of Rs. 1-14 per day. He has further stated that the workers actually work for 24 days in a month, but they get wages for 30 days. If his statement be correct, it cannot be said that the emolument which the workers get is inadequate or low, regard being had to the nature of the business. No evidence was adduced by the Union to show that the wages paid in other establishments of like nature are more favourable. On the other hand, P.W. 1, Shri Atuara Dhobi, one of the workmen who was examined by the Union, has admitted in his evidence that he was employed as a coolie in this concern and he used to get Rs. 75 per month as his pay. So, considering the evidence as a whole, I am of the view that the existing wages which the workers are getting from this concern are fair and adequate in view of the size and business of the present concern and need no revision. No case has also been made out for giving separate dearness allowance. Dearness allowance is allowed only to supplement the basic wage. But here in the present case, the basic wage that is being paid to the workers is quite adequate and fair. So, no separate dearness allowance can be fixed. Hence, the demand of the Union in this respect is refused. No document was produced before the Tribunal on behalf of the concern to show that wages at the rates as deposed to by O.P.W. 1, Shri Purna Chandra Parel, are actually given to the workers. The Tribunal, however, expects that this concern will be paying wages to the workmen employed under it at the rates as stated by O.P.W. 1 in his evidence.

Issue No. 2

This relates to leave and holidays. The demand of the Union in this respect is that there should be 10 festival holidays, 15 days' paid annual leave and 7 days' casual leave in a year. P.W. 1, Shri Atuara Dhobi who was examined on behalf of the Union, has stated in his evidence that the workers of this concern do not get any festival holidays or any kind of leave. He has further deposed that no sick leave or any kind of leave on the ground of sickness is given to the workers. But O.P.W. 1, Shri Purna Chandra Parel who deposed on behalf of the Company, has stated in his evidence that the workers get 15 days' festival holidays in a year. Besides this, they also get leave with full pay for 10 days in a year in case of sickness. He has further said that as the workers of this concern are up-country people, they are allowed to go on leave whenever they want to go home. I am prepared to believe the version of O.P.W. 1 in preference to that of P.W. 1. The demand of the Union for paid annual leave of 15 days in addition to festival holidays and sick leave appears to be rather unreasonable, considering the nature of business of the concern and also the number of workmen employed by it. If this concern is to grant such paid annual leave to each worker, then its business would paralyse and come to a stand-still. So, the existing leave and holidays appear to be adequate and sufficient for the workers of a concern like the present one, particularly regard being had to the nature of its business. This concern must continue to give such leave and festival holidays to its workers, and the workers should remain satisfied with this. This issue is thus disposed of.

Issue No. 3

From the evidence of O.P.W. 1, Shri Purna Chandra Parel, it appears that the working hours in this concern are from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. with 2 hours recess for meal from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m. He has further stated that the workers are not to work on Sundays, which are paid holidays, and that on Saturdays they are to work till 12 p.m. I am not, therefore, disposed to disturb the existing working hours. The existing working hours are fixed as deposed to by O.P.W. 1 Shri Parel. This concern must see that the workers are not compelled to work beyond the said working hours. However, if the concern needs their services beyond the existing working hours, it should pay overtime allowance to them. This issue is decided accordingly.

Issue No. 4

The Union has demanded retiral benefit for the workers, which should be gratuity at the rate of 15 days' wages for each completed year of service. This demand appears to be not only unreasonable but also fantastic. In such a small concern no retiral benefit in the shape of gratuity as claimed can be introduced. So, this demand is refused.

It is not necessary for this Tribunal to make any provision for sickness benefit in view of the operation of the Employees' State Insurance Act. This issue is decided accordingly.

Regarding the demand for alleged arrears of wages as contended on behalf of the Union, I may say that it cannot be entertained as this point is not covered by the issues as framed. Moreover, the claim for recovery of arrears of wages cannot be entertained by an Industrial Tribunal. The remedy on this score lies elsewhere.

Before I part with the record of the case, I would like to mention fact which emerged in course of hearing. O.P.W. 2, Shri Ram Dul Ahir, filed an application together with a letter of authority. They a Exts. F and E respectively. Shri Ahir has deposed that he has bee authorised by other workers to file this application, which was to the effec that they were not the members of the Calcutta Porters' Union, and were not concerned with the present dispute. Exhibit F appears to have been signed by as many as 7 persons, but Ext. E, which is a letter of authority, appears to have been signed by 5 persons only. I doubt very much whether the representation purported to be submitted by these persons was actually made by them. It has reached this Tribunal rather in a mysterious way. I am therefore unable to give effect to it on this ground alone. Furthermore, the men who were actually involved in the dispute leading to the present reference, are not in service now. Therefore, the alleged action of the men in service can in no way bind them. Accordingly, I have adjudicated on the issues referred to me on merits. It will not be too much if it be said that the alleged representation was made only to make the present reference ineffective.

PRESENT:

For the Company: Shri R. K. Das, Advocate.

AWARD

By order No. 5299-I.R./D/11L-326/56, dated the 12th December 1956, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kusum Brick Works, post office and village Makhala, district Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Bally Khal Entakhola Mazdoor Union, 11 Bally Station Road, post office Bally, Hooghly, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication

2. After usual summons the parties put in appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 26th March 1957. The parties were thereafter directed to file lists of documents. Then after adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 31st July 1957.

3. The matter of dispute as stated in the schedule to the order of reference is as follows:

The amount that the boatmen are entitled to as their legal dues.

Decision

Bally Khal Entakhola Mazdoor Union on behalf of one Majhi and five daries sought to recover a sum of Rs. 1,122 said to be in arrears for supply of sand to the brick-field on piece-rate system. It was said that there was an agreement between the majhi and the management to the effect that the majhi would supply sand in his own boat No. C-8747 to the brickfield during the season at the rate of Rs. 2-6 per dari for 11maunds of sand and at Rs.4-12 for the majhi and 2 annas as sand tax per ton. Accordingly it was said that sand was supplied on different dates from 4th November 1954 to 13th May 1955; that they received advances against the said supply from time to time and that the aforesaid sum of Rs. 1,122 was in arrear. Kusum Brick Works, on the other hand, denied liability and pleaded that the status of the majhies and the daries was that of independent contractors and not of workmen and that the State Government was not competent to refer the dispute for adjudication under section 10. On the date of hearing on 31st July 1957 the learned Advocate for the Company intimated that he had no instructions from his client. The case was accordingly taken up for ex-parte hearing under rule 15 of the Bengal Industrial Dispute Rules. The Union examined the boatman Shri Banshi Majhi besides proving khata (Ext. 1). On the evidence and circumstances it does not appear that majhi and the daries were workmen within the definition of that term in section 2(s) of the Act. The supply of sand, if any, it appears from the evidence was done purely on the basis of contract and that there was no relation of master and servant between the parties. The principal requirement of the contract of service is the right of the master in some reasonable sense to control the method of doing the work. In the present case the evidence shows that the majhi was to supply sand at the stipulated rate and the owner of the brickfield had nothing to do in the manner of execution of the said work. The majhi, according to his own showing, was the owner of the boat in which the sand was supplied and it was he who employed the daries. The Company did not employ any of them but was merely concerned to get the supply and the majhies and daries had the full liberty to do their work as they liked. The contract was not one of service but for services. Under a contract for services the work, although done for the business, is not integrated into it but is only accessory to it. In such a case the employers need only see if the work has been done according to specifications and within the given time, and the men engaged are not really employees; while under a contract of service, a man is employed as part of the business, and his work is done as an integral part of the business. In the present case the evidence shows that none of the majhies and the daries was so employed. Merely because the men were to be paid on piece-rate basis, this would not convert them into the category of "workmen", when the evidence reveals that the owner of the brickfield had no power of supervision and control at any stages of the work from beginning to end. So, on the evidence I find that there was no relation of employer and employees between the parties and that the men were independent contractors. It, therefore, follows that the reference is incompetent. Besides, a claim solely for recovery of arrears as here, cannot be an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Act. In this view of the matter the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to enter into the reference.

It is awarded accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty, a workman of Messrs. Bose Brothers against the said Company.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the employee: Shri Kali Chakrabarty. Vice-President. Iron & Steel Workmen's Union.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Bhanja Chowdhury, L.L.B., Labour Adviser, Howrah Manufacturers' Association.

The original reference, out of which this application under section 33A arises, was made to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, under its order No. 3144Dis./D/10L-98/56, dated 18th July 1956. The said reference was disposed of by this Tribunal on 10th December 1956, and the award has been published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated January 3, 1957.

AWARD

It is the case of the workman concerned, Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty, that he was a workman in the Moulding Department of Messrs. Bose Brothers—opposite party—but on 7th August 1957 while the main reference was pending before this Tribunal, he was discharged by the Company—opposite party—without the express permission of the Tribunal. So, it is contended that section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act has been contravened thereby. It is further alleged that the said discharge has been illegal and unjustified. So, reinstatement with back wages has been claimed.

The application was contested by the Company—opposite party. The main contention of the opposite party is that the applicant—Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty—is not a workman of the Company, but he was employed under Shri Jaladhar Singh, who is a contractor under them. That being so, the present application should fail in limine.

It is very curious that the petitioner himself, who made this application, has not appeared before the Tribunal to depose. As a petitioner, he should have turned up before the Tribunal to give evidence. The Union, which represented the petitioner in this case, examined its Joint Secretary—Shri Satyen Das. But the evidence of Shri Das is not at all helpful. He could not make any positive statement that Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty was not employed under the contractor, Shri Jaladhar Singh. The Company, on the other hand, has examined the said contractor and has produced documentary evidence to show that Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty was employed under the said contractor and not under the Company. O.P.W. 1—Shri Jaladhar Singh, who is contractor of the Company—has deposed on oath that he was an independent contractor, and that Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty was employed under him and not under the Company. He has further stated that he used to exercise control and supervision over Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty while employed under him, and that the Company—opposite party—had no concern with him in this respect. He has also deposed that he used to pay wages to Shri Chakrabarty. The bills produced and proved by this contractor as also the attendance register, which are marked Exts. A-series and B-series, respectively, go to prove unmistakably the version of the contractor as correct. There is no rebutting evidence on the side of the applicant. In the circumstances, I find no justification for not accepting the oral and documentary evidence as adduced on behalf of the opposite party. So, on a consideration of the evidence as it stands, I hold that Shri Dhananjoy Chakrabarty was not a workman of the Company—opposite party,—but he was employed under the contractor—Shri Jaladhar Singh. That being so, it must be held that there was no relationship of employer and workman between the opposite party and the applicant. The essential condition of a person being a "workman" as defined in section 2(s) of the Act is that he should be employed to do the work in an industry, that is, there should be employment of his by the employer and there should be the relationship between employer and him as between employer and employee or master and servant. For the reasons stated above, the question of contravention of section 33 does not arise in the present case, and as such the application must fail in limine It is accordingly ordered that the application be rejected.

respectively, referred, under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between 101 specified Jute Mills and their workmen regarding some matters specified in a schedule to this Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal in respect of this proceeding was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955.

Netai Bachal, Token No. 135, a workman in the Finishing Department of Messrs. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with full wages and allowances for the period of forced unemployment. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was fixed for hearing on 31st July 1957, on which date the applicant did not appear. Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., was, however, present for the employers and filed documents Exts. A and B. which are certified copies of the employer's application under section 33 for permission to dismiss the workman and the Tribunal's orders thereon striking off the application on the ground that it had lost jurisdiction to adjudicate on the matter. Enough chances were given to the petitioner to appear before the Tribunal. After filing the complaint, the petitioner has never taken the trouble to know the fate of his petition, from which facts the conclusion becomes irresistable that his interest in the dispute has waned. The case is, therefore, dismissed for default. It is also not maintainable in law (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Ltd., 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Kilburn's Employees' Union, 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1, referred under G. O. No. 1294/I.R./IR 11L-361/56, dated 24th April 1957. (Case No. VIII-C28/57.)

BEFORE THE FIRST LABOUR COURT, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI N. C. CHATTERJEE, Judge, First Labour Court.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri P. K. Ghosh and Shri Jitendra Nath Paul.

For the Company: Mr. A. E. Blewith.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Department of Labour, by order No. 1294/I.R./IR/11L-361/56, dated 24th April 1957, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Ltd., 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by the Kilburn's Employees' Union, 4 Fairlie Place, Calcutta-1, regarding matters specified in the second schedule of the Act, to this Court for adjudication.

Schedule

Whether the discharge of Shri R. C. Bhattacharjee is justified? What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

The case of the Union is that Shri R. C. Bhattacharjee, an Assistant Chemist in the employment of Messrs. Kilburn & Co., Ltd., since 13th September 1948, was discharged from his service all on a sudden on 4th June 1956 on the ground that the Company had no confidence in him. There was no charge-sheet, nor was any enquiry held. The Company offered no opportunity to this workman to explain his conduct. Thus the discharge of the workman is unjust, illegal mala fide and an unfair labour practice. The Union seeks reinstatement of the workman with other reliefs.

The Company controverts the allegations in the written statement of the Union and resists the claim of the Union on the following grounds, inter alia:

That the Kilburn's Employees' Union has no locus standi to represent the workman and the instant workman being a member of the technical staff is no member of the Kilburn's Employees' Union; that the workman was engaged in experimental work in connection with the manufacture of disinfectants under the name of "Kil-Bac."; that the Company received information that the workman owned or was connected with a manufacturing concern "Bhattacharjee Cheimcal Works" of disinfectant which was being sold under the name "Bac-Kil"; that the Company has in their contemplation various developments and it was essential in the interests of Company's existing business to prevent leakage of trade informations for protecting Company's business. In the circumstances the Company discharged this workman who was given one month's notice pay and 4 months' pay as compensation in lieu of his 8 years' service. The conduct of the workman was also not satisfactory, so he is not entitled to any relief.

DECISION

In addition to the point referred to this Court for determination, another point arises, namely, whether this is an industrial dispute. This point will be taken up after the point of reference is first determined.

The main question is whether the discharge of this workman is justified and what relief he is entitled to.

Admittedly in this case there was no charge-sheet, no enquiry, nothing of the kind. Thus obviously the principles of natural and social justice have been violated in this case. He was not given an opportunity to explain his conduct and the principle of "audi alteram partem" has been violated. If there were a proper enquiry by the Management the Court could judge whether the decision arrived at by the Company was a possible view in the circumstances. There are numerous case-laws on the subject and the case of Janata Pictures and Theatres Ltd. and Amulya Chakravarty reported in 1956 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 67, may be referred to.

Next, the Court proceeds to enquire, as the Court is quite competent to hold an independent enquiry, on the evidence adduced before it, whether the termination of his service is justified and what relief he is entitled to. Beyond dispute this workman received due treatment from the Company since the commencement of his service and he enjoyed additional remuneration of Rs. 50 during Manager's absence and his pay was Rs. 185 plus D. A. when his service was terminated. It is common ground that during these 8 years only once there was a charge-sheet against him and he was warned after enquiry. The Company did not then throw him overboard. The climax was, however, reached when the Company found that this workman's brother who is a non-Matric was manufacturing Bac-Kil, a disinfectant (something like phenyle) and selling the same in open market. Company's supervisor, Nripendra Nath Ghose, O.P.W.1, purchased a bottle (Ext. B) and he was told that it was being manufactured by the workman's brother living together in 16/1 Iswar Ganguli Lane, Kalighat, Calcutta. The Union has tried to show that the workman's two sister's sons who are graduates in Science have helped his brother towards manufacturing this disinfactant. The Union has not produced these two nephews whose evidence might have clarified the position.

The Union further contends that this disfectant is so common and the formula of its preparation is so easy that anybody and everybody can prepare it. After all, the disinfectant is a chemical preparation and I cannot persuade myself to believe that anyone without a modicum of scientific knowledge can prepare it. This workman is a B.Sc. and employed in Company's laboratory where Kil-Bac. was manufactured and marketed and the inescapable natural suspicion is that he picked up the formula from there and used the same at home in preparing the disinfectant under a different name and passed that off in the Bazar. Kil-Bac. was the name given by the Company and the name given by Bhattacharjee Chemical Works is Bac-Kil, only the position of the syllables Kil and Bac has been reversed in the new name. It struck me very strange indeed that the workman did not hesitate in trying to hoodwink the Court by saying that the contents of the bottle (Ext. B) were purchased from Bazar and his brother simply bottled it and sold it in the market. This is nothing short of a bare lie and the Union did not dare to put the workman's brother in the witness box. His evidence was very material in this case and the Union in not producing him before the Court suppressed the truth which reflects a good deal of discredit on the veracity and conduct of the workman. Furthermore, of all persons in the world, no explanation is forthcoming as to how this workman's brother devoid of any scientific education would be able to manufacture this disinfectant which is the product of the laboratory of the Company where this workman was of late an assistant chemist. The hand of this workman behind the preparation of this disinfectant by Bhattacharjee Chemical Works is so clearly perceptible that it would be nothing short of a perverse finding to hold that this workman is wholly unconnected with the affair and that his conduct does not savour of any sort of bad faith. As rightly contended the workman has forfeited Company's confidence and he does not deserve to be retained in the service of the Company. The Company plans to manufacture various other chemical substances and there is no knowing when this workman will pick up an important formula in future and do something which may spell disaster to Company's business. The Company rightly apprehends further evil from this workman in future and the Court cannot foist him upon it. The present behaviour of the workman is certainly prejudicial to the interests of the Company which he serves and he proved himself false to the Company. In the case of Municipal Corporation, Greater Bombay and another and Labour Appellate Tribunal of India and another reported in 1957 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 37, at page 41 it is laid down as follows: "An employer at best may be liable to pay to his employee damages for wrongful termination of employment, but normally he cannot be compelled to retain an employee when he does not desire to retain him in his employment". I have been referred to a case (Goodlass Wall Ltd., Bombay vs. workmen employed under it) reported in the Industrial Court Reporter (Bombay), 1951, at page 66. In that case the employees entered into competitive business with their employers and the Judge observed as follows: "I am of the opinion that employees who enter into competitive business with their employers fail in their implied duty, which is engrafted on their contracts of service, to serve their employers with good faith and fidelity and any employees who are guilty of bad faith and infidelity to their employers are guilty of misconduct for which dismissal would be the proper punishment to award them". The element of bad faith is a common feature in both these cases. The Company lost faith in this workman. Good faith is a very essential requisite in a chemist and want of it makes him undesirable to be retained further in service. The Company always entertain suspicion about his actions, so the Company cannot feel happy to be compelled to retain him, nor will he feel happy to work in the Company where everybody will look upon him with suspicion and where all his actions would be under surveillance. Be it said before parting that Company's stopping the manufacture of Kil-Bac. since 1954 makes no difference in the position so far as want of good faith on the part of the workman is concerned.

In the circumtances of this case and having regard to the demeanour of the workman in the witness box who in his evidence very much prevaricated, I must find that the termination of the service was quite justified and this I say on the basis of the enquiry held by the Court. The reinstatement of the workman is thus inconceivable and must be refused.

Next, I take up the other question whether this is an industrial dispute. The definition of the term "workman" has been much widened in the amended Act of 1956 (Act XXXVI of 1956). "Workman" means any person (including an apprentice) employed in any industry to do any skilled or unskilled manual, supervisory, technical or clerical work for hire or reward, etc. The Oxford Dictionary meaning of the term "technical" is "of, or in a particular art, science, handicraft, etc., as technical terms, skill, difficulty, etc". In the light of the amended definition I have no hesitation in finding that a "chemist" is now a workman within the meaning of the "workman" as given in the amended Act.

The Company next raised the question that the workman is not a member of the Kilburn's Employees' Union. The Union has proved that he is a member of the Union representing his case before the Court. He became a member on 2nd June 1956 and his service was admittedly terminated on 4th June 1956. May be he got scent that his service was going to be terminated, and so he enlisted himself as a member of the Union. As the fact stands out he had been a member of the Union before his service was terminated however suspicious his membership might be and as his case has been taken up by the Union, I must hold that this is an industrial dispute. This question has been elaborately dealt with in the recent case between Newspapers, Ltd. and I.T., Uttar Pradesh and others reported in 1957 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 1 and nothing can be usefully added to it. I would only quote the following: "Having regard to the modern condition of society where capital and labour have organised themselves into groups for the purpose of fighting their disputes and settling them on the basis of the theory that in union is strength, and collective bargaining has come to stay a single employee's case might develop into an industrial dispute, when as often happens, it is taken up by the Trade Union of which he is a member and there is a concerted demand by the employees for redress. This view is in consonance with the basic idea underlying modern industrial legislation". Here the case of the workman has been espoused by the Union of which he is a member and so this is held to be an industrial dispute.

In view of my above findings the termination of the service of the workman is held to be justified and he is entitled to no relief as he has been paid notice pay and 4 months' pay equivalent to 15 days' pay for each completed year of his 8 years' service.

on various grounds. It is prayed that he may be reinstated with other consequential reliefs. The Company opposed the claims on various grounds.

The case was heard on 31st July 1957, on which date the workman did not appear. Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer of the I.J.M.A., appeared for the employers and filed Exts. A and B, which are certified copies of the Company's application under section 33 and the Tribunal's orders thereon striking off the application. There has been no trace of the workman for over a year and it is not possible for the Tribunal to wait for an indefinite period. The case is therefore dismissed for default. Apart from this, it is also not maintainable in law (vide 1955 L.A.C., 221), and it is awarded accordingly.

Schedule.

Whether the suspension of Shri Hanuman Singh is justified? What relief is he entitled to?

AWARD

Decision

The case of the Union is that the Indian Marine Service, Private, Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) is a ship repairing industry. The Union submitted demands for Puja bonus and revision of wage structure, etc. This exasperated the Company which therefore tried to crush the Union. In so doing the Company first victimised Shri Hanuman Singh and served charge-sheets on some other workmen as well. This Hanuman Singh was placed under suspension and an enquiry was held by the Company, which did not communicate their decision to the Union. Hence the dispute.

The Company has denied the allegations of the Union and states that on 19th October 1956, they served a charge-sheet on Hanuman Singh for his threatening to assault Mr. Richard Hendrick and obstructing the van in which Mr. Tubbs left the workshop and thus prevented Mr. Tubbs from proceeding. It is thus alleged that the workmen resorted to obstructive tactics with show of violence to Mr. Richard Hendrick and interfering with the liberty of movement of Mr. Tubbs. The Company justified the order of suspension of the workmen.

On the eve of the case being taken up the Union thought it prudent to accept the offer of reinstatement in service which the Company held out to him on condition of his giving an undertaking that he would be of good behaviour. The Company also agreed to reinstate him on that condition and the parties put in a petition of compromise. The terms of compromise appear to be fair and reasonable and may therefore be given effect to. The dispute is therefore disposed of in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

Schedule

Is the discharge of Shri Prakash Chand Aluwallah and Shri Harchand Singh justified? To what reliefs are they entitled?

AWARD

The case of the Union is that the Company is a highly prosperous concern and manufactures aerated water of various kinds and has got an extensive business all over India. The Company neglected the reasonable grievances of the workmen who therefore formed a Union and placed a charter of demands to the management. This enraged the Company which therefore started victimising the employees one after another. The instant two workmen Shri Prakash Chand Aluwallah and Shri Harchand Singh were charge-sheeted on 15th November 1956 on frivolous grounds and a sham enquiry was held wherein the principles of natural and social justice were violated and ultimately these two workmen were dismissed. The Union therefore urges that the dismissals of these two workmen were arbitrary, illegal and mala fide and seeks their reinstatement.

The Company denies the material allegations in the written statement of the Union and contends that on 14th November 1956 Shri Prakash Chand was at the Inspection Point No. 1, and Shri Harchand was at Inspection Point No. 2 of the Plant, that on a report that both of them were engaged in breaking bottles at random, a complaint was made to the Plant Superintendent who forbade them to do so but to no effect. Therefore these two workmen were charge-sheeted and due enquiry was held wherein they were given all reasonable facilities and found guilty and so dismissed. The Company therefore contends that there was no mala fides, nor any act of unfair labour practice. The workmen are not entitled to reinstatement or any other reliefs.

DECISION

The principal point referred to is whether the discharge of these two workmen is justified. The Company justifies the discharge of these two workmen on the basis of charges as framed in Ext. A and Ext. A(1), dated 15th November 1956. The charge is that these two workmen did acts subversive of discipline by way of sabotage causing damage to the Company's property by breaking bottles on 14th November 1956 deliberately. There is also a super-added charge that they did acts of similar misconduct on other occasions also. These two workmen were therefore called upon to show cause which they did and their explanations will be found in Exts. B and B(1), dated 16th November 1956. Their explanations are in the same vein. They have stated in their explanations that they did not break the broken bottles wilfully and deliberately but there were some broken pieces of bottles found at their places and the new foreman asked them wherefrom these broken pieces came and they replied that some were broken by the operators if they were defective and that this was as per Manager's previous instruction pursuant to the previous practice obtaining for a long time. The workmen thus explained that they were not guilty. This explanation did not satisfy the Management and the Manager Daljit Singh (O.P.W. 1) held an enquiry which was admittedly attended by these two workmen. The proceedings of the enquiry have been marked Ext. E in this case. It appears that the Manager recorded the statements of as many as six witnesses in the presence of these two workmen who also were examined. On behalf of the union it is stated that this enquiry stands vitiated because the workmen were not supplied with the copies of the statements recorded during the enquiry, nor did the workmen sign the statements of the witnesses and cross-examine them. On behalf of the Company it is contended that the workmen were allowed all reasonable facilities to cross-examine the witnesses and they were also asked to sign the statements but they deliberately refused to do so. The Manager has taken oath in this case and he in his evidence has given full details about the working of the machine and the procedure adopted by him in holding the enquiry. In spite of Manager's asking the workmen to sign the statements and to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company the workmen deliberately refused to do. So it is not the fault of the Company, nor for that reason the Court will be justified in holding that the present enquiry by the Company stands vitiated. As is well known all principles of natural and social justice should be observed in holding enquiries wherein the delinquent wrokmen should be afforded all reasonable facilities with an eye to no prejudice being caused to them. Bearing these fundamental principles in mind the Court is not in a position to hold that the workmen in this case were denied reasonable opportunities or anything else occurred which occasioned failure of justice. Independently of the findings arrived at by the Management the Court in this case also held an enquiry wherein the Manager (O.P.W. 1), Plant Superintendent (O.P.W. 2) and Assistant Plant Superintendent (O.P.W. 3) have been examined and nothing has transpired in their evidence which will justify the Court in holding that the enquiry was held in a manner prejudicial to the workmen. It is also noticeable in this case that the charge-sheets, dated 15th November 1956, followed closely upon the alleged misconducts of 14th November 1956 and the enquiry was held within a reasonable time, i.e., on 24th November 1956 and the findings carefully scrutinised cannot be described as perverse on the materials produced before the Management or there was any basic error of facts. In this connexion Ext. J, dated 14th November 1956, may be referred to. Shri S. P. Singh (O.P.W. 2), the Plant Superintendent, reported to the Manager that on the information received from Sucha Singh he enquired into the matter wherein both the workmen admitted that they broke bottles but they said that Mr. Malan (previous Plant Superintenedent) instructed them to break the bottles. Shri S. P. Singh, however, advised while interrogating them not to break the broken bottles. By "broken bottles" the parties mean those which are defective or unfit for use. Thus in Ext. J, it is admitted by the workmen that they broke the broken bottles. So it was up to the workmen to substantiate that they did so under instructions from Mr. Malan but they could produce not a single witness to prove the issue of such previous instruction by Mr. Malan. Furthermore, such instruction is incompatible with the automatic working of the machine as testified to by the Manager (O.P.W. 1) in his deposition. The relevant portion of his deposition is as follows: "When the bottles come out the defects, if any, are seen. From there the bottles come at the inspection point No. 1 where there is a mirror which points out any defects in the bottles and the defective bottles are removed for rewashing. Bottles then proceed for the 2nd point." The working of the machine is automatic and this is a case of deliberate breaking of bottles at random by these two workmen. This is a huge concern and a daily report about bottles has got to be submitted to the Head Office of the Company at Delhi and they maintain a stock register of bottles showing how many bottles are defective. Having regard to the evidence on record and the automatic working of the machine I must hold that these two workmen were rightly found guilty of deliberately breaking the bottles on 14th November 1956 on their own admission and in the absence of the proof of the Management's previous instruction to that effect. Mr. Malan is no longer in the service of the Company and so the Company could not produce him before me. Therefore as the result of the independent enquiry held by the Court these two workmen are rightly found guilty of deliberately breaking the bottles. This is an act not only prejudicial to the interests of the Company but it is also a misconduct subversive of discipline in the entire management.

The Company further proved that they duly informed a police officer who held an enquiry (his report Ext. F) and they also informed the Labour Commisisoner, but the Court, since it held an independent enquiry, did not attach much importance to the police report.

On behalf of the Union it has been contended that the Company victimised these workmen as Prakash is the Vice-President of the Union but no ill-feeling or animosity is proved to have existed between the Union and the Company, nor is there any allegation of any overt act pursuant thereto. Prakash stated that the Manager offered him a sum of Rs. 700, 800 if he left the Union but there is no independent evidence beyond his verbal statement to corroborate this. I am therefore unable to believe this allegation. So the plea of victimisation fails.

I shall now conclude with the aspect of the law involved in cases of this type. It has been laid down in a recent case of the High Court of Allahabad reported in 1957 L.L.J., Vol. II, page 15, that the Industrial Tribunal must in such cases consider three questions, namely, (1) whether the workmen were found guilty of misconduct by the employer, (2) whether the correct procedure was followed by the employer in arriving at the finding, and (3) whether the misconduct could be visited with the dismissal. All these three tests have been fulfilled in the instant case. Punishment is deemed justified as the Company lost all faith in the workmen who were found guilty of committing such misconduct. It is therefore found that the discharge of the two workmen is fully justified.

As regards relief—reinstatement is out of the question. The Company do not want such workmen nor can such workmen be foisted upon them. They forfeit retrenchment benefit on account of their misconduct. Their wages for November 1956 are admittedly outstanding. The Company must pay the workmen the same within a month of the publication of this award.

This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 2594Dis./D/11L-59/55, dated the 12th June 1956, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Great Eastern Hotel Ltd., 1, 2, 3 Old Court House Street, Calcutta, and their employees, represented by the Great Eastern Hotel Workers' Panchayet, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 592Dis./D/12L-5/52, dated the 23rd February 1953, for adjudication.

2. After usual summons the parties put in appearance and filed their written statements. The pleadings were completed on 1st October 1956. The parties were thereafter directed to file lists of documents. Then after adjournments at the instance of the parties, hearing of the dispute was concluded and award was reserved.

3. The matters of dispute as stated in the order of reference are as follows:—

(i) Is the termination of employment of Shri Ramayan Singh justified? What reliefs including reinstatement is he entitled to?

(ii) Overtime hours and wages.

DECISION

Issue No. 1: Employment of Shri Ramayan Singh was terminated from 29th July 1953 in the circumstances as below:

He was a lorry driver for 8 years in the Bakery Department of the Great Eastern Hotel Ltd. Before that he was a cleaner. On 11th August 1952 the workman Shri Ramayan Singh (P.W. 1) while driving Company's lorry WBL 1316 knocked down at Beliaghata a girl aged 6/7 years killing her. Police arrested him and started a criminal case under section 304A, I.P.C., in the Court of Magistrate, 1st Class, Sealdah, for having caused death of the girl by rash and negligent driving. The workman was released on bail on Company's surety on 12th August 1952. On that very date his departmental head Shri Sudhir Kumar Mitra (D.W. 2) served the original of the notice (Ext. B) on driver Ramayan Singh. By the said notice the driver was told that the Director took a serious view of the accident yesterday in which he was involved and a child of 6 years was killed. He was further told that if he was found guilty by the Court of law his services with the Company would come to an end from the date of conviction. On that condition he was allowed to continue in service. Contrary to his case as made out in the letters of his Advocate and the Union, the driver had to admit that he was allowed to continue in service on release on bail and was paid his salary up to 28th July 1953.

On 29th July 1953 Ramayan Singh was convicted under section 304A, I.P.C., and was sentenced to 3 months' R.I. and a fine of Rs. 200 by the Magistrate, 1st Class, at Sealdah. Appeal against the same to the District and Sessions Judge, Alipore, was dismissed. The workman was admittedly allowed to continue in Company's quarters till conviction.

On conviction on 29th July 1953 his employment according to the previous notice was terminated by the Company from 29th July 1953 and his name was struck off from the muster-roll. The case of the workman that his employment was not terminated but he was refused employment and locked out, is not borne out by the evidence.

Thereafter on 19th August 1953 the workman Ramayan Singh claimed to have written a letter as in Annexure A to the written statement of the Union to the Managing Director of the Company intimating that he had preferred appeal against his conviction in the Sealdah Court and that his license was in tact and so he should be permitted to resume work. The Company denied having received such letter.

On 12th July 1954 the High Court pronounced judgment on appeal maintaining the conviction but modifying the sentence to one of fine of Rs. 400 only (Ext. 5).

On 16th August 1954 the workman claimed to have written to the Managing Director as in Annexure B to the written statement of the Company to say that the sentence of imprisonment was set aside and he was let off with fine only and as such he should be permitted to join duty. On 4th September 1954 the workman repeated his prayer for permission to resume duty (Ext. A). It was stated therein that as the High Court varied the decision of the Sealdah Court, he could naturally expect permission to resume duty.

On 15th September 1954 his lawyer served notice on the Company demanding reinstatement, pay for the period of alleged lock-out and cost of criminal proceedings and the amount of fine the workman had to pay (Ext. D).

On 30th September 1954 the Union took up his cause and wrote to the Managing Director making grievance that the workman was unjustly refused employment and was not paid his wages or expenses of criminal cases, whereupon conciliation started. As no settlement was eventually possible, the dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Against this background it was urged on behalf of the workman on the basis of sections 17 and 18 of the Motor Vehicles Act that when the Court did not cancel the license on conviction and when the workman was not disqualified from driving, the Company had no justification to terminate the employment of the workman. I am unable to sustain the contention. When the workman was convicted for killing a girl by rash and negligent driving, it was absolutely Company's option whether to keep such a man in the employment or not. As a matter of fact, the Company gave notice forthwith about such intention to terminate his employment if he was convicted by competent Court. The workman was not only convicted but his conviction was upheld up to Hon'ble High Court. No question of violation of the principles of natural justice arises as the fact of conviction in a criminal case is by itself sufficient ground for termination of employment without further enquiry. Consequently the Company was within its rights to terminate employment of the workman on conviction and to maintain it. The fact that his license was not cancelled on conviction under section 17 of the Motor Vehicles Act would be of no avail against the Company. He might not have been disqualified but this would not oblige the Company to retain in its service one convicted of rash and negligent driving and killing a girl thereby. The option was with the employer and it appears that the Company acted in the matter bona fide in the interest of the Company. There was no question of victimisation as sought to be made out in the letter of the Union or in the written statement. The workman himself gave direct lie to the same in his deposition before this Tribunal. He not only did not claim to have had any Union activities but he also denied having had any connection with his brother who is said to be Treasurer of the Union. The fact that the Company not only stood surety and got him released on bail but also paid his salary till conviction and allowed him to remain in Company's quarters would show that the Company had no grudge against him and accommodated him as far as it could. I am, therefore, of opinion that termination of employment of Ramayan Singh was bona fide and justified.

As, however, the delinquency for which employment of the workman was terminated is not one of those specified in Company's standing orders as amounting to misconduct for which punishment by dismissal can be meted out in terms of paragraph 14 of the standing orders, the action of the Company in terminating the employment must, in the circumstances, be deemed to be discharge and not dismissal. The workman should, therefore, get gratuity, bonus and other benefits as admissible to him at the time of termination of employment on 29th July 1953. The Company is accordingly directed to pay gratuity at half month's salary for each completed year of service with the Company proportionate bonus and pay for the period of privilege leave due according to the rules as then current in the Bakery Department. The amount is to be paid within one month from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Regarding claim of the workman to get recoupment of cost of criminal cases and the amount of fine, I am unable to sustain it. After conviction and maintenance of the same up to the Hon'ble High Court, there can be no foundation for such claim. There is also nothing to show that the Company had or has any obligation whatever in this respect.

Issue No. 2: The dispute relates to dining-room staff comprising table boys, chokras, mashalchis, pantry men and munshis. Union also wants to include the sweepers but this is not possible when they were not in the dispute and when no claim was made about them even in the written statement. P.W. 5 Nagina who is a sweeper had to admit in the cross-examination that he was not employed to do evertime work within last 1½ years. This would support that the sweepers were not in dispute.

Regarding overtime hours, what the dispute is has not been disclosed either in the pleadings or in evidence. No adjudication is so possible in the matter except generally. As to the normal working hours of the aforesaid categories of workmen involved in the reference, it appears that the parties were at variance the Union contending that the workers were employed to work for 12 to 14 hours a day in breack duties, while the Company contending that none was employed beyond 9 hours per day in break duties. Be that as it may, the dispute has, since the present reference, been set at rest by the decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal on 14th August 1956 directing that duty hours of each category should be fixed and published on the basis of 9 hours a day (Ext. G). How said 9 hours are to be spread over has however been left with the management. The work which the workers of the dining-room are to perform, is not of arduous nature and in the nature of things cannot be continuous and must be intermittent with periods of inaction having relation to the hours fixed for breakfast from 7-30 a.m. to 10 a.m., for lunch from 12-30 p.m. to 3 p.m. and for dinner from 7-30 p.m. to to 10 p.m. These meals cover a period of 7½ hours. Besides, half an hour before the scheduled hours for each of the meals will be necessary for the table boys for preparation in connection with service covering an additional period of 1½ hours. It is incumbent upon the Company to include the said 1½ hours required for preparation in calculation of 9 hours duty for the table boys. But at the same time it may so happen, that a customer coming for the meals may not finish within the scheduled hours as aforesaid. If it does not extend beyond 10 to 15 minutes from the scheduled hours the table boy or others attending, I think, having regard to the nature of work they are to perform, should not mind attending till actual conclusion of the meals without any extra remuneration. Just as the Company has to include half an hour required for the preparation in the calculation of 9 hours of work for the table boys so also these categories of workmen should not mind continuing to attend without any claim of overtime if per chance any customer having started within scheduled hours may not finish his meal within those hours. With these remarks I would lay down that any work beyond 9 hours a day or after midnight and before 5 a.m. or during period of break duties, shall count to overtime. The overtime hours are accordingly fixed for aforesaid categories of workmen.

Regarding overtime wages, the dispute according to both sides arose out of issue of the circular by the Company on 11th February 1955 (Ext. E), whereby rates were changed for certain categories of work including overtime work. By the said circular no change has admittedly been made in the rates of overtime connected with service of B.O.A.C. and other Air-Lines. The system in respect of them was and has been that the table boys are eligible to get overtime allowance at the rate of annas 4 in the dining-room and annas 8 in the room per head served beyond scheduled hours; while pantry men, mashalchis and others employed are to get fixed sum of annas 8 each.

In the written statement filed before this Tribunal the Union alleged that as per award the rate for overtime was one day's wages. Accordingly, a table boy formerly used to be paid at the rate of annas 8 as being one day's wages in terms of his then basic wages of Rs. 12 and D.A. of Rs. 3—in all Rs. 15 per month; so also was the case with the pantry men and mashalchis. Then after basic wage and other allowances were increased under the award, the workmen became eligible in terms of one day's wages to get more than Rs. 2 for overtime work when a dispute arose between the Company and their table boys. As the Company was unwilling to pay overtime at the enhanced rate of Rs. 2, the workmen stopped overtime work for some days. Thereafter the Company introduced the rate of Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending both for service of meals and for serving tea but the said benefit was not extended to the mashalchis and pantry men who continued to get at the old fixed rate of annas 8 each as before. The Company assured at the time that the matter would soon be reconsidered and it promised that overtime wages would be calculated on the basis of total of basic pay, D.A., ad hoc payment and direct tips as fixed by the interpretation award. The Company did not, however, redeem its promise. Consequently the workmen again started agitation for revision of the rate of overtime when the Company revised the rate in a different way to the prejudice of the workmen by the circular in question. Hence the dispute.

The new rates according to Union would not yield as much as the workers had been getting before and thus all workers refused to take payment since the new system was brought into operation. Then according to Union in the matter of employment it was the butler on whose recommendation one was employed in the overtime work and he was employing only his kith and kin depriving others of their extra earnings, and even when others were employed, time of commencement of their overtime duty was not properly noted in K.O.T. causing great hardship. It was also said that there was no justification for discrimination between work in relation to B.O.A.C. and Air-Lines on one hand and to other categories on the other so as to pay lesser overtime wages for the former. Union further alleged that there was again no justification for discrimination between table boys on one hand and mashalchis, pantry men, chokras, munshis on the other in the matter of rates of overtime wages. As there has since been another award workmen are eligible to get higher amount as overtime wages on the basis of total of different items of pay packet as fixed, under the said award.

The Union accordingly demanded among others—

(1) that overtime wages should be fixed for all categories of workmen at one day's wages in terms of total of basic pay and D. A. as fixed by the last award for each overtime employment during day time and at a fixed sum of Rs. 5 for work between midnight and 5 a.m. in the morning,

(2) that rates of overtime wages for B.O.A.C. and Air-Lines should be raised to rates as fixed for other types of workers and there should be no distinction in this respect between table boys on one hand and mashalchis, pantry men and other dining-room workers on the other,

(3) that the Company should be directed to pay to the workmen concerned for the past period from which they stopped taking payment till the present award at the old rates as were current prior to the issue of the circular.

Company opposed the claims. It denied that one day's overtime wages was fixed as overtime by any award and pleaded among others that in 1954 it paid Rs. 1-8 to table boy for serving customers outside the working hours. In the case of Air-Lines passengers or crew, a table boy was paid annas 4 per meal served in the dining-room and annas 8 per meal served in the resident's room outside working hours. The mashalchis and pantry men get annas 8 each for doing overtime. The Company soon found that the above system was unscientific and would not work inasmuch as the table boys deliberately went slow while serving the customers outside the scheduled hours compelling the Company to engage more men than it would be normally necessary. Similarly for private parties an abnormally large number of table boys were engaged to serve them when a very much lesser number would have been sufficient. In the circumstances, in 1955 the Company introduced a new but a better system of overtime payment. According to this system a table boy is paid on the basis of the number of customers served. The rates are annas 4 per meal served inside the dining-room and annas 8 per meal served outside the dining-room and for any tea party whether it is inside or outside the dining-room the table waiters are paid annas 4 per tea served. The new system was not to the prejudice of the workmen. On the contrary, they received more money by way of overtime under the new system than under the old system, for example, under the old system a waiter serving five persons at a dinner party would only receive Rs. 1-8 but under the present system for serving five customers he would receive Rs. 2-8.

For proper appreciation of the dispute it is better that the system as prevailed immediately before the circular, dated 11th February 1955 (Ext. E) and as has thereafter been introduced by the circular are first stated. Under the system as in vogue prior to 11th February 1955 the following allowances for different works as below were current:

(1) For late or early meals in dining-room or in rooms of the residents (other than Air-Lines) outside scheduled hours, i.e., before 7-30 a.m. and after 10 a.m. or before 12-30 p.m. and after 3 p.m. and before 7-30 p.m. and after 10 p.m., the rate of overtime was Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending for any period of work in between the breaks.

(2) For lunch and dinner parties held in private rooms whether within or outside scheduled hours, the rate of allowance was Rs. 1-8 for each table boy attending.

(3) Likewise for parties in the dining-room for breakfast, lunch or dinner outside scheduled hours, the allowance was Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending. If the party was, however, small, say comprising 7/8 men, the extra allowance of Rs. 1-8 was payable only for laying the table to the table boy doing the said work (vide Ext. 3).

(4) For cocktail parties and special meetings the allowance was Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending.

(5) For tea parties whether during or outside the scheduled hours, the allowance was Rs. 1-8 for table boy attending (Ext. 3).

(6) For special party, gala nights, X'mas eve, New Years and other special functions whether within or outside duty hours, the allowance was Rs. 1-8 for each table boy attending.

(7) In respect of B.O.A.C. and other Air-Lines the rate for table boys was and is annas 4 in the dining-room and annas 8 in the room per head served beyond the scheduled hours.

The other categories of workmen involved, namely, the mashalchis, pantry men, chokras and munshis were, on the other hand, receiving fixed sum of annas 8 each when employed for aforesaid work as also for work in connection with B.O.A.C. and other Air-Lines. The evidence of munshi P.W. 3 Moula Bux and of mashalchi P.W. 4 Idu Mia to the contrary that they too were each getting allowance of Rs. 1-8 like table boys for works other than Air-Lines is contrary to the case in the written statement and cannot be accepted as reliable. The evidence shows that they too were getting at fixed rate of annas 8 each not only for B.O.A.C. and other Air-Lines but also for other works.

By the circular, dated 11th February 1955 (Ext. E), in question, the rates as follows were introduced: "With immediate effect, the old schedule of rates for overtime to that staff connected with serving meals to residents or outsiders is abolished and replaced by the following:—

(1) In the dining-room all parties for breakfast, lunch or dinner up to 30 persons, will be attended to by the staff without any special allowance.

(2) Late or early meals (excluding Air-Lines) that is—

Breakfasts before 7-30 a.m. and after 10 a.m.;

Lunch before 12-30 a.m. and after 3 p.m.;

Dinner before 7-30 p.m. and after 10 p.m.; served either in the dining-room or in the residents' rooms, the allowance will be annas eight per meal.

(3) For tea parties, the allowance will be at the rate of annas four per tea.

(4) For lunch and dinner parties held in private rooms, the allowance will be annas eight per meal. As in the past, the book for payment of such allowances will be kept in the same way, and payments made and individual receipts obtained from each employee being paid these allowances.

(5) In case of special parties in the dining-room, such as charity shows, etc., when our residents are served separately, the allowance to the staff will also be annas eight per meal sold at the special party.

(6) This will in no way affect the rates agreed upon for service to Air-Lines passengers and crew which will remain as in the past.

Such allowances as mentioned above will be divided between all the staff connected with the service of such parties, at the exclusion of stewards, butlers and kitchen staff who will be paid allowances separately, according to the old scale in force."

It will be seen that the allowances as were being paid prior to 11th February 1955 and introduced from 11th February 1955 are not all strictly overtime allowances as some of them were and are payable even for work within scheduled hours. The Company conceded that the dispute has arisen in relation to these allowances whether considered as overtime or not and it has no objection to the same being adjudicated as such. As a matter of fact, in their circular, Ext. E, it styled these allowances, though not all strictly so, as overtime allowances.

It is to be noticed that under the old system rate was fixed on the basis of bearer attending while under the new system rate was fixed on the basis of customers served as in the case of Air-Lines. According to the Company the new system was introduced in order to avoid bearer being stuck to any room. It appears that there was complaint, when the old system was in operation, of the bearers being so stuck (Ext. I). Apparently this they did in order to please the residents with the hope of getting tips from them. As a result the Company was subjected to additional expenses. In case of room service, it was the practice to supply food more than the normal requirement. The Company, it appears, was so charging additional sum of Re 1 to cover charges of additional food supplied as also to cover breakage and leakage of cutleries. It further appears that the table boys had instructions not to wait in the rooms after the food was laid there. They, however, overstayed for their own gain as above and thus the Company claimed to have introduced the new system. There was so justification for the new system. Be that as it may, the new system has to be conceded by the President of the Union P.W. 2 Sheikh Abdul Rahman to be partly advantageous. The illustration appended by the Company in the written statement as already noted would show that it was really beneficial to the table boys in that it had scope for additional earnings for the table boys. It appears that the complaint of workmen is not so much against the rates introduced under the new system but against its working. P.W. 2 said that the butler on whose discretion overtime employment rests, turned the new system in actual practice to the detriment of the table boys so that by employment of more men than was necessary, no one of the table boys could get more than annas 8 to annas 12 per head. It also appears that such a complaint was made to the Manager of the hotel (O.P.W. 3). I think this can be easily prevented if employment in overtime is left to the Manager or to dining-room steward and pantry steward as suggested in Union's letter, dated 7th June 1955 (Ext. 2). As grievance has been made the Company should bring in the desired change in this respect. There should also be direction by the Company to note in the K.O.T. time of commencement of overtime. As to the other grievance that the table boy may not get as much as the old rate of Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending under the new system, this will obviously happen in cases of their attending early or late meals for less than 3 persons if not in other cases. An existing privilege cannot be curtailed or withdrawn. I so think this requires rectification and the table boys should be guaranteed a minimum of Rs. 1-8 per head.

As to the charge of discrimination between table boys on one hand and the pantry men, masalchis, chokras and munshis on the other, fixation of different rates for those workers cannot amount to discrimination when the duties and salaries are different. A table boy who waits and attends must have preference in the matter of overtime allowance to other categories. In the circumstances, it is not unnatural that their rates have been differently fixed.

Regarding service in connection with Air-Lines, it appears that the rates were fixed on the basis of agreement with the workmen. It further appears that service in respect of Air-Lines stands on different footing from other categories in view of the number of persons to be attended being usually more than 60 I do not so think any change is called for except ensuring a minimum of Rs. 1-8 per table boy attending and raising allowance of other categories of workers to annas 12 each as mentioned hereinafter. As the party usually comprises more than 60, it is obvious that the rates fixed for the table boys for such service would bring more than Rs. 1-8 per head to them. In any case there will be no scope for grievance if same rider as for other kinds of work guaranteeing a minimum of Rs. 1-8 to a table boy for service in connection with Air-Lines be added. Other categories of workers will get fixed sum of annas 12 each in place of annas 8.

As to claim for higher rates of overtime wages, I find no justification so far table boys are concerned. According to their own showing they were initially getting annas 8 per head, and subsequently at the rate of Rs. 1-8. In the interpretation award of Shri P. R. Mukherji between the parties as made on 28th May 1952 the matter was considered under issue No. 9 and it was laid down that overtime wages should be calculated on the basis of the "new basic pay" which he fixed thereunder. The said "new basic pay" was the sum total of the old basic pay as shown in the schedule of his first award, dated 12th April 1950 and a fixed sum of Rs. 25 allowed in lieu of free food. The "new basic pay" for the table boy came to Rs. 37 (Rs. 12 plus Rs. 25). A sum of Rs. 1-8 as was admissible to him under the old system and as is going to be guaranteed in the new system would come to more than one day's wages in terms thereof. In the subsequent award of this Tribunal, dated 29th February 1956, the said new basic pay was left undisturbed. So if the said basic of overtime remains, the table boys can have no improvement in this respect under the last award. Under the Factories Act rates of overtime are fixed at double the ordinary rate and under the Shops and Establishments Act at 1½ times the ordinary rate but such rates are for continuous spell of overtime work. In the present case in the nature of things the overtime work cannot be continuous but intermittent and each such overtime employment cannot last beyond 2½ hours. If overtime be calculated on the basis of 9 hours a day fixed for these categories of workmen, the wages for each such overtime employment covering not more than 2½ hours would be far less than Rs. 1-8 admissible to him. In the last award of this Tribunal, dated 29th February 1956, the calculation of overtime on the basis of "new basic pay" as laid down by Shri P. K. Mukherji was specifically left undisturbed. The said award has still been in operation having not been terminated under section 19 of the Act. Besides, the Union in its last letter, dated 7th June 1955, to the Manager of the Company demanded restoration of the old rate for the table boy (vide Ext. 2). So, giving due consideration to the matter the rate as laid down under the new system for the table boys are approved subject to the minimum of Rs. 1-8 for a table boy. Regarding other categories of workmen they should in my considered opinion having regard to the nature of their duties to be performed and their basic pay under the interpretation and last award get a fixed sum of annas 12 (in lieu of annas 8) in connection with Air-Lines as also for other categories of works as and when employed.

As to the claim for higher rate for employment after midnight and before 5 a.m., I think the workmen can legitimately claim higher rate for such employment during such hours of the night. The minimum of a table boy in case of such employment is fixed at Rs. 2, while for other categories it is fixed at Re. 1 each. The new system with reservation as to minimum for table boy and with variation in rates for other categories of workers as aforesaid will be operative from the date the award becomes enforceable.

Lastly, as to the claim for the past period the Company is directed to pay the workmen concerned the allowances as admissible under the old system from the date workmen stopped taking payment till the operation of new rates within a month from the date award becomes enforceable.

Now, in terms as aforesaid I make my award in respect of the issues.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., Shibpore, Howrah and their workmen represented by the Rashikal Mazdoor Sabha, 101 Cowies Ghat Road, Shibpore, Howrah. (Case No. VIII ..)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. N. GAN, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate, with Shri Shib Nath Banerjee.

For the Company: Shri M. M. Ghose.

The following issue, arising out of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., Shibpore, Howrah (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by the Rashikal Mazdoor Sabha, 101 Cowies Ghat Road, Shibpore, Howrah, was referred to this Tribunal for its adjudication, by the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour, by order No. 682-I.R./D/11L-267/55, dated the 4th March 1957.

Issue

If the wages of the workmen should be increased and if so to what extent?

Both parties filed written statements, adduced evidence, oral and documentary, and advanced arguments in the case.

FINDINGS

Issue No. 1: The Union claims (i) a flat increment of 10 per cent. of wages subject to a minimum of Rs. 10 per month, (ii) grades as referred to in Annexure G to its written statement, (iii) attendance bonus at the rate of Rs. 5 per month, etc., and (iv) house-rent allowance at 10 per cent. of the wages, subject to a minimum of Rs. 10 per month, and that with retrospective effect from the date of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award.

The Company's contention is that the Union's demand for grades, attendance bonus and house-rent allowance are outside the scope of the present reference and, as such, they are not maintainable in the present case. Further, there is no justification for demanding any increment for the Company pays the highest wages in the rope industry, and the total emoluments of an employee of this concern compare very favourably with the total emoluments paid in the other industries in the region. The Company, despite its disadvantageous position for higher cost of production in the competitive market, had introduced a production bonus scheme which was subsequently liberalised. As a result of this an employee is now earning more than what he used to do previously. The finances of the Company are incapable to bear any further increase in wages. The Company also contends that it is under no obligation to pay its employees in terms of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award to which it was not a party.

I think that the Union's demands for grades, attendance bonus, and house-rent allowance in the present dispute are not maintainable as they are outside the scope of the present reference. The only dispute referred to the Tribunal is, whether or not the existing wages of the employees should be increased and, if so, to what extent. The said three demands have no direct connection with the fixation of wages. It cannot be said that they are matters incidental to the above issue in question. That being the position, the prayer of the Union for grades attendance bonus and house-rent allowance should be rejected. I reject them accordingly.

Now, the point for consideration is whether the existing rate of wages should be increased and, whether the Union's claim in this respect for a flat increase of 10 per cent. of the existing rates of wages subject to a minimum of Rs. 10, should be accepted. A total complement of 773 workers were employed by the Company on the week ending 15th June 1957. Calculated on this basis, the Union's minimum demand is likely to cost the Company about Rs. 92,760 a year. The increment as demanded on the basis of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award would cost, according to the Company, about Rs. 58,668 a year. The estimated expenditure on this account has been worked out by the parties as above.

The admitted position is that the existing rates of wages came to be last revised when the Company allowed the benefits of the Second Jute Tribunal's Award to its workmen sometime in 1951. Before that, the Company had given effect to the First Jute Tribunal Award, so far it related to wages and dearness allowance. It is in evidence of O.P.W. 3, Shri A. K. Ghosh, the Assistant Manager of the Company, that the production bonus scheme has been in operation since 1949 or 1950. The scheme was then revised in 1953 when it was considerably liberalised. Excepting officers, everybody employed in the factory enjoyed the benefits of this scheme. The quantum of production bonus paid last year amounted to three months' basic wages. O.P.W. 2, Shri Wahi, Manager-in-charge of the Company, and P.W. 1, Shri Apurba Sen Gupta, the General Secretary of the Union, depose to the same effect. The Union demanded that the wages should be increased at the rates given in the Third Jute Tribunal's Award. The Company did not accede to this request. The demand for increment of wages was not conceded. Accordingly, the Union now asks for a general increment of 10 per cent. of the existing rates of wages subject to a minimum of Rs. 10, on the ground that the Company is bound by the agreement to pay in terms of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award. It has paid increment according to the First and the Second Jute Tribunal Awards. It is, therefore, in the fitness of things, says the Union, that (i) the Company should allow an increment in terms of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award, and (ii) that the Company should also pay living wages to its employees, particularly, as they are required to exercise greater degree of skill in work than their counterparts in any Jute Mill, and also (iii) on the ground that the cost of living had gone up with the rise in the prices of foodstuffs and other essential commodities. The Company's defence however, is that there was no agreement, or assurance given to pay in terms of the Jute Tribunal's Award and, as such, it would not pay in terms of the same. The Union has not made out any case for payment of living wages or for a general rise in wages, either on the ground of performance of greater skill by the workers, or on the ground of rise in the prices of foodstuffs and/or rise in the cost of living index. The Company is already paying more than what other concerns in the same industry are paying in the locality.

The agreement, relied upon by the Union, is mentioned in paragraph 2 of the Manager Mr. Robertson's letter (Ext. 1), dated 7th September 1951, to the President of the Union. We do not get the text of the Agreement, which was not produced before this Tribunal. But it is sufficiently clear from the letter, Ext. 1, that there was a longstanding agreement between the Union and the Management of the Company providing among others, that the terms and conditions of service for workers here should be on lines of the awards by the Jute Textile Tribunal in respect of the Jute Mill workers. It is stated in the aforesaid letter, Ext. 1, that the First Jute Tribunal's award was implemented, and that an assurance was given that the Second Jute Tribunal's Award would be implemented in due course. We have got it in evidence that the 2nd Jute Tribunal's Award was also fully implemented. The above reply of Mr. Robertson was given on receipt of the charter of demands from the Union, on 28th August 1951 [Ext. 1(a)]. The Company's case now is that the Union did not stand by the agreement and, in fact, in a letter, dated the 14th December 1951 (Ext. A), the Secretary of the Union made it clear that the workers would not accept the award of the Jute Tribunal. It further appears that the Union, however, accepted the award, despite its letter (Ext. A) to the contrary and that both parties treated this agreement as binding on them to the knowledge of the Government. It appears from Ext. 2, the letter, dated the 17th February 1954, written by the Assistant Secretary, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, to the Secretary of the Union, that there was an agreement between the Union and the Management for observance of the terms and conditions of the Jute Tribunal's Awards. Thereafter, the Union again demanded for the implementation of the Third Jute Tribunal's Award but the Manager in his reply, dated 21st November 1955 (Ext. 2b), categorically denied giving effect to it on the ground that the Company was no party to it. The Manager also regretted his inability to take cognizance of the findings of the said award, as it did not concern his company. In this state of evidence, it is idle to contend that the agreement which existed between the Union and the Management, as mentioned in the Manager's letter (Ext. 1), dated the 7th September 1951, was no more binding on the parties, and had ceased to be operative in law. It is one thing to say that the rates of wages under the award would not satisfy the workers at the moment, but it is quite a different thing to assert that the Company is no more under any obligation to honour the agreement regarding implementation of the said award. In my view, the Company, after having held out hopes to the workers, cannot now ignore the said agreement—much less—to back out from it. The Union, however, asks for more than what the workers are entitled to under the award by virtue of the said agreement. The Union cannot blow hot and cold at the same breath. It must either stand by the agreement or lawfully terminate it. It can only have more than one proof of change of circumstances. The award of the Third Jute Tribunal was made on 20th September 1955, and was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 6th October 1955. This award was modified to some extent in appeal by the Labour Appellate Tribunal. The decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal was reported in 1956 (November), Labour Appel cases, p. 790. No endeavour was made to prove that, since the date of the last award there had been material changes in the circumstances justifying further revision of the findings of the said award, relevant to the issue in question. On the other hand, the Company has succeeded in establishing that the cost of living index was 370 points in 1951, and the average figure of it for the year 1956 was 347 points. It is true that the cost of living index has gone up to 369 points in the month of June 1957, but even then this does not show an overall increase over the cost of living index of 1951, when the rates of wages were last revised. The Union's chart on this point appears to be erroneous for, it referred to figures of Asansol, and not of Calcutta. The Company, in the next place endeavours to show by evidence, including the chart, Ext. C, that it pays to its employees a basic pay and dearness allowance, which taken together, amount to more than what are actually paid to the employees of the sister concerns in the same industries, and in the same locality. The Shalimar Rope Works pays basic pay and dearness allowance amounting to Rs. 57 per month and Messrs. Hartons, Ltd., also pays an equal amount. The Shalimar Rope Works pays a production bonus amounting to Rs. 5-7 a month in addition to basic pay and dearness allowance. The Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., also pays a production bonus amounting to Rs. 6-8 per month.

The question now, is whether the production bonus paid to the employees by this Company can be treated as a part of wages. Mr. Justice Ramaswami of the Madras High Court in a case reported in 12 F.J.R., p. 238, held on a review of all the cases on this point, that bonus is not a regular part of wages, deferred or otherwise, and it is in a sense an ex gratia payment, but by the statute or by agreement, it can assume permanency, and become part of wages. Practically, the same view was taken by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in Coal Appeals where it held that it is the normal concept that the minimum wage is a fixed amount which a workman must receive for the work that he does. The present bonus scheme has been outlined in the Ext. E(2). The payment of this bonus is dependent on production, regular attendance, and also on approved service. Therefore, by its very nature, it can never be looked upon as a regular part of wages. This has to be earned by putting in extra efforts. In my opinion, it may be taken into consideration to ascertain, as in the Metal Box's case, the total emoluments of an employee, but it should not be so done in judging the adequacy or otherwise of the amount of wages. If the amount of production bonus is deducted from the total emolument as stated in the Ext. C., it will be seen that this Company is paying Rs. 63-6 in basic wages and dearness allowance to its employees as against Rs. 67-2-9 allowed in the Third Jute Tribunal's Award, whereas the Shalimar Rope Works and the Harton Co. are paying a total of Rs. 57 only. It is the Union's case that the Shalimar Rope Works and Harton Co., cannot be compared with the Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., for, the Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., holds a unique position which the other two companies, much smaller in size, can never aspire to reach. We do not get the balance-sheets of all these three companies referred to above and, therefore, are not in a position to make any correct estimate on this point. But it is abundantly clear that the Ganges Rope Co., Ltd., manufactures quality products, and employs a larger number of workmen in their work.

On the question of production, the parties differ in their estimates. The Union's evidence is that the production has gone up under the production bonus scheme, whereas the Company's case is that it remains practically the same. It, however, appears that except in the last six months of 1955, the sale position remains very satisfactory in some years. There were record sales. As nothing is claimed on the basis of increased productivity, this question does not detain us long nor present any difficulty.

Except on the issue of introduction of grades, the Company did not plead its financial incapacity to grant an increase in wages. Nevertheless, it should be seen whether it has the capacity to bear any additional financial burden on this ground. Although the sales were increased in 1956, the corresponding profits showed a downward trend. There was less profit in 1956. Roughly, it was one-fourth of the profits of the previous year. But then, the Company paid a dividend to its share-holders, much higher in relation to the amount of profits earned in that year. O.P.W. 2, Shri Wahi attempted to give an explanation on this point. He said that the reason for low profit against the high figure of sales is that the cost of production was high. We have not got any detailed explanation on this point. It is however clear from the evidence of the balance-sheet (Ext. G) with Ext. B, that the Company had earned handsome profits in the past, and that due to increased cost of production it earned less profit in the last year. This does not show that the Company's financial position is unsound, or that it is incapable of bearing increased financial burden on the score of increased wages.

Next, the question now to be considered is whether the employees can succeed in getting an increased wage on the ground that they are required to display an extra amount of skill in work under this Company, much more than what an employee in a Jute Mill is required to do. The evidence in this respect on the Union's side is given by Shri Sen Gupta, P.W. 1, who has no experience of work either in this Company or in a Jute Mill. He admitted that he had no knowledge about the work of Jute Mills. He does not possess more than elementary knowledge on the subject. He is an employee of Howrah Municipality. It is not possible to hold, on this evidence, that an employee in the service of this Company is required to show greater amount of skill in work than that of a Jute Mill worker.

Lastly, as I have stated above, the agreement on which the present claim for the increment of wages is based, is binding on both parties. That being so, the Company is bound to give effect to the 3rd Jute Tribunal's Award which allowed an increased rate of basic pay but a lower rate of dearness allowance. Exhibit C shows that the aforesaid award of the 3rd Jute Tribunal allowed a total of Rs. 67-2-9 to a worker, whereas this Company is at present paying a total emolument of Rs. 63-6 per month.

On a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case I find that the wages of workmen in this Company should be increased, and brought in line with the Third Jute Tribunal's Award. The weekly-paid employees should get an increment of Rs. 3-12-9 and monthly paid employees should get an increment of Rs. 3-2 only as in the Third Jute Tribunal's Award. I answer the issue accordingly.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. India Industrial Works, Ltd., 55/1 Dharmatala Road, Howrah and their workmen represented by Engineering Mazdur Sabha, 4 Nityadhan Mukherjee Road, Hawrah. (Case No. VIII—279 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances.

For the Engineering Mazdur Sabha: Shri D. L. Sengupta, Vice-President, assisted by Shri Haripada Majumder, Secretary.

For the Company: Shri S. K. Asthana, Labour Adviser of Engineering Association of India.

The dispute sought to be resolved by adjudication on this reference made by Government order No. 4328Dis./D/101L-32/55, dated the 27th September 1956, relates to some of the salient conditions of service applicable to workers serving under the India Industrial Works, Ltd.

The points formulated in the order of reference are as follows:—

(1) Revision of grade and increment.

(2) Dearness allowance.

(3) Leave.

(4) Modification of attendance bonus rule.

The Union in its written statement referred to the history of the dispute and pointed out that there are no grades of pay for the workers and for last five years no increment has been granted. The cost of living index number has moved upward sharply and no step has been taken to fill up even in a small measure the yawning gulf between the wages and the cost of living. The Company grants no privilege leave, casual leave or sick leave. The grievances of the workmen in this respect should also be redressed. The attendance bonus rule is extremely stringent. Its modification is indispensably necessary.

The Company in its written statement asserted that the terms and conditions of employment were much more favourable than those obtaining in similar industries. The minimum wage for unskilled and semi-skilled workers was determined by an agreement during the pendency of a reference proceeding before the Fifth Industrial Tribunal and the said agreement was made part of the award. There has been no material change in the circumstances since the date of the award which might warrant disturbance of the wage structure built up by the award. The financial position of the Company has in the mean time suffered serious decline. In the present financial condition the Company cannot be made to undertake any further liabilities. No incremental scale is prevalent in any Engineering Industry and none should be fixed for this particular unit. Dearness allowance is being paid at a flat rate of Rs. 30 on the basis of the agreement aforesaid. Having regard to the distressed circumstances in which the Company is at present, no enhancement of dearness allowance is practicable. In regard to leave the Company stated that over and above the statutory leave admissible under the Factories Act, the Company grants 10 days' festival holidays with full pay. Sick leave previously allowed has now been discontinued as the Employees State Insurance Scheme has been put into operation. Existing leave facilities are satisfactory and do not require any revision. Attendance bonus was introduced by the Company on its own initiative to encourage regularity in attendance. The Union demand for relaxation of some of the conditions is unreasonable, as such relaxation would put a premium upon laxity in attendance.

Issue No. 3—Leave: The Union demand is that privilege leave to the extent of 15 days which might accumulate for three years and casual leave for 15 days should be granted in addition to the leave admissible under the Factories Act. Reference was made on behalf of the Union to the award of the Second Major Engineering Tribunal Award. At page 246 of the volume of awards made by Tribunals for the quarter ending September 1950, published by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, directions given by the Tribunal regarding leave may be found. For employees according to the Factories Act, 1948, the Tribunal allowed annual leave with wages for 10 days or more which may be permissible under section 79 of the Factories Act, such leave being allowed to accumulate in the manner provided by that Act. In addition the Tribunal provided for six or five days other leave with wages according as there would be two Sundays or one Sunday within the period of the first 10 days of the continuous annual leave under section 79 of the Factories Act, such leave being allowed to accumulate in the manner provided by that Act. Since the publication of the award, the Factories Act has been amended and at present leave up to a period of 14 days may be earned by a factory worker. As under the old Act only 10 days leave could be earned, the Tribunal had to supplement the leave by adding five or six days' other leave. Since that position does not hold good at present and the Factories Act itself makes adequate provision for annual leave there is not an iota of justification for making separate arrangement for privilege leave. The period available under the Factories Act is properly speaking privilege leave. I am not prepared, therefore, to accede to the Union prayer for allowing privilege leave in addition to the statutory leave.

The other item of claim is casual leave. The Second Major Engineering Award allowed 7 days' casual leave with full pay to clerical and supervisory staff. No such leave was granted in respect of the workers, skilled or unskilled. It has not been shown that casual leave is being enjoyed by workers of any factory. I am not prepared to make a departure. The claim for casual leave is accordingly rejected. Leave that is being granted by the Company at present will continue.

Issue No. 4—Modification of attendance bonus rule: Attendance bonus is available in the shape of one day's wages to those workers who are in attendance throughout the whole month for full working hours. If anybody goes on leave for any day or part of a day he forfeits the privilege. The Union submitted that 21 days' attendance in a month should be held sufficient to qualify a worker for drawing attendance bonus and the rate should be Rs. 3. Attendance on all the working days in a month should entitle the worker to two days' wages. The Company stoutly opposed modification of the attendance bonus rules on the lines suggested by the Union. This bonus was the creation of the Company for discouraging absenteeism. The object was to provide some sort of reward for regularity in attendance for the entire working period in a month. Any relaxation made, will defeat the very object. I do not think it would be fair to the Company to liberalise the rules in accordance with the recommendations of the Union. There are however certain harsh features which should be soft-pedalled. A worker going on authorised leave should not lose the benefit of attendance bonus. It is hence directed that absence on sanctioned leave for one or more days or part of a day will not be treated as absence in deciding the claim for attendance bonus.

Issue Nos. 1 and 2: These two issues may be dealt with jointly on account of the intimate relationship between dearness allowance and basic wage.

The workers have been classified by both parties into three clearly demarcated groups—unskilled, semi-skilled and skilled. Under the heading "Remedies Suggested" the Union has in the written statement put its claim in the following shape:—

	Grades.				Scales.
	Rs.	a.	p.		Rs.	a.	p.		Rs.	a.	p.
Unskilled ..	1	5	0	.. yearly increment	0	1	0	to	2	0	0
Semi-skilled A ..	1	8	0	.. yearly increment	0	1	6	to	2	7	0
Semi-skilled B ..	2	0	0	.. yearly increment	0	2	0	to	3	8	0
Skilled A ..	2	8	0	.. yearly increment	0	3	0	to	4	0	0
Skilled B ..	3	8	0	.. yearly increment	0	6	0	to	6	8	0

The Company resisted the claim on the ground that the existing wages were settled by an agreement which was accepted and made the basis of an award by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal before whom a reference of the dispute on this subject was pending and that the financial position of the Company is so very precarious that imposition of any further monetory obligation will sound its death-knell.

Exhibit D is the petition of compromise, dated 30th May 1952, by which the parties settled their disputes amicably in a spirit of responsive co-operation. An award was made adopting the terms of settlement. Minimum basic pay of unskilled workers was fixed at Rs. 1-2-6 per day or Rs. 30 per month and that of semi-skilled workers at Rs. 1-5-6 per day or Rs. 35 per month. By a flat increase of Rs. 5 dearness allowance was raised to Rs. 30 per month. So far as the minimum basic pay is concerned parties appear to have taken for their guidance the rates fixed by the First Major Engineering Tribunal award of 1948. Shri D. L. Sengupta, appearing for the workers, making a flanking attack on the Engineering Tribunal Award, advanced the argument that after having gone through the entire field of investigation with a fine tooth-comb that Tribunal stultified its conclusion and fixed the Minimum basic pay at a rate much lower than their findings justified. Reference may be made to the discussion at page 88 of the Labour Department publication of Major Tribunal Awards in 1948, Volume III, in which the following passage appears:

> Taking Rs. 5 per month as the pre-war expenditure on food per month per adult, according to Dr. Aykroyd's table and estimate, the expenditure on food for a three-unit family would come to Rs. 15 per month, and therefore the basic pay would come to Rs. 25 per month on the pre-war level of prices. Multiplying by 1.6 on the assumption that the prices will stabilise at the index of 160, we arrive at a figure of Rs. 40 per month, which is precisely the basic pay demanded by most of the Unions.

Turning to the second paragraph at page 93 Shrijut Sengupta ventilated the grievance that the basic pay being found to be Rs. 40 at the cost of living index of 160, the Tribunal should have followed up their findings and fixed minimum basic pay at the cost of living index of 310 at Rs. 70 but Rs. 55 was the actual minimum fixed. The workers were thus given a raw deal. With all respect to Shrijut Sengupta, I think he has not been scrupulously fair to the Tribunal in commenting upon its award. What is stated at page 88 is nothing but the result of calculation made in a particular mode. The Tribunal did not in express or clear terms record a finding that this was the decision or award. Clarification is available in the following observations made in the paragraph at page 93 referred to by Shrijut Sengupta, viz.—

> Rupees 40 may be the ideal basic pay under the present conditions, but as pointed out by Dr. Mukherjee, we must approach the ideal minimum wage gradually in order to avoid dislocation in the industry, which would result in a net reduction in employment. By fixing the minimum at Rs. 55 per month, we are increasing the average wages by Rs. 5 or Rs. 6 per month, and in our considered opinion this is as much as the industry can be expected to bear at present, when the industry is passing through difficult times owing to short supply of steel and other raw materials. For the unskilled worker, therefore, we fix the minimum basic wage at Rs. 30 per month or Rs. 1-2-6 per day.

Since the making of that award, the question of minimum basic wage in Engineering concerns has come up before other Tribunals. The minimum basic pay as fixed by the Major Engineering Tribunal has been consistently accepted for guidance. Shrijut Sengupta cannot expect me to ignore the Major Tribunal award and other awards which followed the lead. An additional reason for not responding to the appeal for a departure from the beaten track is that industrial peace would be imperilled if I were to follow the course advocated by Shrijut Sengupta. It should also be borne in mind, that in May 1952, the parties to this dispute had themselves adopted the minimum basic pay as settled by the Major Engineering award as adequate under the then existing conditions. The Union did not then take the view, as is now done by its spokesman, that the Major Engineering Tribunal had done injustice to the workers.

Shrijut Sengupta harked back to the recommendations of the Central Pay Commission at pages 361-362. The pay range recommended for unskilled workers was Rs. 30—1/2—35 and that for semi-skilled or skilled workers was Rs. 35—1—50 and Rs. 40—1—50—2—60. The First Major Engineering Tribunal was fully aware of the recommendation of the Central Pay Commission and had given them due consideration. I cannot turn back the hand of the clock and introduce rates of pay which the Major Engineering Tribunal did not consider suitable. Reference was made by Shrijut Sengupta also to the award by the Major Jute Tribunal in 1948 published at page 221 of the third volume of Major Tribunal Awards during 1948. Drawing my attention to pages 240-241 Shrijut Sengupta submitted that the minimum emoluments were raised from Rs. 46 to Rs. 58-8. It however appears that the basic minimum pay was fixed at Rs. 26 and Rs. 32-8 was added to it as dearness allowance. So far as the basic minimum pay is concerned this award is of no assistance to the Union since basic pay for unskilled workers is Rs. 30 in the present case.

Shrijut Sengupta tried to support his argument with the aid of the award made in the Caltex Company's case reported in 1952, L.A.C. page 402. I think prevailing rates of wages for similar or comparable industries in the same locality may be useful but comparison with wages paid by an Oil Company which is in a prosperous condition is not fair or reasonable.

Minimum basic pay was fixed at Rs. 30 in May 1952 by compromise which formed part of the award made by the Fifth Industrial Tribunal. In Burn Company's case reported in 1957, 1, L.L.J. page 226, the Hon'ble Supreme Court has held that though terminated by notice under section 19(6) of the Industrial Disputes Act the decision of a Tribunal will preserve its strength unless there is change of circumstances. In the present case the Company has served notice to terminate the award. Nevertheless, the fixation of basic wage made by the award will not disappear unless change of circumstances is proved. The Union argument is that the cost of living has been rising in a steady crescendo. The index number is now 390. This is however no ground for effecting changes in the basic minimum wage. The rise in the cost of living is to be met by adjustment of dearness allowance. It follows therefore that the basic minimum pay as determined by the 1952 award must remain intact.

The second line of the Company's defence is that the business is not having plain sailing. It is struggling against heavy odds, and is just keeping its head above water. The auditors' report Ext. B, audited balance-sheets Exts. B(1) to B(3) reveal a highly embarrassed financial position. The share capital was five lakhs of rupees. Borrowings from bank amount to 11 lakhs. All the assets of the Company are mortgaged to the Bank. No provision could be made for depreciation and no reserves have been built up. No dividend has been paid since 1951. The statement Ext. A(2) shows that up to 1956, total profits amounted to Rs 25,708 whereas the losses amounted to Rs. 2,91,278. Tin plates and galvanized wire are the staple raw materials required by the Company for its production work. Exhibit C(1) shows that for the third quarter of 1957, the Company could secure 80 per cent. of its sanctioned quota from the authorised dealer, the Tin Plate Company of India, Ltd. Government letter Ext. C shows a further cut in the quota by 50 per cent. It is true that same quantity of raw materials could be procured from local markets. But that can hardly be counted upon as a sure and perennial source of supply. Cost of materials has also gone up considerably as will appear from the statement Ext. A(3). The business of the Company is undoubtedly passing through heavy travail. The outlook is depressing in all conscience. According to the Company's spokesman neither basic wage nor the dearness allowance can be enhanced without dealing a serious blow to the industry, as under prevailing conditions the business has not the capacity to bear any further burden. The cases reported in 1954, L.A.C. page 10, 1954, 1, L.L.J. page 766 and 1954, 2, L.L.J. page 221 were cited in support of the proposition that capacity to pay is a severeign consideration. On behalf of the Union Shrijut Sengupta controverted the proposition on the plea that for fixation of minimum pay capacity to pay deserves no consideration as an industry which cannot pay the minimum has no right to exist. The view propounded by Shrijut Sengupta is not, in my estimation, universally applicable. In the case reported in 1951, 2, L.L.J. page 221 it has been held that the Company which has not been able to build up any reserve requires special consideration. In the Buckingham and Carnatic Mills, Ltd. case reported in 1952, L.A.C. page 490, their Lordships observed at page 517 that capacity to pay is to be considered in fixation of basic wages. The First Major Engineering Tribunal had also taken the capacity to pay into consideration as will appear from the following observation at page 97:

"The fact that we have been induced by consideration of the prevailing wage rate and the capacity of the industry to pay, to fix a lower > minimum wage than we might otherwise have done is no doubt an argument in favour of a short-time scale".

This point is more or less academic in the present instance since the task before me is revision of the minimum already settled. Same considerations do not apply as in the case of first-time fixation of minimum wage. It may be mentioned here that besides wages proper the workers have opportunities to earn production and attendance bonus. Seven days' wages are also payable as Pujah Bonus as a condition of service. To these may be added the benefits of the Employees' Provident Fund Act and the State Insurance Act. The employer has to make contributions. The First Major Engineering pointed out at page 89 of its award that these benefits have a "definite monetary value and are of greater intrinsic value than there mere rupee value in that they do not lead to inflationary tendencies in the same way as do pure increase, in rate of pay". Giving all these facts their due weight, I hold that the Company's opposition to the revision of the minimum basic pay and increment is well founded. The basic minimum wage fixed by the earlier award must remain as it is.

The Company's spokesman relied on the same argument, viz., incapacity to bear additional burden in resisting the claim for enhancement of dearness allowance. In course of of his argument he placed before me the cost of living index number published in the Labour Gazette, in June 1957, at page 61. 1944 has been taken as the base year. The figures as compiled are as follows:—

In 1954	... 128
In 1955	... 123
In 1956	... 132
January 1957	... 135
February 1957	... 134
March 1957	... 135
April 1957	... 135
May 1957	... 137
June 1957	... 141

The figures compiled by the State Statistical Bureau with 1939 as the base year are:

In 1954	... 338.9
In 1955	... 333.5
In 1956	... 370.5
January 1957	... 373.2
February 1957	... 374.7
March 1957	... 375.0
April 1957	... 383.1
May 1957	... 400.6

As the source from which the Labour Department obtained the date for the figures is not disclosed I would give preference to the Statistical Bureau's figures. It is no secret that the cost of living has risen at an alarming rate and the upward trend is still unchecked. The figure 370 may be taken as the average. The point for decision now is if the Company has the capacity to pay dearness allowance at a higher rate. The overall picture of the financial position is no doubt gloomy but referring to chart

Ext. E Shrijut Sengupta succeeded in scoring the point that sales of the Company's products have taken a favourable turn. In 1954-55, 925,072 lanterns were manufactured. The previous year's stock of 53,906 lanterns being added the total comes to 978,978 pieces. At the end of the year 550,880 lanterns remained undisposed of. The number sold was therefore 923,098 for Rs. 29,41,781-28 nP. Average selling price was Rs. 2-3-3 pies per piece. In 1955-56 the number of lanterns manufactured was 926,975. The previous year's stock was 55,880. As the number undisposed of was 91,577 the number sold was 891,278 and the value received was Rs. 22,87,451-27 nP. Therefore selling 31,820 pieces less in 1955-56, the Company got Rs. 2,45,670, more than in 1954-55. The average selling price works out at Rs. 2-9-0 per piece. In 1956-57 the quantity produced was 667,437. The quantity in stock was 91,577 pieces, making a total of 759,014. The number of lanterns undisposed of was 143,765. The quantity sold up to the first part of 1957 was 615,249 and the value received was Rs. 17,24,143-95 nP. The sale position is thus highly encouraging. There seems to be a silver lining in the cloud. The Company can therefore afford to bear a moderate increase in dearness allowance. Following the decision in the case reported in 1953, 1, L.L.J. page 508 I hold that at the present juncture a small increase not on the basis of the extent of rise in the cost of living index but at a flat rate would be just and convenient. In this view I award that dearness allowance which was so long paid at the rate of Rs. 30 be raised to Rs. 32 with effect from September 1957.

Notices were issued on both parties who filed written statements setting forth their respective cases.

The case of the Union on the issues is as follows:

The Company was a well-equipped Silk Textile Industry in West Bengal and it used to employ about 152 workmen. The Company gradually retrenched 72 workmen as shown in the list attached to the order of reference. Prior to the notice retrenching 72 workmen, the situation in the Company was such that the workers were neither paid their wages for months together, nor were issued letters of termination of service, nor were they given any retrenchment compensation. They were verbally retrenched by Shri K. C. Biswas, Managing Director of the Company, and the workmen were told that they would be paid their retrenchment compensation and other dues when he would get money from the Government or would be in a position to arrange finance.

The rules of leave in the Company was to pay full wages for casual leave and sick leave availed of, but this sum has not been paid as shown in Annexure A to the Union's statement. It is prayed that the issues may be answered in favour of the workmen and the dues shown in Annexure A be awarded in full.

The Company, in its written statement, states as follows:

That no industrial dispute is maintainable inasmuch as the alleged dispute is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act that the employment of the workers in question being terminated from the 21st May 1955, they are not competent in law to have their alleged dispute adjudicated in Industrial Tribunal and that their petition is bad in law for misjoiner of parties, as the employees in question are not entitled to have their individual claim adjudicated jointly and as such this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate their claim jointly, that the claimants of the Union were not workmen within the meaning of the Act, inasmuch as they were not in the employment since 21st May 1955, and as such they are not entitled to have their claims adjudicated by this Tribunal. It is also stated that the Pravati Textile Mills Labour Union is not entitled to represent the said claimants as they were neither workmen within the meaning of the Act, nor were they members of the Union since 21st May 1955. It is further stated that the award given by Shri M. C. Banerji between the Company and its workmen in 1952 having expired, the claimants are not entitled to any sick leave or casual leave wages or gratuities. The Company submits that the issues referred for adjudication should not be answered in favour of the claimant and the alleged dues shown in their Annexure A should not be awarded either in law or in equity.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the workmen: Shri M. Saha, Advocate and Shri H. Roy, Pleader.

For the Company: None.

The issues framed for the decision of this case are the same as that mentioned in the order of reference and are as follows:

Issues

(1) Whether the 72 workmen mentioned in the list appended to the schedule to the order of reference are entitled to sick leave and/or casual leave wages?

(2) Whether the said workmen are entitled to gratuities in conformity with the rules which were in force at the relevant time?

AWARD

Decisions

Issue Nos. 1 and 2: On the date of hearing, the Company did not appear and the case was heard in their absence.

The Union's case is that according to the rules of the Company, the workers were allowed casual leave with pay for five days in the year and medical leave at seven days per year. Medical leave used to be accumulated for three years. It is also stated that payment of the wages for sick leave and casual leave availed of was to be made at the end of the year. The 72 men mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference, it is claimed, enjoyed medical leave and casual leave before the date of their discharge, but they were not paid wages for such leave. The Union, therefore prays for arrear wages for casual and medical leave availed of by the workers and not paid for.

P.W. 1 Shri Santi Ranjan Banerji, deposed for the Union. It appears that workers Nos. 44 Kali Charan Manna, 28 Jugesh Ch. Das and 5 Narendra Nath Das of the order of reference are since dead. No award may therefore be made on their behalf. All the workers were discharged between January and March 1954. They availed of the medical leave for seven days in the year in 1952 and 1953 and the casual leave for 5 days per year also in those years. Casual leave cannot be accumulated. They shall, therefore, get wages for five days' casual leave in 1952 and 14 days' medical leave in 1952 and 1953. The statement attached to the Union's written statement shows the wages payable to these workmen. The entitlements of the workers in wages for medical and casual leave as stated above has been shown in Annexure A to this award. Issue No. 1 is accordingly answered.

According to the agreement between the workers and the Company, dated 22nd April 1949, the workers are also entitled to gratuity at 15 days' basic wages for every year of service from 22nd April 1950 till the date of the introduction of the Provident Fund Scheme. It appears that the Government Provident Fund Scheme was introduced in this Company on 13th March 1953. The workers who were in the service of the Company for more than three years are, therefore, entitled to three years' gratuity at 15 days' basic pay per year. It appears that some of the workers are in the service of the Company only for 2 years. They should receive gratuity at 15 days' basic wage per year for two years. The entitlements of the workers in gratuity is also shown in Annexure A, which shall form a part of this award. The workers mentioned in serial Nos 5 Narendra Nath Das, 28 Jugesh Ch. Das and 44 Kalicharan Manna in Annexure A are excluded from the award as they are since dead. Annexure A shall form a part of this award. These issues are accordingly answered.

ORDER

No. 3219-I.R./D/11L-69/56.—22nd August 1957.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4568Dis./D/11L-69/56, dated the 24th October 1956, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Anderson Wright Ltd., 7 Wellesley Place, Calcutta and their workmen represented by Anderson Wright & Co. Employees' Association, 7 Wellesley Place, Calcutta-1, regarding the matters specified in the schedule thereto was referred for adjudication to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Fifth Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Anderson Wright Ltd., 7 Wellesley Place, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Anderson Wright & Co. Employees' Association, 7 Wellesley Place, Calcutta-1. (VIII -318/56.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI G. PALIT, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri M. Ghosh, Labour Adviser of the Indian Engineering Association and Shri R. Goswami, Junior Legal Adviser of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce.

By Government order No. 4568Dis./D/11L-69/56, dated the 24th October 1956, the aforesaid dispute has been referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal, presided over by me, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947). The said Fifth Industrial Tribunal was constituted under section 7 of the Act by the notification No. 3581Lab., dated the 9th June 1951.

2. The reference was received here on 27th October 1956. The Union filed written statement on 15th November 1956. The Company filed written objection on 15th December 1956. After several adjournments the case was taken up for hearing on 29th July 1957, and the evidence was concluded on that date. The argument was heard on 30th July 1957. The award was reserved.

3. The only issue contained in the schedule to the order of reference stands as follows:—

Whether those members of the subordinate staff, employed by Messrs. Anderson Wright Ltd., who were granted an increment of Rs. 10 per month with a corresponding decrease in their dearness allowance according to the Mercantile Tribunal Award, published under Labour Department order No. 2253Lab., dated the 7th May 1949, in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated the 12th May 1949, are entitled to restoration of the above deduction in dearness allowance in view of the principles laid down in the award in respect of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. and their employees published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 2nd June 1955, and the award in respect of Messrs. Duncan Bros. Ltd. and their employees published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated the 26th January 1956. If so, from what date?

AWARD

4. The issue as framed is rather verbose. Not only that. To ask the Tribunal to decide a particular dispute according to the principles adopted in some other Tribunal adjudications is, perhaps, more than what is proper. When a dispute is referred to a Tribunal, the Tribunal is free to decide it in the manner it thinks best. Awards being judgments, cannot be made to orders. I am inclined to think that it will be ultra vires of the Government to ask the Tribunal to adjudicate a particular dispute according to certain reported decisions. The reason is obvious. The said decisions may have been based on particular sets of facts distinguishable from the facts placed before the present Tribunal for adjudication of the present dispute. Besides, such decision is not binding on a court of concurrent jurisdiction. In that case the Tribunal can very well come to a decision contrary to what it is asked to conform. A particular judgment, either of a High Court, or of the Supreme Court, is an authority for particular sets of facts involved, though such decisions are binding per se on the subordinate courts. But still, if the facts are different, the subordinate court may very well give a contrary decision avoiding the binding force of the rulings of the said judgment. This is the legal position which is accepted on all hands. So, judged in this light, the issue in the present case is anything but happy. The Tribunal has absolute freedom in the matter of giving its award, provided it is not capricious or arbitrary. So, though the Tribunal is bound to confine itself to the issue framed by the Government, as per section 10(4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, still it has its absolute and unfettered power to decide the particular dispute referred to it in the manner it thinks best. The Tribunal may accept the decisions referred to in the issue, if it is satisfied that the said decisions are correct in the present sets of facts. With these preliminary observations I proceed to decide the issue.

The Mercantile Tribunal by its award published on 12th May 1949 in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, at page 406, has given a decision which has led to the present dispute. It runs thus:

> Dearness allowance is paid according to Bengal Chamber of Commerce scheme. All belonging to the subordinate staff shall be given an increment of Rs. 10 with a corresponding decrease in the dearness allowance without altering the total emoluments. For new entrants the dearness allowance according to the Bengal Chamber of Commerce shall be reduced by Rs. 10".

This award was given effect to, and continued till August 1954. In September 1954 a notice was issued by the Company intimating its intention to link dearness allowance of the subordinate staff with the working class cost of living index. Prior to this it was linked with the middle-class cost of living index. This resulted in the reduction of dearness allowance from Rs. 61 to Rs. 58 per month, on the basis of the two sets of cost of living index as it stood at that time. A dispute arose over this switching over of dearness allowance from the basis of middle-class cost of living index to the basis of working class cost of living index. That dispute was referred to late S. K. Neogi, Tribunal, for adjudication. The said Tribunal by his award in October 1952, decided that the working class cost of living index should govern the subordinate staff. The Union grudged this reduction in the amount of dearness allowance by this change-over of basis to determine the same. So a dispute again cropped up over this matter, and that dispute was referred to Shri M. N. Gan, Tribunal, for adjudication. His award in the matter was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 2nd June 1955. Before that Tribunal the Union agitated that 30 per cent. of the total remuneration should constitute dearness allowance, and 70 per cent. of it should be merged into the basic pay. Shri Gan did not uphold this contention of the Union. He decided in the case of Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. and their employees, that the deduction of the amount which went up to make the minimum basic wage as Rs. 30 should not be done from the dearness allowance under the working class cost of living index. Shri J. N. Moitra, Tribunal, who decided the dispute between Messrs. Dunkan Bros. Ltd. and their employees, went further and decided that not only the amount of deficiency to make up the minimum basic wage of Rs. 30 per month should not be deducted from dearness allowance, but that refund should be made of such deductions from March 1954. His award was published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 26th January 1956, at page 369. So it is clear that in both these decisions of Shri Gan and Shri Moitra, they decided against this cut in dearness allowance under the working class cost of living index. So if these decisions are followed then this Tribunal must decide that the decrease in dearness allowance of a corresponding amount which was given as an increment in Messrs. Anderson Wright Ltd. should not be permitted. So, if I decide under the issue, as framed, my decision will be as above and that there ought to be restoration.

But as I have already stated, I have to scrutinise whether the facts involved in the present case differ in any way from the facts involved in the aforesaid two decisions. The learned representative of the Company in the present case has made an endeavour to distinguish the facts of the present case from those of the aforesaid two decisions by pointing out that in the case of Anderson Wright Ltd. Rs. 10 per month was given to all employees irrespective of whether their wages were below Rs. 30 or above it. Arguing further, he contended that those employees who at that time were having a basic salary of Rs. 30 per month or above, had also this increment of Rs. 10. So the dearness allowance should be reduced by this amount. If this is not permitted, he said, those people stand to gain double advantages. They do not disgorge the amount of Rs. 10, but at the same time enjoy the benefit of the working class cost of living index in its entirety. This is argued to be unfair to the Company. But I must say that this is really no distinction of facts. If it is a distinction, then it is a distinction in degree, and not in kind. It cannot weaken the force of the decision. But I am afraid, there is some confusion in understanding the matter in its proper perspective. Under the award of the Mercantile Tribunal when Rs. 10 was given as a flat rate increment in respect of Messrs. Anderson Wright Ltd., the said learned Tribunal must have found that not only the minimum basic wage was low here, but the basic wage of other employees and the subordinate staff was also low. So, the Tribunal granted relief in the shape of Rs. 10 general increment to all the members of the subordinate staff without discrimination. So, as a result of it, after that decision, the basic wage had a particular grade. Dearness allowance was, however, reduced by this amount. That means that dearness allowance was given less than what was warranted by the middle-class cost of living index. Now, when this standard of middle-class cost of living index was taken away from the subordinate staff, and they were made to submit to the lower standard of working class cost of living index, all that we understand is that the basis of dearness allowance was changed. So there can be no point in retaining the tag-end of deduction of Rs. 10 from the middle-class cost of living index to be tagged on to working class cost of living index. Shri M. N. Gan and Shri J. N. Maitra, Judges of the aforesaid Tribunals, found that by this change-over of the basis aforesaid the subordinate staff was subjected to reduction of Rs. 3 in the dearness allowance per month, calculated on the previous standard of living index. So it is clear that their existing benefit was curtailed. Shri M. N. Gan objected to this. The Union contends that the condition of service was thus altered prejudicially. Now, whether I take this to be a change in the condition of service or whether it merely stands for curtailment of the existing benefit, the position is clear that the subordinate staff cannot be penalised twice over. Dearness allowance under the Mercantile Tribunal's award on the middle-class cost of living index reduced by Rs. 10, was an integral whole as much as the working class cost of living index. Now, the former cannot be split up, and one portion of it, viz., Rs. 10 cannot go over to the working class cost of living index to further reduce it. If this is allowed, then the benefit which was given under the Mercantile Tribunal's award, would to a certain extent be negatived.

The learned representative of the Company contends that the Union so long did not demur or object to this cut. So after this length of time it is estopped from claiming refund of the amount already paid in the shape of this cut. But this contention does not impress me. It will appear that the Union never acquiesced in this cut after the subordinate staff was subjected to the working class cost of living. First of all, it attempted to have 70 per cent. of the dearness allowance being merged in the basic wage. When that was turned down by the Tribunal presided over by Shri Gan, it wanted to have the middle-class cost of living minus this cut. When that was also turned down by Shri J. N. Moitra, Tribunal, it raised the present dispute. Now, when we consider that the Mercantile Tribunal represented the group of those commercial firms of which this Company was a member, as also other companies, then the fact of series of disputes will show that the Union did never submit to this cut without protest. But as the payment of salary, as much as dearness allowance, rests with the employer, the Union cannot do anything more than raising protests through one company or another, who are members of this mercantile body. So I can never accept the position as contended by the Company that the Union accepted this cut without demur and, as such, is estopped from agitating it. I reject this contention of the Company.

So, considering the matter from an independent angle, apart from the said two decisions mentioned in the issue, I come to an identical finding that the dearness allowance under the working class cost of living index as is available to the subordinate staff of this Company, cannot be reduced by Rs. 10 because of the general increment given under the Mercantile Tribunal's award, to the extent of this amount.

Next, I come to the concrete relief which is available in the present circumstances. I find as above that the Company was not justified in making deduction of dearness allowance by Rs. 10. But this became untenable only when late S. K. Niyogi, Tribunal, gave his award in October 1952, subjecting the subordinate staff to the working class cost of living index. When the middle-class cost of living index governed the matter, the deduction was in order. So I award that the Company is made liable to refund Rs. 10 per month which it had imposed on dearness allowance after the working class cost of living index was introduced regarding the subordinate staff in this Company. That must be subsequent to the award of late S. K. Niyogi in October 1952. Shri J. N. Moitra in his award in the case of Messrs. Duncan Bros. Ltd. granted a refund from March 1954 though his award was published on 26th January 1956. In the present case I have not been supplied with the date when the Company subjected the subordinate staff to the working class cost of living index. But my award is that the restoration of Rs. 10 per month in dearness allowance will be effective from the date when the cut was given effect to. This amount is made payable in two equal successive monthly instalments after my award becomes operative.

ORDER SHEET

In the Court of the District Judge, Election Tribunal, at Burdwan.

PRESENT:

SHRI SITAL PROSAD CHATTERJI, M.A., LL.B.,
District Judge, Election Tribunal.

Election Petition No. 408 of 1957

[Regarding election of Galsi Constituency of the Legislative Assembly, district Burdwan (West Bengal).]

(1) Shri Mahitosh Saha ... Petitioner,

versus

(1) Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar (Scheduled Caste),
(2) Shri Fakir Chandra Roy (General),
(3) Shri Mohammad Hossain (General),
(4) Shri Phani Bhusan Roy (General), and
(5) Shri Abdul Mannan (General) ... Respondents.

Order No. 22, dated 31-8-57

This is an application under section 109 of the Representation of the People Act, 1951 (as amended up to date), dated 12th August 1957, by Shri Mahitosh Saha, petitioner, for leave of this Tribunal to withdraw his Election Petition. This application for withdrawal was duly published in the Official Gazette, viz., the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated 21st August 1957, as required under sub-section (2) of section 109 of the Act giving notice thereof to all concerned and fixing the 29th August 1957 for hearing. The petition for withdrawal was thereafter put up for hearing in presence of the parties on the date fixed, i.e., on 29th August 1957. Shri Mahitosh Saha has deposed on oath that he now prefers to withdraw his Election Petition on grounds of ill-health and on medical advice due to an attack of high blood-pressure and coronary insufficiency (vide medical certificate filed in support of his petition). He has further deposed that in view of his ill-health he requires absolute rest—physical and mental—for at least two months next and as such it is not possible for him to continue his Election Petition and to bear the strain and anxieties thereof. Shri Mahitosh Saha, in answer to this Tribunal, further conceded that he was not only withdrawing from the Election Petition but also was withdrawing the allegations made in the Election Petition regarding false personations of dead and absent voters by the respondent No. 1, the successful candidate, and that he had made those allegations under bona fide belief and that he had no materials at this stage to prove them. Shri Mahitosh Saha has further deposed that he has not entered into any contract or bargaining with the respondent No. (1), whose election has been challenged, for withdrawing this Election Petition. He denied to have received or to have been promised any sum in consideration of his present withdrawal.

The respondent No. (1), Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar, the successful candidate from the Galsi Assembly Constituency for the Reserved seat, does not oppose this application for withdrawal but presses for costs to the score of Rs. 1,000. Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar has taken his oath to depose before this Tribunal on the preliminary point whether leave would be granted to the petitioner for withdrawal of his petition on the ground of ill-health as stated above. He denied to have caused the casting of votes for dead persons or for absent voters. He further deposed that he has not induced Shri Mahitosh Saha to file this petition for withdrawal to his benefit nor has he bargained with him in making him to withdraw his Election Petition. He has further deposed that if this Election Petition is allowed to be withdrawn by this Tribunal and if no other person appears and is permitted to continue this Election Petition then he would also withdraw his Recrimination Petition making counter-allegations against Shri Mahitosh Saha, viz., of Shri Mahitosh Saha having caused votes for dead persons and for absent persons being cast by false personation.

Having perused the Election Petition of Shri Mahitosh Saha I find that the only material grounds taken for declaring the election of respondent No. (1), Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar, were that (a) some electors died long before the date of poll and respondents Nos. (1) and (2) managed to get the votes of those dead persons recorded in their favour resorting to corrupt practices (vide particulars given in Schedule A), (b) that false personation was resorted to with the help of and connivance of respondents Nos. (1) and (2) and votes of absent electors were recorded (vide particulars stated in Schedule B) and that the reception of void votes in favour of Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar materially affected the petitioner adversely in this election. It may be noted here that the result of the election was that the petitioner Shri Mahitosh Saha lost to respondent No. (1) Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar in the Reserved seat of the Galsi Assembly Constituency by only one vote.

"Personation is no longer a corrupt practice but votes cast by personation are void votes and will avoid the election if they have materially affected the result of the election. A person is said to vote by personation when he votes in the name of another person, whether living or dead, or in a fictitious name, or in his own name when by reason of the fact that he has already voted in the same or some other constituency, he is not entitled to vote."

Sub-section (2) of section 110 provides the grounds for refusal of an application for withdrawal where such application appears to the Tribunal to have been induced by any bargain or consideration which ought not to be allowed. Similar considerations have to be made when refusing leave to withdraw under section 109, sub-section (1). At this preliminary stage when considering whether leave should be granted and whether the application for withdrawal should be granted or refused on the ground of ill-health of the petitioner and in the absence of any materials to suggest any bargaining or consideration which ought not to be allowed, and after giving my very careful consideration on the implication of such withdrawal, I see no reason to refuse the leave to proceed with this petition for withdrawal, or to refuse this application for withdrawal of the Election Petition.

Shri Mahitosh Saha is a respectable retired Executive Engineer and considering his old age there can be no doubt, in the absence of any denial to the contrary, that he is really suffering from high blood pressure and coronary insufficiency which has induced him bona fide to withdraw his Election Petition on medical advice to avoid the necessary strain—both mental and physical—resulting from prosecuting this Election Petition further. (Refer Burdwan Division, South, 2 H.I.E.P., 82; L.D.E.C., 287). I am satisfied that this withdrawal petition has not been induced by any bargain or consideration and as such this petition must be allowed subject to payment of costs to contesting respondents Nos. (1), (2) and (4). No cost is allowed to the other respondents (3) and (5), who have not appeared.

Respondent No. (1), Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar, has deposed that he has incurred costs to the extent of Rs. 1,000 in drawing up his petition in Recrimination and in contesting the Election Petition. He has not, however, filed any accounts or receipts to show the actual costs incurred by him. Considering the fact that the success of Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar was by a solitary vote in excess to the votes secured by the petitioner, there can be no doubt that there were reasonable grounds for filing this Election Petition. However, considerinig all these circumstances and in view of the fact that the petitioner Shri Mahitosh Saha has sought for withdrawal of his Election Petition at the very early stage before any evidence has been taken, I think the ends of justice will be met by allowing twenty gold mohurs as costs payable by Shri Mahitosh Saha to respondent No. (1), Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar.

Respondent No. (4) Shri Phani Bhusan Roy, one of the unsuccessful candidates from the General seat of the Galsi Assembly Constituency, filed no answer to the Election Petition of Shri Mahitosh Saha as admittedly he was not interested in this contest of the election in respect of the Reserved seat from the said Constituency. He appeared in person and pressed for costs on the ground that he has been unnecessarily dragged in this proceeding. Under section 82(a) of the Representation of the People Act, 1951 (as amended up to date), all the contesting candidates other than the petitioner are necessary parties where the petitioner in addition to claming a declaration that the election of all or any of the returned candidates as void, claims a further declaration that he himself or any other candidate has been duly elected, as here. Therefore, it cannot be said that he is an unnecessary party and has been dragged for harassment. However, under section 110, sub-section (3), respondent No. (4) is also entitled to some nominal costs. He is thus allowed one gold mohur as costs, to be paid by the petitioner Shri Mahitosh Saha. Respondent No. (2) was impleaded as having colluded with respondent No. (1) in the said election campaign. Respondent No. (2) has been elected to the General seat from this Constituency. Shri Mahitosh Saha shall pay two gold mohurs as costs to respondent No. (2).

Ordered

Let leave to proceed with the petition for withdrawal of the Election Petition be granted under section 109, sub-section (1). The petitioner Shri Mahitosh Saha is further permitted to withdraw his Election Petition under section 110, subject to the payment of costs to the respondents Nos. (1), (2) and (4)—twenty gold mohurs [Rs. 340 (including pleader's fee)] to respondent No. (1) Shri Pramatha Nath Dhibar, two gold mohurs (Rs. 34) to respondent No. (2) Shri Fakir Chandra Roy and one gold mohur (Rs. 17) to respondent No. (4) Shri Phani Bhusan Roy. Notice of the withdrawal be forthwith published in the Official Gazette, under section 110(3)(b). Any person who might have been a petitioner may, within fourteen days of such publication, apply to be substituted as petitioner in place of the party withdrawing and upon compliance with the conditions of section 117 as to security for costs, shall be entitled to be substituted and to continue with the proceedings upon such trems as the Tribunal may think fit under clause (c) of sub-section (3) of section 110. Put up on 20th September 1957, after publication of the notice under section 110, sub-section (3), clause (b), for fixing a date for final orders.

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI M. C. BANERJI, District Judge (Retd.), Judge, First Industrial Tribunal.

The Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, by order No. 4197Dis./D/7L-39/56, dated 19/20th September 1956, referred under sections 7 and 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the industrial dispute between the seven Jute Mills, viz., (1) Eastern Manufacturing Co., Ltd., Titaghur, 24-Parganas, (2) Agarpara Jute Mills, Kamarhatty, 24-Parganas, (3) Birla Jute Mills, Birlapur, 24-Parganas, (4) Sree Hanuman Jute Mills, Ghusury, Howrah, (5) Bengal Jute Mills, Co., Ltd., Shibpur, Howrah, (6) Hukumchand Jute Mills, P.O. Schedule

What should be the rates of wages and dearness allowance for the workers of the Listing Department (Ribbon Loom workers)?

Notices were issued on all parties. All the parties appeared and filed written statements setting forth their respective cases. The Indian Jute Mills Association appeared for six Jute Mills, viz., (1) Eastern Manufacturing Co., Ltd., (2) Agarpara Jute Mills, (3) Birla Jute Mills, (4) Sree Hanuman Jute Mills, (5) Bengal Jute Mills Co., Ltd., and (6) Hukumchand Jute Mills and filed one written statement. The Bharat Jute Mills Ltd. filed a separate written statement.

The appearances for the parties were as follows:—

For the Bengal Chatkal Mazdoor Union: Shri Indrajit Gupta.

For the National Union of Jute Workers: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate, assisted by Shri Amaresh Banerji.

For the Indian Jute Mills Association representing six Jute Mills: Shri R. M. Sen Gupta, Labour Adviser, Shri R. L. Moitra, Deputy Labour Adviser and Sm. P. Mitra, Labour Officer.

For the Bharat Jute Mills: Shri P. R. Mukherji, Advocate.

The issue that was framed for the decision of this case was the same as that mentioned in the order of reference and is as follows:—

Issue

What should be the rates of wages and dearness allowance for the workers of the Listing Department (Ribbon Loom workers)?

AWARD

Decisions

Issue No. 1: The two Unions in their written statements put forward the same grievances. Their claims as set up in their written statements will be detailed below.

The Ribbon Looms are narrow looms installed in a separate department called the Listing Department for the manufacture of what is called webbing or ribbons from jute fibres. Till about 1952, the Eastern Manufacturing Co. was a factory doing webbing only. Since 1952, it has also installed broad looms of a standard Jute Mill for the manufacture of hessian and sacking. The other mills involved in this reference are standard Jute Mills primarily engaged in producing hessian and sacking with a Listing Department for manufacture of webbing.

There have been three awards by three Major Tribunals on the wage structure of the workers in the Jute Textile Industry in West Bengal. There are more than 100 Jute Mills in West Bengal. The First, Scond and the Third Major Jute Textile Tribunal Awards made respectively in 1948, 1951 and 1955, formulated the wage structure of all categories of workmen in the Jute Textile Industry. The wages of the workers in the Listing Department which existed in some of the Jute Mills, being those mentioned in the present order of reference, were not the subject-matter of any of the three Major Tribunal Awards mentioned above.

The Government of West Bengal, by order of reference, dated 17th November 1948, referred the industrial dispute between the Eastern Manufacturing Co., Ltd. and their workmen to Shri S. N. Modak, I.C.S. (Retd.), as the Tribunal for adjudication. The award of this Tribunal was published by Government of West Bengal, notification, dated 16th March 1949. At this date, this Company was mainly manufacturing webbing cloth. The learned Tribunal in the award mentioned above fixed the wage structure of all categories of manual workers in the decision of Issue No. 2. There were other questions raised in the proceeding and there were 22 issues in all. The learned Tribunal adopted the level decided upon by the First Jute Textile Tribunal and observed that the decisions in the award should be more or less on a par with the decisions and directions of the Jute Textile Tribunal's award as far as practicable. The learned Tribunal also observed that it was of the utmost importance that the level of decisions and directions in the award which he was going to make should be more or less on a par with those involved in the Jute Textile Tribunal's award as far as practicable, as workers of mills of similar character should be treated for practical purposes in the same way. The case of the Unions in their written statements is as follows:—

Shri Modak fixed the wages for different categories of piece-rated and time-rated workers more or less in line with the wages fixed for the corresponding categories of the workers in a standard Jute Mill by the First Jute Textile Tribunal Award in 1948. But in most cases the wages fixed were slightly less than the corresponding wages fixed for the Jute Mill operative. The dearness allowance was fixed at the rate formulated for the Jute Mill operatives by the First Major Jute Award. The wages of the weaver fixed on the basis of two looms for a weaver. The Second Major Jute Textile Tribunal increased the dearness allowance of the Jute Mill worker by Rs. 4-14 and all the mills concerned with a Listing Department granted a similar increase of dearness allowance to the workers of that department. The award of the Third Major Jute Textile Tribunal in 1955, which was upheld by the Hon'ble Labour Appellate Tribunal of India, allowed a nett increase of Rs. 3-12-9 in the total emoluments of every Jute Mill worker. This increase was not given to the Listing Department workers by the mills. It is stated that the Management of the various Jute Mills concerned with the Listing Department maintained different weaving work-loads and in one mill 4 looms per weaver was the rule. In the result, the Listing Department workers in the various mills began to agitate for uniformity of wages and conditions of service amongst the Listing Department workers in the several mills as also for similar wages, dearness allowance and conditions of service as are applicable to the corresponding categories of workers in the standard Jute Mill. An industrial dispute was raised and conciliation proceedings were started for the settlement of this dispute. As conciliation failed, this reference was made. The Unions pray for the following remedies:—

(1) The overall nett increase in emoluments of Rs. 3-12-9 per month awarded by the Third Omnibus Jute Tribunal should be granted to the workmen of the Listing Department of the Eastern Manufacturing Co. with retrospective effect from 1st November 1955.

(2) The resulting wage rates of the Eastern Manufacturing Co. should be accepted as the uniform standard, to which the wages in the remaining six specified mills should be made to conform with immediate effect.

(3) The said standardised wage rate structure should be made applicable on the basis of standardised work-load of two ribbon looms per weaver as was prevalent at the time of Shri Modak's award.

(4) For every additional ribbon loom operated by a weaver above two looms, subject to a maximum of 4 looms, he should be paid the full earnings of the production of each additional loom.

(5) Sardars' and weavers' piece-rates for ribbon looms should be calculated on the basis of 100 yards unit of each variety of fabric and the winders' rates on the basis of 100 lbs. of yarn or twist.

The Indian Jute Mills Association in its written statement states as follows:—

The Eastern Manufacturing Co. was not a party before the First Jute Tribunal and the First Jute Award, which was published in 1948, was not binding in this Company. There was a separate Tribunal for the Eastern Manufacturing Co. and this Tribunal accepted the award of the First Jute Tribunal as the standard and made an award accordingly in 1949. Some rates fixed by the Company, as observed by that award, were definitely higher and for this reason, there was a slight variation in some rates between the First Tribunal Award and the award by Shri S. N. Modak on the Eastern Manufacturing Co. The award of Shri Modak was not binding on other Jute Mills engaged in the manufacture of Listing as one of the items of their production. These Jute Mills implemented the successive Jute Awards in the matter of wage fixation of all the categories of workmen including those of the Listing Section. Excepting the workmen of the Winding, Beaming, Weaving, Ribbon Reeling (Cloth Rolling) Departments of the Listing Sections, all other workmen engaged in the manufacture of Listing in the Jute Mills are common and correspond with the workmen engaged in the manufacture of hessian and sacking goods in Jute Mills. The Agarpara Jute Mills followed the wage rates of the Modak award for these workmen. Since the publication of the Modak award in 1949, the Eastern Manufacturing Co. has developed itself into a Jute Mill producing hessian and sacking goods as well and this Company was a party before the Third Jute Textile Tribunal. All the Jute Mills who were parties in the present reference have implemented the directions of the Third Jute Award in respect of the standardisation of wage rates. The Eastern Manufacturing Co. and Agarpara Mills made necessary adjustments in the basic wages and dearness allowance in respect of workmen doing common jobs after the publication of the award of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal. No change was made by these two mills in the basic wage or dearness allowance of workmen solely engaged in Listing and these rates continued to be more favourable to the workers. Listing operation is not also covered by the Third Jute Award. In the mills who also manufacture Listing, the operation of 3 listing looms by one weaver has been a common feature since before 1949 and in some mills one weaver started to look after 4 looms or more. The work-load involved in operating one listing loom is very much lower than operation of one hessian loom. In a normal listing loom operation there are at most only 45 warp threads whereas in a normal hessian loom operation there are more than 400 warp threads. Furthermore, in the listing loom, breakages of warp threads are very infrequent, in view of the fact that these threads are double ply or more. Considering these facts, operation of at least 4 listing looms per weaver cannot be said to involve heavier work-load than the operation of a single hessian loom. Operation of at least 4 listing looms per weaver should, therefore, be laid down as a standard work-load, and the wages should be standardised accordingly. The wages for Winding, Beaming, Reeling and Packing should be standardised so that they may not be out of proportion with the wages of workers of similar designations in Jute Mills. The demands made by the Unions are divorced from the realities of the situation and if the demands are accepted, financial burden of the Industry would be increased considerably and there is the danger that the market for the manufactured products will be adversely affected. The demands of the Union should be rejected so that the future of Listing production is not jeopardised.

The written statement of the Bharat Jute Mills also shows that they have adjusted the wages of the Winding, Beaming, Weaving and Ribbon Reeling workers of the Listing Section of the mill. It is stated that the work-load should not be reduced as the market will be seriously affected. The Company further states that working of 3 listing looms by one Winder is a common feature in the Industry and one Weaver can very easily operate 4 looms. This Mill also prays that the demands of the Union shall be rejected.

The award of Shri Modak on the Eastern Manufacturing Co. was published in March 1949. The Eastern Manufacturing Co. was then only a webbing mill with no standard Jute Mill operation of the manufacture of hessian and sacking goods. This mill has, however, since developed into a standard Jute Mill for manufacture of hessian and sacking goods since 1952 and 1953. The First Jute Award was made in September 1948, which standardised nomenclature and wage structure for all categories of workmen in a standard Jute Mill. Shri Modak in making the award for the Eastern Manufacturing Co. followed the First Jute Award and attempted to formulate a similar wage level as were awarded for corresponding workers in a standard Jute Mill by the First Award. This fact will appear from the learned Tribunal's observations at pages 250, 262 and 264 of the award (vide West Bengal Government publication of awards for the quarter ending March 1949). The Eastern Manufacturing Co. is one of the seven Jute Mills who manufacture....................and the award of Eastern Manufacturing Co. by Shri Modak was not binding on the other six mills in respect of the wage structure of the Ribbon Loom workers. It appears that the Agarpara Jute Mills adopted the wage structure of the Ribbon Loom workers as formulated for the Eastern Manufacturing Co. by Shri Modak. The other 4 mills adjusted the wage rates of the Ribbon Loom workers in the light of the Omnibus Jute Awards. The Second Jute Tribunal allowed an increase of Rs. 4-14 per month in the dearness allowance of all Jute Mill workers and the seven Jute Mills before the Tribunal also increased the dearness allowance of the Ribbon Loom workers accordingly. The Third Jute Award allowed a nett increase of Rs. 3-12-9 in the emoluments of the Jute Mill workers. The Eastern Manufacturing Co. and the Agarpara Jute Mills did not implement the Third Award in respect of the increase in emoluments as allowed by the Third Jute Award on the ground that the wage rates of the workers in the Ribbon Loom Departments were already higher than the levels of the wage rates formulated by the Third Jute Award for corresponding workers in the Jute Mills. The Third Jute Award reduced the dearness allowance to Rs. 32-8 and increased the basic wages by Rs. 8.67, resulting in a nett increase of Rs. 3-12 per month.

The Tribunal called for a statement from the Jute Mills concerned in this proceeding showing the prevailing rates of wages as well as the monthly earnings of the workers in the Winding, Beaming, Weaving, and Ribbon Reeling Departments of the mills. These statements for (1) Eastern Manufacturing Co., (2) Agarpara Jute Mills, (3) Birla Jute Mills, (4) Sree Hanuman Jute Mills, and (5) Bengal Jute Mills were filed by the I.J.M.A. and are Ext. A. The statement for Bharat Jute Mills is Ext. A(1). No statement was filed for Hukumchand Jute Mills on the ground that this mill did not deal in webbing for some time past. These statements, Exts. A and A(1), relate to the average earnings of the Ribbon Loom workers in the mills in January, February and March 1957, as well as in the months of August, September and October 1955.

(A) We shall consider the basic wage of the Ribbon Loom weaver first. The statements filed by the companies show the following average earnings for the weavers:—

Mill.	Average monthly earnings (basic) for selected period in 1955.	Average monthly earnings (basic) for selected period in 1957.	Yards per cut.	D.A.	Loom per Weaver.
	Rs.	Rs.		Rs. a.
(1) Eastern Mfg. Co.	48.43	49.28	100	37 6	3
(2) Agarpara	36.13.6	33.9.5	100	37 6	2
(3) Bengal	41.38	36.14	144	32 8	4
(4) Hanuman	51.5.11	50.3.11	144	32 8	3
(5) Birla	Not available	59.7.6	144	32 8	3

On a scrutiny of the piece-rates paid by the different mills, it appears that the rates of wages as paid in the Eastern Manufacturing Co. and the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co. are the highest. It appears to me that 3 Ribbon Looms is a reasonable complement for a weaver. The wage of the Ribbon Loom weaver will be fixed on the basis of 3 looms per weaver. The piece-rates will be modified on the scheme of the Third Jute Textile Tribunal. According to that award, the piece-rate wage of the hessian weight is based on the standard of Rs. 53.09 per month. The wage of all categories of workmen in the Industry was increased to the extent of Rs 3-12-9 per month. The scheme was to reduce the dearness allowance from Rs. 37-6 to Rs. 32-8 and to increase the existing basic wage by Rs. 8.67. This scheme gives the hessian weaver in a standard Jute Mill the basic wage of Rs. 53.09 per month and the piece-rates of the hessian weaver were constructed on such a basis. The Ribbon Loom workers working on 3 looms will be allowed a wage of this order. The full wages for production of 2 Ribbon Looms and 50 per cent. wages for the production of the third loom is taken as the basis of the wage for 3 looms. This means that 83 per cent. of the wages for the production of the 3 looms is taken together are paid for. To the Eastern Manufacturing Co. rates are added Rs. 8.67. The wages are then converted from 100 yards to 144 yards. This wage is then converted to 83 per cent. This is the new wage which will be paid to the weaver of the Ribbon Loom and working on 3 looms. Working a fourth loom is also possible. If a weaver takes a fourth loom, he will get 50 per cent. of the standard rate on the production of the fourth loom.

The piece-rates for the weaver thus constructed appear in Appendix A to this Award. With this wage, a weaver shall get a dearness allowance of Rs. 32-8 per month. Appendix A shall form a part of this award.

In the Birla Jute Manufacturing Co. a helper is allowed for every 42 Ribbon Looms and this increases the efficiency of the weaver to some extent and results in increased earnings. It is awarded that a weaver when working on 3 looms, should have a helper for every 42 looms. The helper shall get the average wage of the weaver.

In the Eastern Manufacturing Co. the existing rates and dearness allowance will apply to the existing workers. For budli and new entrants, the new rates will apply. The new rates will apply to the workers of the other companies. In Agarpara Jute Mills, if the workers do not want to work on 3 looms, they will get the existing rates and not the new rates. The Company will be free to introduce 3 loom operation and the new rules will come into operation after this operation is introduced. If a loom is stopped for more than 3 hours in the day, the weaver shall get the time-rate wage for that loom calculated on the basis of his earnings in the previous week.

(B) For the Ribbon Reeler the time-rate of Rs. 40.09 per month being the wage fixed for the Reeler in a standard Jute Mill by the Third Jute Textile Award is prescribed. The dearness allowance will be Rs. 32-8 per month.

If in any Company the Reeler gets a higher wage he shall continue to get that rate. The new rate shall be applicable to budlis and new entrants and for those workers whose wages are not higher than the rate prescribed.

(C) Warp winding rates: The basis should be Third Omnibus Jute Award rate for hessian warp winders, i.e., 5.29 annas per 100 lbs. of 8 lbs. yarn standard.

All Ribbon Loom warp winding rates should be in inverse proportion to the grist of the twine (including the ply), e.g., 2 ply/7½ lbs. should be taken as equivalent of 15 lbs. and the rate should be $5.29 \times 8/15 = 2.82$ annas per 100 lbs.

(D) Dyed yarn winder's rate should be on the basis as the Third Omnibus Jute Award, i.e., 4.53 annas for 20 lbs. Dyed yarn, all Ribbon Loom dyed yarn winding rates to be in inverse proportion to the grist of the dyed yarn (including the ply) concerned.

(E) Cop winding rate: Third Jute Award rate for over 12 lbs. hessian weft yarn = 6.87 annas/100 lbs. The basis is suggested as follows:—

6.87 annas for 15 lbs., i.e., 2 ply/7½ lbs.

∴ 6.87 × 15/20 = 5.15 annas for 2 ply/10 lbs.

All other qualities including dyed yarn, to be in inverse proportion to the grist of the twine (including the ply) used.

(F) Beaming rate (time): Add Rs. 4.875 to basic rate in Modak award. Deduct Rs. 4.875 from dearness allowance in the case of Eastern Manufacturing Co. and Agarpara.

(G) Packing rate: Same rate as that of a departmental coolie in Jute Award, i.e., Rs. 35.75 per month.

(H) Cloth examining rate: This should be increased to the same level for Cloth Examiners in the Third Jute Award, i.e., Rs. 39.00.

(I) Dyer: This should be the same as in the Third Jute Award, i.e., Rs. 39.00.

In the case of other workers in the Ribbon Loom Departments the wages should be according to the wages of similar workers in a standard Jute Mill as prescribed in the Third Jute Award. Those workers whose wages are fixed by this award shall get such wages as fixed herein along with the dearness allowance of Rs. 32-8. Any worker in the Ribbon Loom Departments covered by this award who are getting more emoluments than what is fixed in this award, shall continue to get the existing wages rather than the wage prescribed in this award. The prescribed wage shall apply to budlis and new entrants and to those who are getting less emoluments than what is prescribed for the various categories. This issue is accordingly answered.

Judge First Industrial Tribunal.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Modern Art Press, 6 Bentinck Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by Press Workers' Union, 19-M Panchanantola Lane, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII—142 of 1956.)

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

SHRI SAILESH SENGUPTA, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Union: Shri Panchanan Bhattacherjee, Vice-President of the Union.

For the Company: None.

By order No. 3993Dis./D/13L-28/56, dated Calcutta, the 7th September 1956, Government made this reference for adjudication of a dispute between Messrs. Modern Art Press and their workmen in regard to the question of dismissal of ten employees.

The point for adjudication as per schedule is as follows:—

Whether the dimissal of the following persons was justified? What relief are they entitled to?—

(i) Mr. G. Albin.

(ii) Shri Gouri Sankar Dey.

(iii) Shri Biren Ghosh.

(iv) Shri Banamali Misra.

(v) Shri Brojen Bose.

(vi) Shri Baidyanath Chakraborty.

(vii) Shri Deben Ghose.

(viii) Shri Subhas Ch. Bose.

(ix) Shri Krishna Kr. Debnath.

(x) Shri Moni Mukherjee.

The case presented on behalf of the 10 employees is that their services were terminated on the 9th of July 1955, on the false plea that they were negligent in discharging their duty, and were not exerting themselves to their utmost to provide normal production. As a matter of that they were not receiving their wages for months together. A case was started before the Authority under the Payment of Wages Act on complaint made by the workers. Certain grievances were placed before the Management by a signed petition. The grievances were not redressed. On the other hand, the Management was highly incensed at the conduct of the workers in starting an agitation for amelioration of their conditions. For these reasons these employees were thrown out of employment all on a sudden. They are entitled to reinstatement and wages for the entire period.

The Company filed written statement alleging that these workers were responsible for disturbing the peaceful atmosphere of the establishment. They had deliberately resorted to tricks to avoid giving normal production. No improvement was noticed even after warnings had been issued. As the financial condition of the Company deteriorated and these workers could not be controlled there was no other alternative but to dispense with their services.

Another point was raised that no dispute was subsisting at the date of termination of their services. They were not therefore workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act.

Shri N. M. Das Gupta who had been representing the Company intimated on 11th April 1957 that the Modern Art Press had gone into liquidation. The spokesman of the workers categorically denied the truth of the statement. He was still given time to make enquiries and take steps if the information given by the learned Advocate was correct. Another date was fixed. On that date none appeared for the Company and the Union led evidence that the Press had not gone into liquidation. It was conducting its normal business as before. In view of the sworn testimony denying the allegation that the concern had gone into liquidation, hearing of the case was taken up. As none represented the Company the hearing was ex parte.

The view was taken in some cases that the term "workman" cannot be applied to a former employee who has been discharged or dismissed otherwise than during an industrial dispute. This view has not been upheld by later decisions. Reference may be made to a decision of the Bombay High Court reported in 1956 1, L.L.J., page 492 and a decision of the Supreme Court reported in 1957 1, L.L.J., page 27.

By the evidence adduced by P.W. 1 the fact has been established that the services of these 10 employees were suddenly terminated without any reasonable ground. The witness denied that they were negligent in in performance of their duty or had avoided giving normal production. No warning had ever been administered to them. On the other hand, Ext. 1(a) shows that the workers had grievances which they wanted to be removed. This application apparently caused irritation and action was shortly taken by way of retaliation. There was no charge-sheet or enquiry in regard to the allegations made against the workers in the written statement. The Tribunal must accordingly hold that their dismissal was unwarranted. The dismissed workers are entitled to reinstatement and wages. They must be reinstated and paid their wages for the period of unemployment within 15 days from the date of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

Public Health

NOTIFICATION

No. P.H./4447/2R-45/57.—11th September 1957.—Whereas the Governor is satisfied that the Municipalities of Kalimpong, Darjeeling, Siliguri and Kurseong are threatened with an outbreak of Influenza, being a dangerous epidemic disease;

And whereas the Governor is satisfied that the ordinary provisions of law, for the time being in force in the said Municipalities, are insufficient for the purpose of preventing the outbreak and spread of the said disease;

Now, therefore, in exercise of the power conferred by section 2 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, 1897 (III of 1897), the Governor is pleased to prescribe for a period of three months the following temporary regulations to be observed by the public and by all persons affected thereby for preventing the outbreak and spread of the said disease in the said Municipalities.

Regulations

1. (1) These Regulations shall apply to the Municipalities of Kalimpong, Darjeeling, Siliguri and Kurseong.

(2) They shall come into force at once.

2. In these regulations unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context—

Notices

3. If in any case the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector considers that the issue of a notice under any of these regulations is likely to lead to such an amount of delay as might facilitate the outbreak or spread of Influenza, he may forthwith take such steps as he may think fit for carrying out the work, and shall thereafter, as soon as possible, issue a notice on the person concerned stating the reason why such work has been carried out.

4. If any measure which the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector has by a notice issued under any of these regulations, required to be carried out, be not carried out to his satisfaction within the time stated in the notice, the Health Officer, or the Sanitary Inspector shall be entitled to carry out the measure.

Costs and compensation

5. (1) All expenses incurred in carrying out any work in pursuance of an order issued under these regulations shall be paid by the Commissioners except in any case where the order directs a person to carry out any work in relation to property in his possession, in which case the expenses shall be paid by such person:

Provided that where the conditions, which led the Health Officer, or the Sanitary Inspector to pass such an order are not attributable to any act or default of the person in possession of the property, the Commissioners may pay to such person the whole or a part of the expenses incurred by him in carrying out the order.

(2) The Commissioners may recover all expenses incurred by the Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector in carrying out the measure under regulation 3 from the person or persons to whom the notice was originally issued.

6. The Commissioners shall pay adequate compensation to any person who has sustained substantial loss or damage by reason of anything done under these regulations:

Provided that no person shall receive any compensation for anything done or suffered under these regulations if he has failed to carry out an order issued under these regulations within the time specified in the order and to the satisfaction of the Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector.

8. All information about the occurence of the disease coming to the notice of a medical practitioner shall be intimated by special messenger to the Health Officer or Sanitary Inspector by the said medical practitioner. The cost of such messenger in each case shall be defrayed by the Commissioners.

9. In case of any patient brought to any hospital or dispensary for treatment, information shall be given to the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector by the hospital or dispensary authorities.

10. The Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector may examine any person who is, or is suspected to be suffering from Influenza or who, in his opinion, may be infected with or likely to spread Influenza.

Isolation of patients

11. When the Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector considers that satisfactory isolation of any patient is not possible in his own house, he shall direct or cause such person to be removed to a hospital:

Provided that he shall not direct the patient to be removed from the house unless it is, in his opinion, impossible to make proper arrangements for his isolation therein.

12. The Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector may order that any person who has been in contact with a person found to be suffering from Influenza, shall be segregated for a period not exceeding five days in a manner and in a place to be approved by the Health Officer, or a Sanitary Inspector.

15. When a patient has been removed from a house for isolation under regulation 11, the Commissioners shall provide for him free of charge at suitable place, with necessary attendants, diet, etc.

16. No person, who is or has been suffering from Influenza, shall leave the place where he has been staying until he has received from the Health Officer or a Sanitary Inspector written permission to do so.

17. No patient while suffering from evident symptoms of Influenza shall expose himself in any street, road, public place, shop, bazar, school, cinema or any place used in common by persons other than members of the family or household to which such patient belongs or shall move from place to place unless he is proceeding to a hospital for admission and treatment.

Note.—The receipt side of the account should show ordinary revenue separately from extraordinary receipts. Receipts from loans or deposits or the investments of sinking funds, as well as items of an abnormal character, e.g., large grants (other than ordinary) for schemes of local improvements, should be shown separately from ordinary revenue. On the expenditure side interest on debt and any payments to a sinking fund should be included in ordinary expenditure, but all expenditure from loan funds and repayment of advances or deposits as well as expenditure from large grants (other than ordinary) from schemes of local improvements should be shown separately. In column 21 a full explanation should be given of all important variation, if any, in the amount of revenue and expenditure. Further detail should be given as required on the reverse.

In addition to the details required on the reverse, clear information should be given below under the following heads :—

(a) If the ordinary surplus is insufficient to meet the charges of the proposed loan, the particular steps which the borrowing body has taken, or has agreed to take, in order to make good the deficiency.	In view of the present revision in assessment ordinary income is expected to result in surplus over the ordinary expenditure in future. As a matter of fact, there has been a surplus in the year 1955-56 as pointed out in column 20 in the reverse.
(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the local body.	The revision or the railway building assessment is deemed possible means of increase in the revenue of this municipality.
(c) A statement of all outstanding loans as well as the annual charges involved on their account.
